In accordance with a vote of the Society passed April 2, 1901, the Publication Committee discontinued the Quarterly, of which thirty-two numbers, forming volumes I to VIII of the PUBLICATIONS of the Society, had been issued, beginning with the number for April, 1893, and ending with that for January, 1901. The COLLECTIONS of the Society constitute another series of publications, numbering volumes I to IX, of which volume I appeared in 1827 and volume IX in 1897. The Society published its PROCEEDINGS from 1872 to 1892, in twenty-one annual numbers. A new series of the PROCEEDINGS, to be published annually, will contain the record of the meetings of the Society, the President's address, reports of officers and committees, lists of members and donors, and obituaries of deceased members. The first number will cover the year ending with the annual meeting in January 1902. The present volume of COLLECTIONS continues the series which began in 1827.

The Publication Committee, as soon as it was relieved of the necessity of preparing material for the periodical issued every three months, set about the collection and editing of the Harris Papers which appear in the present volume. These papers comprise every document of which the committee could learn, not heretofore printed, which throws light upon the career of William Harris, the life-long antagonist of Roger Williams, and one of the most influential of the founders of Rhode Island. The majority of these documents are printed through the courtesy of Mrs. Mary Harris Cushman, the present owner of the Harris family papers. These papers Mrs. Cushman generously deposited in the Society's building in September, 1900, with permission to publish them in full. They have been supplemented by other documents belonging to the Society, whose library contains a bound volume of manuscripts pertaining to the Harris family, besides a considerable number of original documents and transcripts found among the papers of Moses Brown, who had at one time all of the Harris papers in his possession. Other documents have been secured from the British Public Record Office in London, and from the archives of the City of Providence. Besides the notes made by Moses Brown which appear on many of the papers, the editors have had the invaluable assistance of the transcripts and notes of Mr. George T. Paine, who has made a careful study of the Harris controversies. The following letter written by J. Hammond Trumbull, the learned Connecticut historian, is a suggestive indication of the position occupied by William Harris in the history of New England:—

STATE OF CONNECTICUT.
OFFICE OF SECRETARY OF STATE,
HARTFORD, Aug. 31st, 1865.

GEO. T. PAINE, Esq.

Dear Sir:—

I am glad to learn that you have in hand so good a work as the Life and Times of William Harris, who well deserves larger notice than he has hitherto received from writers of the early history of New England. I gleaned our colonial archives, with considerable care, for traces of him, in his work for his colony and ours, and embodied the little which I found in the notes and appendices to the second and third volumes of the printed records.

Yours respectfully,

J. H. TRUMBULL.

The introductory account of the Land Controversies of William Harris is written by Irving B. Richman, of Iowa, who has placed the Society under many obligations by this successful effort to render intelligible one of the most confused episodes in New England history. The Calendar, which gives a chronological outline of every significant event in the life of Harris, with references to all the documents, wherever printed, which bear upon his career, is prepared by the librarian of the Society, Mr. Brigham, who has also supplied the notes accompanying the documents. The map of the localities mentioned in these documents has been prepared by Frank G. Bates of the Publication Committee and Thurston M. Phetteplace.

For the Publication Committee,

THE LAND CONTROVERSIES OF WILLIAM HARRIS *

By IRVING B. RICHMAN

Between the years 1660 and 1678, William Harris maintained within the jurisdiction of Rhode Island and the United Colonies actions at law against the towns of Warwick and Providence, and against John Harrud, John Towers, Edmund Calverly and their associates. These suits were based upon the claim that the corporations and individuals defendant withheld from Harris lands within the Pawtuxet purchase which belonged either to him or to his partners and co-proprietors. The litigation in question will be better understood after a glance at certain things which preceded it.

In March, 1638, the Indian Sachems Canonicus and Miantonomi conveyed to Roger Williams, in the instrument since called the Town Evidence, lands which shortly became known as the Providence and Pawtuxet purchases. On October 8th following, Williams, in response to a demand from Harris, executed a deed and joined in an agreement whereby there was conveyed to the latter, along with twelve others, an absolute property in the Pawtuxet purchase. In 1640 a committee of the citizens of Providence, of which William Harris was a member, drew up a plan of government for the settlement, in which they fixed the course of a line of division between the Providence purchase—a tract in which every full townsman as such had a proprietary interest—and the Pawtuxet purchase, the tract which had been made the exclusive property of Harris and the twelve.

*The writer wishes to acknowledge his indebtedness to Mr. S. S. Rider's monograph on the Forgeries in the Sachems' deed, and to the monograph by Mr. Geo. T. Paine in reply to Mr. Rider.

But this was not all. On May 17th, 1659, the Rhode Island General Assembly made an order "that Providence should have liberty to buy out and cleare off Indians within the bounds of Providence as expressed in the Towne Evidence, and to purchase a little more in case they wish to add, seeing they are straytened, not exceeding three thousand acres joyinge to their township." William Harris therefore (with what authority is not clear) proceeded to obtain in quick succession from the Sachems Kachanaquant, Quassaquanch [Pessicus], and Nenekelah, brothers of Miantonomi, and from the Sachems Scuttop and Quequaquennet, grandsons of Canonicus, deeds (three in all) which added to the township of Providence—including the Pawtuxet portion owned by the Harris partnership—a tract extending twenty miles westward from Fox's hill, and comprising not three thousand but more than three hundred thousand acres. The deeds, moreover, did not purport to be new conveyances. They assumed merely to be in confirmation—explanatory confirmation—of certain loose, large phrases of the Town Evidence granting to Roger Williams "the lands and meadows upon the two fresh rivers mowshausuck and wanasquatuckett," and "all that land from those rivers reaching to Pawtuxet river, as also the grass and meadows upon Pawtuxet river,"—phrases which were helped out in looseness and largeness by a postscript, bearing date 1639,* which explained that "for use of cattle" the lands, "up the stream of Pawtuckett and Pawtuxett," were to be "without limits." Why Harris in procuring his deeds chose to proceed upon the "confirmation" plan may readily be seen. First, the Sachems could more easily be persuaded to sign a paper purporting to confirm a grant already made than one purporting to make an additional grant; and second, an additional grant must under the terms of the Colony order of May 17th, 1659, inure to the benefit of the whole town, whereas a confirmation grant could be so worded as to fix at twenty miles west from Fox's hill the limits not only of the original township of Providence, but of that particular part thereof which Harris and his partners exclusively owned—the Pawtuxet purchase.

At all events the deeds were procured and, on March 26th, 1660, were accepted by the town of Providence regardless of the Colony—facts out of which grew the litigation which distracted Rhode Island till the death of William Harris in 1681.

The case which first brought up the general issue as to the limits of the tract named in the Town Evidence was the one first tried—that against the town of Warwick. This was heard at Newport, or Portsmouth, in February and March, 1659–60. It was the contention of Harris, and of the other Pawtuxet proprietors, that the Pawtuxet purchase extended on the south to the Pawtuxet river, but that the proprietors of Warwick, disregarding this, had crossed the river at a point called Toskeunke (now Pontiac) and had cut and carried away the grass from the meadows there. The reply of Warwick was, that admitting that the Pawtuxet purchase extended to the Pawtuxet river, it did not follow that the western boundary of the purchase was further west than the Pachaset river, and that, if not, Toskeunke was wholly outside the purchase and hence within the limits of Warwick, for it lay south of the north line of that town as established under the grant from Miantonomi to Samuel Gorton in 1642. Here then was the issue as to limits squarely presented. And it may be as well perhaps to state at once, that it is difficult to see how, under the language of the Town Evidence per se, and the testimony offered upon the trial in question, any other conclusion can be reached than that the western boundary of the Providence and Pawtuxet purchases was at the most no further west than about the line of Pachaset river. For the language of the Town Evidence is that the western boundary of the Providence purchase is fixed by the two points Neutaconkanut hill and Mashapaug, and it was the testimony of William Wickenden and Stukeley Westcott, upon the trial—the one, that it had been agreed between the men of Providence and Pawtuxet that the latter “were not to Runne higher” [farther west] than the men of Providence were at liberty to do; and the other, that Miantonomi, upon coming to Providence "to sett our Boundes," said "that he never understood the said Boundes to be further than Pachaset river." And it was, furthermore, the testimony of Wickenden, that "he was one that pitched the bounds [in 1640], as between Pawtuxet river and Wanasquatucket, upon equal distance, and that the line went to a rock [Hipses rock] which was as high into the country, as wee considered, as Nataconete hill."

But in spite of this, on March 13th, 1659-60, the jury returned a verdict in the Warwick case in Harris's favor, assessing his damages at two pounds, which upon a rehearing in October were increased to four pounds.

The Harrud case came next. This was an action brought by Harris for forcible entry upon, and cutting timber from, the complainant's lands at Mashantatuck at a spot within five miles of the newly determined bounds of Pawtuxet westward. The trial was held at Newport, in March, 1663-4, and resulted in a verdict for Harris in ten shillings damages. Meanwhile Harris was maintaining an active quarrel with John Towers of Hingham, Massachusetts, because of a purchase by the latter from the Indians on June 17th, 1661, of lands lying within the immediate neighborhood of the complainant's own dwelling at Blackmore pond; and with Edmund Calverly and James and John Sweet of Warwick, because on June 23d, 1662, they had purchased from the Indians a tract of four thousand acres north of the Pawtuxet and west of the Pachaset. As for the case against Harrud, Harris now had a verdict, but he could not get possession thereunder. The town sergeant, whose duty it was to serve execution, evaded that duty, knowing first that he had the sympathy of the community in so doing, and second that if he attempted to discharge his duty, he would be met by the defendant, ax or matchlock in hand. In view of this, Harris, in 1665, appealed to the visiting Royal Commissioners — Carr, Cartwright and Maverick — to be awarded possession. They promised to see to the matter, but left the Colony without doing so. Next the assistance of Colonel Richard Nichols — Royal Commissioner in association with

Carr and the others—was invoked, and he referred the complaints to the Governor and Council of Rhode Island, urging attention. The latter body in turn made reference to the General Assembly, which, in March, 1665-6, ordered that execution issue without delay. But execution, whether issued or not, was not served, and in July, 1667, Harris charged James Rogers, "General Sergeant," before the Assembly with neglect of his office. Rogers was arraigned only to be acquitted, and at the same time the Assembly revoked the act of the prior Assembly ordering execution, on the ground that when ordered all the members from Warwick, "by a providence for want of passage," were absent. But Harris, though repulsed, was by no means as yet defeated, for, in May, 1669, the General Assembly, at his instance, again ordered execution to issue against Harrud. It was issued accordingly, and placed in the hands of Rogers to be served. Rogers proceeded to Mashantatuck, and when arrived there found Harrud fortified in his dwelling, whence, presenting a gun, he called to the sergeant "commanding him in his Majesty's name to stand."

During this period of contest in forum and field with Harrud, Towers, and Calverly, the Pawtuxet leader was waging even a hotter contest with the town of Providence. It was demanded by Harris that the dividing line between the Providence and Pawtuxet purchases should now fully and finally be laid down. There was no dispute over the general course which the line ought to take. The stipulation in the agreement of 1640 (called the Combination) that the course be "on an even distance between the two fresh rivers Pawtuxet and Wanasquatucket" was concurred in by all. Indeed several attempts had already been made by Providence to have the line fully run as thus indicated. But somehow up to 1670 it got no further west than the limits of the town as determined between Miantonomi and Roger Williams in 1638. The reason for this was simple. William Harris had (by his so-called confirmation deeds) procured from the Indians what was to all intent and purposes a new grant of lands. In the eyes of Roger Williams—the Indians' friend—this was nothing short of a gigantic fraud, and he resolved that Harris should be made to suffer for his conduct. Accordingly when the latter pressed for the running of the Providence-Pawtuxet division line to the twenty-mile limit, Williams in connection with Arthur Fenner and Gregory Dexter (likewise opponents of Harris) stirred up the town to refuse to act. The result was that Harris was precluded from obtaining the setting apart to himself and partners of his and their distinct property—the Pawtuxet purchase.

Out of all this there grew a violent political storm in the Colony. Harris sought in July, 1667, to have Fenner rebuked by the General Assembly. The Assembly on the contrary sustained Fenner, and, fining his accuser fifty pounds, dismissed him from office as a Colony Assistant. Harris was now convinced that affairs with him had reached a critical stage. Through force of adverse public opinion in Providence and Warwick, affecting the conduct of public officers, he had been unable to secure possession of lands to which his title had been established in the Colony Courts. Now, through force of the same public opinion—an opinion which the General Assembly had refused to thwart in its action—he was deprived of all prospect of extending the Pawtuxet line westward to the newly determined bounds of Providence township. The case was desperate and Harris resolved upon an appeal to the King.

It was not until 1675, however, that the Pawtuxet leader could obtain the ear of the English authorities. In that year, through the mediation of Fleetwood Shepard of Privy Garden, he was enabled to submit to the Privy Council a petition that “your Majesty would graciously please to command the Governors of the four Colonies and their deputies in New England to take care that speedy justice be done your petitioner and partners by hearinge the cause themselves or apointinge such as are just and able men to hear the same, and together with an upright jury equally chosen out of the respective Collonyes to determine all differences concerninge these lands of Patuxet." This petition was granted, and on August 4th, 1675, was made the basis of a Royal order to the Governors of Massachusetts, Plymouth, Connecticut, and Rhode Island. King Philip's war then intervened, and it was not until 1667 that the Court of Commissioners assembled. The place was Providence, and business was begun on October 3d, in presence of a bench and jury presided over by Thomas Hinckley of Plymouth. Harris and his partners (now reduced to two, Thomas Field and Nathaniel Waterman) filed declarations successively against the town of Warwick, against Edmund Calverly and his associates, against the town of Providence, and against John Harrud and his associates. John Towers had already been declared against, and had appeared personally on October 3d. The declarations in the case of Warwick, and in that of the individual defendants, alleged damages by trespass, and demanded compensation. In the case of Providence the demand was chiefly that the Providence-Pawtuxet line should be run equally between the Pawtuxet and Wanasquatucket rivers as high upwards into the country as a place or pond called Ponaganset.

On the part of Providence, replies to Harris were filed, on or before November 17th—the day of trial—by Gregory Dexter and Roger Williams jointly, and by Roger Williams separately. Replies were also filed by Calverly and by the town of Warwick. But the most interesting feature of the trial was (and is) the written argument submitted to the Court by William Harris, called the "Plea of the Pawtuxet Purchasers." Harris's main point was that the Pawtuxet lands, as described both in the Town Evidence and in the deed from Williams to those of Pawtuxet, "comprehended all the length of the rivers Moshassuc and Wanasquatucket" as measured upon the Pawtuxet. He urged, for example, that the expression in the Town Evidence, "the lands and meadows upon the two fresh rivers Mooshassuc and Wanasquatucket," taken in connection with the further expression, "all that land from those rivers reaching to Pawtuxet river," must be held to mean "the land [upon the Pawtuxet] to the utmost length of the other two rivers," because, under the "common and statute law of England and the King's grants and patents to all New England, the most favorable construction is to be given [in any supposed doubt] to the grantees." Then again he urged that the bounds named in the Town Evidence as western bounds (Neutaconkanut hill and Mashapaug) would, if so taken, make the town of Providence not only irregular in form but so contracted in dimensions as to embrace an area ("brought to a long square") of only one mile in breadth by four or five in length, which was unthinkable. Wherefore it resulted that Neutaconkanut hill and Mashapaug, being unthinkable as western bounds, or bounds of length, must be taken to have been named as marking merely the breadth of the land on the said rivers. In Harris's own words, these points "being not of length, yet bound, therefore must be of breadth."

The foregoing considerations embodied substantially all that could be gleaned by Harris from the Town Evidence, per se, upon which to ask the Court to sustain the claim of himself and partners to all the lands upon the Pawtuxet, west of the Pachaset river (up to which the claim was not generally disputed) as far as the Pond of Ponagansett. They also of course embodied all that could be gleaned upon which to support the demand against Providence that the Pawtuxet line be extended westward from Pachaset river, or Hipses rock, its existing terminus.

As for the postscript dated 1639, which acknowledged a use of the Pawtuxet and Wanasquatucket lands, "up stream without limits," Harris argued that the same was not necessary to his claim, but that it strengthened it. Thus—with fine appreciation of effect—he appealed to the bench of Theocrats before him by citing Ezra vii: 22, where, in the case of a gift by the King of Kings to the King of Israel of a great but unspecified quantity of silver, wheat, wine, and oil, the gift though indefinite was sustained; and by citing Numbers xxxv: 3, where a gift of cities to the children of Israel, including the suburbs "for their cattle," was considered to pass title to the suburbs as well as to the cities.

The argument of Harris prevailed with the Court despite the emphatically sound view of Roger Williams that the Providence purchase was limited westward by Neutaconkanut hill and Mashapaug, and that the acknowledgment of "up streams without limits" was a mere courtesy and license. On the 19th, 20th, and 21st of November, 1677, the Court returned verdicts in the complainants' favor. But this was far from settling the great controversy. Warwick at once sent representatives (Randall Holden and John Greene) to England to complain of the composition of the Court which had rendered decision against the town, and in response it was ordered by the King on January 2d, 1678-9, that for the present Warwick should be left undisturbed in its possessions. No sooner, however, had this been done, than William Harris appeared on the scene in England and procured an order that the Warwick case be reheard before the Governor and Magistrates of New Plymouth. The rehearing took place October 28th, 1679, and again a decision favorable to Harris was rendered.

But meanwhile the men of Providence had not been idle. The verdict returned against the town, in November, 1677, required that the Providence-Pawtuxet line be extended westward equally between the Pawtuxet and Wanasquatucket rivers—"till it meet with a thwart line from the head of the Wanasquatucket directly to the Pawtuxet." The all important question therefore was: Where is the head of the Wanasquatucket?

Out of the uncertainties involved in this question, Arthur Fenner and Roger Williams, as representing Providence, made the most. They in fact took a leaf from the book of William Harris himself, and fairly surpassed that master of tergiversation at his own game. Instead of starting their "thwart line" from the natural head and source of the Wanasquatucket ("its old springs and ancient heads"), they started it at a point some distance below, where several streams united with the main stream; and instead of running it directly to the Pawtuxet, they ran it past Mashapaug, which brought it to the Pawtuxet at Papaquinapaug, a point only about three and one-half miles from the mouth of the stream in question. It is true that afterwards they ran a second line, but this, like the first, was started from the junction of the tributaries of the Wanasquatucket. It was then caused to follow a southeasterly course past Neutaconkanut hill, terminating at the mouth of the Pachaset. That is to say, a determined effort was made to cut the Harris partnership out of substantially all the lands which had come to it under the confirmation deeds, by taking the Pachaset river, which skirted Neutaconkanut hill, as the utmost limit westward of both the Providence and Pawtuxet purchases.

In this shape matters stood when Harris, on April 15th, 1678, felt himself forced to apply to the Court of Commissioners to reconvene the jury which had rendered him a verdict against Providence, to explain the meaning of their words. The jury was again summoned and made explanation that by a "thwart line directly to the Pawtuxet" they had meant and "did intend a square line from the head of Wenaskatucket river to Pawtuxet which said line runneth nearest W. S. W. from the head of Wanasquatucket river to Pawtuxet river which comes from Penhungansit pond, as appears by the maps given into his Majesty's Court." But by this time the Court itself had begun to divide on the point as to the "thwart line" raised by Fenner and Williams, and instead of ordering execution upon the verdict, reported the whole affair to the King and begged for instructions.

Once more thereupon Harris set sail for England. He reached London (as already has been seen) in season to secure an order for a rehearing in the Warwick case. He secured also an order, dated July 9th, 1679, directing the Governor of Rhode Island, John Cranston, to see that the verdicts against the defendants other than Warwick were at once put in process of execution. With these orders he returned home in September, 1679. In October the Warwick rehearing went in his favor, and by November 24th, John Smith of Newport had been sworn as special marshal to deliver to Harris possession of all the Pawtuxet lands involved in the suits against Harrud, Towers and the town of Providence. At this point, however, Harris wavered. He refused to accompany Smith in order to point out the lands which he claimed, and on December 15th Smith made return of this fact to Governor Cranston.

The story of the Pawtuxet litigation proper now rapidly nears its end. Harris decided to make still a further appeal to the King with the object of securing an order for a more specific form of execution against the defendants to his suits. About Christmas time, 1679, he took ship at Boston for England. On the voyage the ship was captured by a Barbary corsair and Harris was taken a prisoner to Algiers, where he was held in durance pending negotiations for his ransom. In the summer of 1681 he was redeemed and painfully made his way to England. Worn and shattered by his hardships, he died within three days after reaching London.

With the death of William Harris, the struggle for the recovery of the Pawtuxet lands soon assumed the appearance of a lost cause. The remaining proprietors, in 1686, appointed Nathaniel Thomas as their agent, who petitioned in turn to Governor Hinckley, the King, and Sir Edmund Andros, for the execution of the verdicts which Harris had obtained, but all to no purpose. In 1705 a petition for execution was made to Queen Anne, who although at first disposed to look upon the case favorably, was soon convinced of the inadvisability of reviving so ancient a struggle. As the English agent wrote home: "My lawyer tells me that he fears it (a new preparation of the case) will be like dressing a cucumber with oyle and vinegar, pepper and salt, and then throwing it upon the dunghill. That is to say, he doubts that when you have done all, the great length of time that this case has been depending (about 47 years) will be a stumbling block in your way never to be got over." The Pawtuxet proprietors submitted to the inevitable and immediately petitioned to the Providence Council for the running of the dividing lines. After considerable negotiation upon the matter, it was finally agreed that the north boundary of the Pawtuxet purchase should be a line running from Mashapaug west fourteen degrees north to the seven-mile line, and the west boundary a line from that point running due south to the Warwick line. Occasional disputes occurred later with descendants of those who in opposition to Harris had purchased land within the above described tract, but the Pawtuxet controversy as a whole was thus virtually ended.

*Cole and Carpenter were two of the Pawtuxet settlers who had submitted themselves to Massachusetts in 1642. Together with William Arnold, on January 30, 1641-42, they had purchased of Socanonoco, Sachem of Pawtuxet, all the land between the Pawtuxet, Pocasset, Woonasquatucket and "great salt" rivers (Suffolk Deeds, i: 63). This land, however, had been included in the original purchase made by Roger Williams of the chief sachems in 1638.

land and for a peice of Marsh purchased of Socononoco. W<sup>m</sup>. Arnold confessed that Harris did pay his part of the purchase: The Court ordered there should be a division of the Land. Jury found for the Defend<sup>t</sup>. but the Defend<sup>t</sup>. desired no costs.

*This refers to an award as to Pawtuxet lands made during the preceding June (see Prov. Rec. xv: 94). It gave to William Carpenter, Zachary Rhodes, and William Arnold three parts out of four of the land east of the Pocasset River, and to the rest of the thirteen purchasers the remaining fourth part and the land on the west side of the Pocasset river, certain exceptions being made in both divisions.

firste, I am, Allwayes Ready, to devide, because, by devitione, of y<sup>e</sup> same, Each man, shall posses, his Owne 2ly, And be, in y<sup>e</sup> better, Capatity, to posses, whomsoever, he shall see Good Reasone to posses, with y<sup>t</sup> same after hem.

And, for many Reasons beside.

2ly, Thus I am willing, to devide. Three parts, of 4 to Will Carpenter, Will Arnald, & Zach Rhoades, Provided, y<sup>t</sup> This shall not prejudice, y<sup>e</sup> five, Acreas, Rights, Nor A six Acrea Righte, Nor, Any Possessers, of Medow, within, y<sup>e</sup> Tracte aforesayde, And, Reserveing y<sup>e</sup> vinyarde: And, y<sup>e</sup> Litle Necke to y<sup>e</sup> 13 Purchasers, Allsoe, Excepting, y<sup>e</sup> land of Johne Sailes, If it, or soe much, of It as shall fall within y<sup>e</sup> tracte aforesayde, youres, or oures, And, Allsoe, to me, my share, within y<sup>e</sup> Tracte aforesayd

*The question between Pawtuxet and Warwick depended upon priority of title. If Harris's interpretation of Williams's original grant was correct, the Pawtuxet men owned all land north of Pawtuxet river. The north line of the original Warwick purchase, however, crossed the south bend of the Pawtuxet river. If, therefore, the Providence and Pawtuxet purchase extended no further than the Pocasset river, the territory in dispute, a three-cornered tract lying between the Warwick north line and the south bend of the Pawtuxet, belonged to Warwick. The eastern part of this tract was called Toskeunke (see testimony of Arnold, 25 October, 1679, No. 92; and Holden and Greene's petition, 28 October, 1679, No. 95) and the western part, Nachick, or Natick. See the map in this volume.

* A second petition, under the same date, was handed in, requesting a survey of the dividing line between Providence and Pawtuxet (Prov. Rec., xv: 105). Apparently no attention was paid to either petition (Idem, iii: 59).

†This document is not dated, but apparently was handed in to the town meeting of 25 December, 1666. The question of fencing in the Neck first appears in the town meeting records on 18 February, 1662, when it was "ordered the Neck shall be fenced in this year." (Prov. Rec., iii: 13.) Five years later, 2 December, 1666, "it is ordered that 4 of our neighbours shall . . . goe unto those of the Inhabitanes who are oppossitt to the fencing in of the neck to know theire mindes, and reasons." (Prov. Rec., iii: 89.) The question is again referred to 11 December, 1673, "which metting being Caled for sum Consideration of bulding of a bridg and fencing in the Neck but Not any thing Agred on." (Prov. Rec., iii: 249.) Harris's opposition on this question doubtless helped in stirring up the

Among the undated Providence Town Papers, there are several documents relating to the subject of fencing in the Neck, among them a favorable report from the committee, and a conciliatory appeal from Roger Williams. PROVIDENCE MEN TO NEWPORT, PORTSMOUTH AND

* Proverbs, xxi: 2.

† Proverbs, xxxi: 8-9.

‡ This was a favorite term of Williams, as applied to Harris. In his George Fox digg'd out of his Burrowes — Boston, 1676, p. 205, he speaks of "W. Harris (a Fire-brand of Town, and Colony & Country)."

this Collony of Road Iland & Providence plantations, Vid, Newport Portsmouth & Warwick declaring both his name nature qualities & Conditions as appeareth by some of his former & later actions in this town & Collony —

- I ffirst his nature, he is like the Salamander always delighting to live in y<sup>e</sup> fire of contention as witnesseth his Severall Suits in Law for these many yeares together to the great disquiett & Cost to this Colony & burden to this poor towne as appeareth by callinge out for rates although he most endevoureth to cover wth cryinge out aloud a rate for John Clarke * but his covering is not large enough to hide y<sup>e</sup> matter frō us for there are other wayes of disposall then to m<sup>r</sup> John Clarke: ffor there is none amongst us hath refused to pay y<sup>e</sup> rate for o<sup>r</sup> honoured ffriende m<sup>r</sup> John Clarke as may in time further appeare when audited he yet further declares his conditions & nature for he laityly said he had laid Some of o<sup>r</sup> neighbours lands & went to one of ther & challenged him to worke upon his land Saying I have laid out yo<sup>r</sup> land gon therfore & work & I will arrest yo<sup>u</sup> upon an actione of trespass or else sayd he I have appointed others to work & soe yo<sup>u</sup> arrest me & I will answer yo<sup>u</sup> but neither of th would o<sup>r</sup> neighbour doe to satiate this mans humour: then doth this man indict at the late Court, but the men y<sup>t</sup> were to judge were soe wise as to stopp his burning by an Ignoramus.

* At the October Session in 1664, the General Assembly had levied a tax of £600 to reimburse John Clarke for his expenses in obtaining the Charter (R. I. Col. Rec., ii: 77). Warwick protested against this rate, 12 December, 1664 (Idem, p. 78), which drew forth from Roger Williams a long and powerful letter, 1 January, 1666, in favor of the rate (R. I. H. S. Pub., viii: 147). Warwick replied to Williams, 20 February, 1666, and to the General Assembly, April, 1666 (MS. Copies of Warwick Records, pp. 13, 14; R. I. Col. Rec., ii: 142). The Assembly appointed a Committee in September, 1666, to see to the collecting of the rate, and it was Harris's activity in serving upon this Committee that earned for him the enmity of Warwick. The rate was still ungathered as late as May, 1671 (R. I. Col. Rec., ii: 288, 359, 380).

- 2 his nature qualities & Conditions doth further appeare he is a Quarilsome man as in the case of Adam Goodwin in by past yeares for this man beinge then an officer in this towne fell on the sayd Adam & beate him in the open street for w<sup>ch</sup> this towne resolved & put him out of their civell society untill he gave thē satisfacione : but to this day he hath not done it although often called on about it.*
3 he is like y<sup>e</sup> raging sea casting forth mire & dirt : & from men of high degree throughout the Collonies to men of lowe he scarce spareth one as may easily appeare : but he casth on them foole knave, rascall, base fellowe, scound-erill or the like : & Soe full of his threats amongst us as if he were a schoolmaister over his boyes or an overseer over negers y<sup>t</sup> truly it is a Shame for Civell men to repeate
the filthines that commonly proceedeth out of this mans mouth.
4. this late unparelleld actions maketh this ffirebrand appeare by taking                    goinge wth all & every officer in this towne excepting towne Clarke to take away by distrainte nine shillings 3 pence frō a poore man in this towne, by his throwinge the poore mans wife over a fence of 4 rayles twice which made her cry out take or goods but abuse not my husband : by bindinge by his comandem<sup>t</sup> the hands of the said poore man behinde him wth a                    & hurrying him

* There is another reference to this episode in a Remonstrance, written by Williams on behalf of the town of Providence, addressed to the Governor and Council, 31 August, 1668 (Prov. Rec., xv: 121-124): "Harris, he now forceth us to remember yt it is about 24 years since he was disfranchised & cast out from ye Assembly of his neighbors in Town Meeting for assaulting a neighbor & blood shedding in ye Kings high way in yt streete, & for a furious maintaining of such a practice." Another reference is in Williams's George Fox digg'd out of his Burrowes—Boston, 1676, p. 206: "He hath been notorious for quarrelling, and challenging, and fighting, even when he pretended with the Quakers against Carnal Weapons; so that there stands upon Record in the Town-book of Providence an Act of Disfranchisement upon him for fighting and shedding Blood in the street, and for maintaining and allowing it (for ought I know) to this day."

downe alonge or streete almost a mile in that sort as if the man had been a murderer, but the foulness of this matter will be more made manifest in its place, wee questione not: & the Protest against this man by or towne deputies that he should not be ingaged nor his Ptaker till the matter was (cleared) vindicated.

His actions amongst us the 3rd of this instant June beinge the day of this townes electinge of towne officers maketh this ffirebrand further appeare: who wth his Ptener W<sup>m</sup> Carpenter deprived a great number of free men libertie to vote for officers 20 some of them had been townesmen 26 yeares all of the above 18 yeares of age & landed men & had given there ingagem<sup>ts</sup> of fidelity to his majestie according as is P<sup>r</sup>vided in the Coloney: The objection why they shoulde not vote was, they had not given there ingagem<sup>ts</sup> before the towne, then one steps forth & desireth to give his ingagem<sup>ts</sup> there that also they refused. Another objection there names were not returned to the Clarke, that the assistant tendered by a list of there names to be recorded that had given there ingagem<sup>ts</sup> y<sup>t</sup> was also refused.* Soe that this man wth his Ptner would neither accept them y<sup>t</sup> were ingaged nor let him ingage (that offered him selfe) before them): w<sup>t</sup> they would have we nowe begin to see. The people beholding their liberties & p<sup>r</sup>videdges (by these men) endeavored to be violated & destroyed: beinge about two partes of thē risolved not to indure it. But moved m<sup>r</sup> ffenner assistant to Stand with them to helpe to maintaine there p<sup>r</sup>videdge & to worke they went to the business of the day & choose there moderator in the same roome the towne Clarke & Constable & when they were ingaged demanded the towne bookes to be delivered to the towne Clerke chosen by the major part of the ffreemen of the towne: This man wth his associates having gott y<sup>e</sup> table denied the

Moreover this man whilest we were peaceably acting (his associates having left the roome) came againe & Comanded the Said Moderator of the towne about ten times (in his majesties name to depart that howse from the routt soe that wth us the Case lieth thus, that when we meete together in peace to agree about or occasions not warned by this man or his partner we are called by him a rout: & when warned by them & doe not as this man would have us we are then also tearmed a rout, what other fiery worke this man will yet make we watch to See that we may quench it if it be possable *

* The records of the two rival town meetings on June 3, 1667, are in Prov. Rec., iii: 102-106. Harris having been elected moderator, refused to allow a good proportion of the townsmen to vote, whereupon his opponents withdrew and held their meeting with Fenner as moderator. Roger Williams was one of those chosen by the Harris party to make up the Town Council. At the Fenner meeting it was "Voted and ordered that ffowe men be Chosen to Draw up a Remonstrance to present to the other thre Townes of this Colony . . . and with all Convenient speed to send it: to declare the Illeagall and unjust proceedings of severall persons at this meeting endeavoring thear by to prevent the Leagall choyse of the officers for this towne: and also ffarder to declare as in thaye wisdom they shall see Cause.

Harris called another meeting on June 24, for the election of deputies to the Assembly, whereupon his opponents held a meeting to elect their deputies on June 26. This brought the matter before the General Assembly, which met at Newport on July 2. The matter was warmly debated (see R. I. Col. Rec., ii: 199-204), and the Harris party were outvoted on every question. On motion of Warwick, it was voted further that as this Assembly had been called at the instigation of Harris, he should be fined £50 towards the expenses of the meeting. Harris was also ordered to be discharged from his office of Assistant. At the election of May, 1668, undoubtedly through his influence with the Quakers, he was reinstated and Fenner was dropped.

Hearing that there is a generall Councill called, I thought good to write unto you touching the matters between William Harris &c and those of Mashantetate &c hee hath of late obtained to have a Law made,† that by Execution John Harrode &c shall bee dispossessed of the house he now dwells in, and William Harris to have the possession delivered to him, Except Edmund Calverly. and William Harris doe give it un-

* Edmund Calverly, of Warwick, had served as town clerk, and as deputy to the Assembly. He was one of the leading purchasers of Mashantatack.

† The General Assembly, 14 May, 1669, (R. I. Col. Rec., ii: 253) had voted that "Mr William Harris having made friendly tenders of composing the difference betweene him and Edmund Calverlye, John Harrod and others concerning . . . Misshantatacke, and the Court being wearied with the incessant clamours and complaint concerning the difference . . . if the said [Harris and Calverlye] doe not joyntly, and under their hands in writing, declare unto Joseph Torry, gennerall Recorder, that the said difference is issued and ended by their mutuall agreement before the last day of September next, that then the said generall Recorder shall, upon his great perrill, give forth a writt of execution . . . against John Harrod or any others with him, keeping possession of the lands premised."

der their hands to the Generall Recorder that they are agreed by the Latter End of September next ; I have indeavoured by answearing his writeing, in as peaceable manner as I could, to have had some discourse about the matter of difference betwix us To see if we could come to some peaceable Issue if it might bee to stop manslaughter, if no bloodshed & Murder, on the one side or the other, which may bee Comitted in case hee driveth on the way he is goeing, but he answeareth mee that hee will not meet at the time nor place, which was at Mr. William Carpenters house at Patuxet on Thursday the 8th instant in the forenoone, neither then nor there, nor at any other time and place, but if I will answear to his proposalls in writeing speedily I may, otherwise hee will not treat nor talke with mee, now soe it is that I doe not Judge it any way safe for mee to answear him in his proposalls, That is to say wee must picke & pole the Country to finde out men that may Judge whether the Court or Courts of this Colony have done right or wrong (It will bee made appear that he hath boasted saying Mashantetate is the Portch, and Warwick is the house, that he doubts not but Yer Long, hee shall Enter the Porch, and then hee shall Easily gett into the house, which Porch if hee doe assay to Enter, I am afraid as aforesaid of some sad Events, therefore I doe desire you will forewarne him from comeing there in Order to dispossess any of the Inhabitants In that Plantation either English or Indians ; can any rationall man thinke that the Kings Matie will approve or take it well that William Harris &c shall bee allowed to swallow up whole Townes & Plantations, The Kings Province and all, and noe man stand up to plead for the Kings Peace & intrest in his Province I doe deny his pretended title &c of up streame without Limits, or as farr as he pleaseth in the Kings Province, And alsoe doe deny to goe to any arbitration with him in that matter, having already brought my apeale before the Kings Matie and aproved on by a Law of the Colony, and a decree pro tempore, sent unto mee by the procurement of William Harris, from & under three of his Maties Honorable Comissioners hands ; and doubt not but to prove, if I bee forced thereupon, that their

Comission to act heer in this matter, was, & will prove as good as the Comission by w<sup>ch</sup> or Honor<sup>d</sup> Governor & Councill, doe act by, in any part of the Kings Province; Thinke you that the Kings Matie hath delivered us up to bee William Harris' his slaves & vassalls, I hope not, And doe alsoe hope if I bee forced to seeke releife against his vile & wicked practices (that I shall finde some) and make the records of this Colony, prove him such a one, as his Neighbors report him to bee, and shame those that are his abetto<sup>rs</sup>, is it not high time to cry, help my Lord oh King or Wee are all undone;

Honor<sup>d</sup> Gentlemen before I bee forced to Lay open the sad Condition that the proprietors of Mashantetate, are in thinke of what the Event will bee at the Winding up of the matter, We have by arbitration tryed and done what wee can, to our great charge, trouble and damage, and it will not doe any thing, Except wee bring the Indians into bonds wth us which wee cannot, nor dare not doe, for they depend upon the Kings Matie for protection ag<sup>t</sup> William Harris, and all such as he is, They tould the arbitrato<sup>rs</sup> that hee had cheated them, for they confirmed noe more then Myantenomy or Chepasotem * granted to Mr Williams Therefore I desire Wee may have as much Injoyment of the Kings Comissioners orders, as any other plantation on the Maine hath; And if ther orders & acts are good for others, to hold their Land by &c why not for us, But laying all heat aside, If as William Harris Promiseth in his writeing, that hee will follow mee to England, Then to Arbitration or Law Wee will goe, When we come there, as the King or Councell shall direct against whome I hope hee will finde noe Objection, and Let the Colony bee in peace the meane time for I wish the peace thereof; soe with my humble service to you, hoping to have some return from You, I rest Yo<sup>rs</sup> in behalfe of all that are concerned wth mee in the purchase of Mashantetate &c

(Prov. Rec., ii: 73) Of these early boundaries, Sugar-loaf Hill and Oxford cannot be identified with modern localities. From deeds and other early records, it is possible to locate the remaining boundaries with a probable degree of correctness. Observation Rock occupied the site of the present Stump Hill Reservoir. Absolute Swamp lay just to the east of the present Louisquisset Turnpike, extending as far north as the Breakneck Road. Hipses Rock was undoubtedly the high rock still standing in the three-cornered tract formed by the Plainfield Road, the Morgans Mills Road and the Pocasset River. Bewits Brow was on the west side of the Moshassuck river, and according to Welcome A. Greene—an authority on early localities to the north of Providence—stood somewhat southwest of the present junction of Charles and Hawes streets.

HARRIS TO ARBITRATORS, 18 JULY, 1670.

To William Carpenter, & y<sup>e</sup> Arbytrators

ffor as much, as william Carpenter: hath acknowledged, That a spott of land within my fence about specticle meadow: was cutt by his deration: & as he claymeing y<sup>e</sup> propriety of y<sup>e</sup> sd land, cutt by his son Ephraem Carpenter, & his son in law william Vincett, Which s<sup>d</sup> land I Clayme as my propriety; yet, never y<sup>e</sup> les, I have offered to Refer y<sup>e</sup> sd defference To Arbytration; he haveing chosen Thomas Olney ssenior, & I John Sayles: Arbytrators; for y<sup>e</sup> ending y<sup>e</sup> sd defference, Acspresed in this Issue, That is, Whether? The sd spott of land be? William Carpenters? or myne? which sd Issue on (my parte) I Refer to y<sup>e</sup> two afore sd Arbytrators, & y<sup>t</sup> s<sup>d</sup> Issue only (as to y<sup>t</sup> matter of defference) And If it should soe fall out y<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> two doe not agree therabout, Then I am redy: to refer it to a lott of Gods provedence, to be desided by; (y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> defference) whether it be his? or myne? or, If he be not willing to y<sup>t</sup>; then I am willing: to Refer y<sup>e</sup> choyce of an umpire, to y<sup>e</sup> sd Arbytrators; and any two of y<sup>e</sup> sd three, to end y<sup>e</sup> sd defference; And If they cannot agree on y<sup>e</sup> umpire I am all soe willing, That a lott should deside y<sup>t</sup> (If we cannot otherwise agree) And y<sup>e</sup> sd defference being ended, That each partety shall have all theyr papers from y<sup>e</sup> Arbytrators & umpire which they or ether of them: deliver, to y<sup>e</sup> sd Arbytrators, or umpire: (agayne) delivered to each partty And, That such papers as I deliver in to y<sup>e</sup> sd Arbytrators, William Carpenter (If he pleas) shall have Copies therof, under y<sup>e</sup> Arbytrators hands (& umpire) (If any be) & under my hand allsoe.

And I to have Copies: soe likewise of his.

HARRIS TO ARBITRATORS [JULY, 1670].

Endorsed by Harris :—These papers as to william Carpenter.

If william Carpenter agayne object, That y<sup>e</sup> sd spott cutt &c, is his, because it lyes on y<sup>e</sup> side of pachaset River

* William Carpenter, on 15 June, 1659, bought of Richard and Ann Parker of Boston the Pawtuxet share that formerly belonged to John Throckmorton. (Prov. Rec., xv: 96.) On 6 April, 1675, Carpenter relinquished all claims beyond the "seven-mile line" that might in "any ways arise from the pawtuxet Right which he bought of mr Richard Parker." (Prov. Rec., iv: 23.)

† "Many Holes" was a twelve-acre boggy meadow. Judging by early deeds it must have been situated on Mashapaug Brook, near the present city line. (See Prov. Rec., ii: 13, v: 62, xiv: 268, xvi: 334.)

I Answer, The adition to a share of meadow called many holes lyes on y<sup>e</sup> sides of pachaset River, therefore not all his on y<sup>e</sup> sd River

2 ly much of specticle meadow (below y<sup>t</sup> spott cutt) lyes on y<sup>e</sup> side of y<sup>e</sup> sd pachaset River

which was layd out (before y<sup>e</sup> sd aditions) yea when his sd meadow was layd out (to which sd) his sd adition was layd Therefore, though specticle meadow had noe adition (though mieth) as well as others, yet, y<sup>e</sup> sd should not be deminished allsoe, & aded to others adition when y<sup>e</sup> sd specticle meadow had none

3 ly That he cannot Justly Challeng to y<sup>e</sup> mouth of pachaset River (though formerly he hath)

first, because he makes as If he were not certayne whether y<sup>t</sup> sayd lower part, adition, were aded to many holes meadow or his y<sup>t</sup> was Richard Parkers

2 ly from y<sup>e</sup> mouth of pachaset River, ther is not any natur-eall bound y<sup>t</sup> answers therto And yet in all those layings out when ever we could with convenyence though to some disproportion still toke when Could be had natureall boundes for peace sake, by clear distinction not knowing whose lot either mieth be

2 ly If william Carpenter object anything y<sup>t</sup> he may pretend in writings in William Arnolds hand which yet I know not of, when I here y<sup>e</sup> perticulers I shall make perticuler answer

And but this at present If he have any writings as to y<sup>e</sup> sd fore sd aditions on pachaset River they then concern all patuxcet purchasors & should have been more publique then yet they could be made (by request) but when william Carpenter aboute or aboue twenty years since pretended to have bought to his peculyer propriety all y<sup>e</sup> meadow on y<sup>e</sup> sd pachaset River (on y<sup>e</sup> westward side therof) Then he denyde any papers or writings of y<sup>e</sup> sd aditions to many holes meadow & his now meadow but then none of his but Richard Parkers, at which time I would have seen y<sup>e</sup> sd pretended papers, (sd) to be in william Arnolds hands

but for as much as y<sup>e</sup> fore sd Arbytrators have knowne william Carpenter Challeng his neighbours land to himself unjustly

* The Keyes was a pine swamp or woods lying on the eastern side of the eastern branch of Woonasquatucket river, about a mile and a half north of the present Stillwater. (See F. A. Arnold in *Narr. The word Keyes probably was not derived from the Spanish Key, i. e., a low island, but was used in the old English meaning of a wharf, quay, or perhaps a dyke along a river.

HARRIS, CONCERNING CONNECTICUT [FEBRUARY, 1672].*

Gentlemen, be pleased to understand that wheareas you have laid on us lately two Rates † both of y<sup>m</sup>. to ye value of 126<sup>lbs</sup>. 6s. in ye common countrey pay 27<sup>lbs</sup>: 15<sup>s</sup>: being dabled

* The original of this document is in the Connecticut Archives (Doc. no. 28 in "Colonial Boundaries, vol. 1, Rhode Island, 1662-1742"). Pasted upon the last sheet is a piece of paper endorsed "Mr. Harris his argum<sup>t</sup> against Road Iland," and in another hand, the dates "May 50 May 63 Octob 66." Internal evidence, however, shows that the document was written early in 1672, probably in February.

† On 25 September, 1671, the Assembly voted to assess a rate of £250, of which £200 was to go for the expenses of an English agent, the remainder for general colony expenses. John Clarke was appointed as agent "to manage the appeale of this Colony to his Majesty against the intrusions of Connecticut." (R. I. Col. Rec., ii: 411-412.)

as useth the s<sup>d</sup>. Silver being to send an agent for England as to bounds of our charter and ye other part to pay your Colony debts some whereof wee suppose is as to ye charge of procuring your charter* Wee say had others paid their whole sums as wee did of ye 600 lbs rate † for ye payment of Mr. Pain & Mr. Clark ye Colony had then been out of dept as the s<sup>d</sup>. assemblies act saith ye s<sup>d</sup>. somes would have paid But as for debts as to Musquimicut ‡ wee doe doe not count ourselves indebted thereby wee have borne to much upon such occasion already wee suppose debts may be increased by forbearance in England but we wonder it should be expected of us yt have paid ye principall as to our promise and something more yt we should pay other men principall and the Debt of intrust also we will rather use all lawfull dilligence (to keep it from ourselves) (and others) whose debt it is (by promise) and as for that rate to send an agent for England wee hereby declare that wee have no consent in it nor aprove of it and our reasons wee will shew in ye close of this paper after you have heard (supposedly) cunneticut may say to prevent you. we have heard many allegations by severall intellagable persons of each claimes which we will lay down together with ye law and Clawses of ye law of England supposed to be the rule of Judgment (in such cases) Conecticut hath asserted the extent of their patent demanding of Road Island that they forbear the exercise of Jurisdiction by a messengar (to that purpose) Road Island may be supposed to say what is the extent asserted by Conetticutt seeing that Narrigansett river is (now) that Musquomicott river by their agent agreed by arbitration to be from that time Narrigansett river therefore the eastward side of the s<sup>d</sup>. river (not Connetticut) but Road Island jurisdiction bound.* Conecticut may be supposed to say yt ye Eastward bound expresed in their patent is Narrigansett River Commonly called Narrigansett Bay (where it falleth into the Sea) And ye s<sup>d</sup>. river which runeth into Salt river which is between Providence & rehoboth (called Seaconke) Runeth between Rehoboth & warwick; & at warwick falleth into ye Narragansett Bay, on ye Eastward side thereof. And ye s<sup>d</sup>. River, is within ye Narragansett Bay, and ye fairest river within the s<sup>d</sup>. Bay and therefore of good Reason, ye fittest to bear ye baies name (as it did) about 45 yeares since or more, it was so called by the first English that had occasion to give it (for distinction) a name namely ye Plymouth traders at their house at Ssowames, and ye s<sup>d</sup>. river distinguished ye Indians namely Cononjcus, & Meantenomies on ye west side: from Osemequens on ye East side Therefore Narrigansett River truly & Rationally

* A copy of the Charter of 1663, in Harris's own hand, is among the manuscripts of the R. I. Historical Society.

† See note on p. 78 for an account of the rate of £600 levied in October, 1664.

‡ The Indian name for Westerly, which town was a source of dispute between Rhode Island and Connecticut.

2ly Musquamecot River, cannot be Narrigansett River Rationally. first it is not in ye s<sup>d</sup>. Narragansett Bay

2ly It cannot be (That) Narragansett River expressed in Conecticut patent, it, was then Musquamecot River: & untill, ye s<sup>d</sup>. Arbitration gave it that name of Narrigansett River

Therefore, not ye Narrigansett River (so long before expressed in Conecticut Charter or patent)

* According to the terms of her charter of 1662, Connecticut's eastern boundary extended as far as "Narrogansett River, commonly called Narrogansett Bay." But the great Narragansett country to the west of Narragansett Bay was included within the Rhode Island Patent of 1644. Clarke, the Rhode Island agent, made such forceful protests against the reassignment of this territory that Winthrop, the Connecticut agent, was compelled to overstay his time abroad in order to compose these differences. In April, 1663, an award of four arbiters was brought about, whereby it was decided that the Pawcatuck river should "be the certaine bounds betweene those two Colonies, which said River shall for the future be alsoe called alias Narrogansett, or Narrogansett River." R. I. Col. Rec., i: 518.) When Rhode Island's charter of July, 1663 appeared, it bounded her territory on the southwest by the Pawcatuck river and especially nullified any contradictory clause in the "late Connecticut grant," stating that the Pawcatuck river had been yielded by both agents to be the fixed bound between the colonies.

3ly, Suppose Coneticut will allso say That Mr Winthrop : Then & in yt, was not their agent, and though he had a comition to procure a patent, did and sent it, yett had no comition to put it to arbitration, nor power thereby to null ye kings grant to them

4ly Suppose Coneticut will say, they had ye first grant of ye king according to law (as to ye s<sup>d</sup>. bounds) a later grant cannot null it—Road Island may be supposed to Say, that they had Charter of ye s<sup>d</sup>. bounds : before Coneticuts (first) & before Road Islands (last) & therefore, If Coneticuts agent did not in his Bills of Petition for a patent of ye s<sup>d</sup>. bounds to ye king mentioned, ye s<sup>d</sup>. first Patent of Road Island, then Coneticut Charter Void by ye 6 H 8, 15 * but Coneticut agent did not express ye s<sup>d</sup>. first Charter of Road Island, therefore Void ye s<sup>d</sup>. Coneticut patent Co—Coneticut may be supposed to answer, That ye s<sup>d</sup>. statutes speake of Charters at will & pleasure, but as for patents to bodies Polatick & their successors (as a patent at will & pleasure cannot be void) (though gotten by ondue pretents) & importunity) and therefore If Road Island had a good and lawful patent (of ye king) to them & their successors Coneticuts later Patent cannot make it void

2ly A Patent (so) to be acspressed in ye s<sup>d</sup>. Statute must be in life Granted by ye king for ye time being, but ye s<sup>d</sup>. Charter of Road Island beares date ye ye 14. of March 1643, & granted, by vertue of an ordnance of ye Lords & commons assembled in Parliment, but it is not said, to be granted by ye

By Ferdinando Pulton*—London, 1661 (Folio, 431l and 1427 pp.), which belonged to William Harris and must have been one of his most prized possessions. The fly leaves, both front and back, contain many notes in his handwriting. One-half page of memoranda is headed "Statutes as againste forcable entyes," and most of the notes are to laws bearing upon his controversies. king, and not haveing the s<sup>d</sup>. Royall asent is void, & that authority yt granted it (without the s<sup>d</sup> Royall asent) as appears by the 13 of king Charles ye second & first, in these words, all orders or ordinances of both, or either houses of Parliment (to which ye royall asent was not, wear void & null in they first Creation, & soe shall be taken therefore ye s<sup>d</sup> Road Island first Charter never had life, therefore not in life therefore should not be expressed (by ye afores<sup>d</sup>. Statutes in Coneticuts agents bills of petition for a Patent—Road Island may be supposed to say that Coneticut Charter: Should bear date by law ye day of ye delivery of ye kings warrant into ye Chansery for ye s<sup>d</sup>. patent, but Coneticut patent doth not bear dte ye s<sup>d</sup> day: of ye delivering ye kings warrant therefore void by ye words of ye s<sup>d</sup>. Statute, 18 K H 6, 1. and as followeth, first whereas by suitt made to ye king, by divers persons it hath been desired by their petitions, to have offices, fearmes, & other things of ye Gift & Grant of ye king: by his gracious letters Patents thereof to them to be made, refering by ye same petitions, ye same letters Patents of ye king, to Beare date at a Sertaine day limited in ye Same, the which day is often long before ye kings grant to them theirupon made have borne ye same date, by reason whereof divers of ye kings Leig people having such offices, farmes, or other things of ye gift or grant of ye king by his gracious letters Patents thereof to them long time before duely made, by such subtile Imaginations of such antedates desired by such petitions of such offices, fearmes, or other things: often have been amoved, & put out & expelled against right, good contience & reason, our s<sup>d</sup>. Lord ye king, willing to putt out such imaginations, by ye advice of ye Lords Spirituall & temporall afores and at the especiall request of ye s<sup>d</sup>. commons hath ordained by authority of the same Parliment, That of every warrant hereafter sent by ye same our lord the king or his heires, to ye Chansellor of England for ye time being, The day of ye delivery of ye same to ye Chansellor, shall be entered of Records in ye Chansery and yt ye Chansellor doe cause letters patents to be made upon ye same warrant bearing date ye day of ye said delivery in ye chaunsery and not before in any wise & if any letters patents be from henceforth made to the contrary they shall be void, frustrated & holden for none. Now, Conecticut Charter bearing date ye day of ye Sealing, & not ye day of ye delivery of ye kings warrant to ye Chansery is void frustrated: & to be holden for none, Coneticut may be supposed to answer yt ye end of ye s<sup>d</sup>. Statute is acspressed to put out all Imaginations of fraudulent antedates, by which such s<sup>d</sup>. patents, put out the former true & lawfull patents, which a patent of date at ye day of sealing cannot be imagined to doe, being of ye Latest date, & can doe no wrong to any former date of any grant, therefore not such a date s<sup>d</sup>. nor intended in ye s<sup>d</sup>. Statute

of ye same (not advertizeing his grace) of his former grants whereby ye s<sup>d</sup>. patentees have been avoided, & put from ye advantage of their s<sup>d</sup>. former grants & patents, contrary to ye intent & grant of our Sovaraigne lord, wherefore it ordained established & enacted by our s<sup>d</sup>. Sovaigne lord ye lords spirit-uall & temporall: & ye Commons in this present Parliment asembled & by authority of ye same that if any person or persons from henceforth doe make suit to ye kings highness for any lands tenements offices or any other things (so) by his grace granted or hereafter to be granted to any person or persons (duering his pleasure) (The s<sup>d</sup>. first patent then being in life) That he doe express in his s<sup>d</sup>. bill of petition or patent, The tenour of ye former patent—And yt ye king then hath then determined his pleasure against ye s<sup>d</sup>. first patentee, or els ye second letters patents of any of ye premises to any person hereafter to be granted to be void & of no effect Therefore inasmuch as ye s<sup>d</sup>. Charters within the bounds of Conecticut Charter Maryland & Vergina obtained & not expressed in their petition or patent therefore by the s<sup>d</sup>. Statute null & void Conetticutt may be supposed to answer, that ye s<sup>d</sup>. Statute Extends only to patents at will & pleasure, & not to patents & patentees & their successors Therefore extends not to Coneticutt charter to them and their successors

And, yt patents only at will & pleasure are intended (in ye s<sup>d</sup>. Statute) appeares by yt which is s<sup>d</sup>. shall be expresed viz that the king hath determined his pleasure which cannot be of a patent to patenttees & their successors to have perpetuall succession (except voided by due form of law) which s<sup>d</sup>.) ye kings pleasure determines not

2ly. Supposed they will Say, That none can Certainly prove, that their bounds of patent doth comprehend ye s<sup>d</sup>. Maryland & Vergina or either of them

3ly, That they never soe intended, but have agreed & confirmed their bounds by the Duke of Yorke's patent & therefore cannot be construed to intend ye other two &c

4ly they have committed noe trespass nor force against ye afores<sup>d</sup>. Patent therefore deserve noe punishment

5ly If they had, noe complaint is made against them, nor Road Island ther selesetor to any suit in their behalfe therefore coneticutt patent by ye s<sup>d</sup>. Statute is not made void—Supposed Road Island may say, That suppose (& but suppose) that they had noe Charter yett have ye Jurisdiction of ye s<sup>d</sup>. bounds by an authority of ye Commitioners (vizt) Coronall Chartwrite Sr. Robertt Carr & Esquir Maverick Therefore, coneticutt patent (to ye s<sup>d</sup> bounds) void—Suppose Coneticutt will answer, that another patent may possibly be granted of ye same (by information, yett first patent according to law) (by ye law) will stand (if not otherwise lawfully void—Road Island supposed to say, That coneticutt Patent was condemned (as to ye s<sup>d</sup>. bounds) by ye s<sup>d</sup>. Sr Roertt Carr Colonel Chartwrite & Esquire Maverick*—Coneticutt supposed to say, That they had no triall by their peers

2ly all acts of ye s<sup>d</sup>. Commitioners (That were athentick) were to have The authority of Colonell Nicholas thereto, but had not, therefore not authentick &c s<sup>d</sup>. supposed Act

2ly upon that ground of arbitration Major Athertons partnors had liberty to be of Coneticutt Jurisdiction, & doe Choose it, but Road Island who (by their agent) had power with him (on there parts) by which pretents they obtained there late patent

* The three Royal Commissioners arrived in Rhode Island in March, 1665, and after examining the question decided that the Narragansett Country extended as far west as the Pawcatuck river, and ordered that the Rhode Island officials should serve as magistrates throughout the province. They also declared that all grants of land made at Misquamicuck, either by Massachusetts or by "that usurped authority called the United Colonies," were void. (R. I. Hist. Soc. Coll., iii: 179-182, 262.)

yett denied there premises forcing (as much as they can) ye Inhabitants thereon to submit to them, & would not on there parte, keep ye promes they made. but would have Coneticutt loose there bounds, by pretense of promes by arbitration, which they made not, and all for ye maintaining ye vertue & force of there patent (so obtained) by there pretended promes of Road Island, which they keep not wth. conetticutt

3ly, as to the Ingagement (A by-law) not Corresponding with ye law of England, [noe man therefore thereby to suffer, nor none to inflict such a punishment for breach of promes (if ye promes had been lawfull) (but is not) as for a falce oath, & yet Road Island pretend such a power, which ye law of England nor judges there have not, therefore usurped

4ly the Inhabitants of Narrigansett first freely choose to be of Coneticut *

5ly the true partnors of Major Atherton (Generall) Never did submit 'to Road Island which were they men excepted in ye arbitration which road Island (by their agent) assented to & promised their choice as affores<sup>d</sup>. yet &c

Road Island supposed to say, that ye kings authority hath subjected them, & therefore within ye s<sup>d</sup>. bound they cannot relinquish their obedience to ye kings Majestys laws & ye s<sup>d</sup>. authority by ye king is to stand & be obeied, and other grant to Conetticut ye Contrary notwithstanding (as road Island Charter saith Coneticutt may be supposed to answer that ye s<sup>d</sup>. nonabstante) (regularly) will not Invalve Coneticut grant, for could it, then all grants to grantees & there successors could not be aperpetuated estate, & yett in such said grants & in Coneticutt grant s<sup>d</sup>. yt they shall & may have perpetuall succession, which s<sup>d</sup>. words granted, It might be invaled by the fores<sup>d</sup>. (nonabstanti) then ye first grant hath no other Effort, then a grant at will & pleasure and yt ye s<sup>d</sup>. Grant

* This was in accordance with the third provision of the Winthrop-Clarke agreement of 7 April, 1663, which allowed the Narragansett proprietors to choose to which Colony they would belong. (R. I. Col. Rec., i: 518.)

shall to coneticutt (saieth) That ye s<sup>d</sup>. Grant shall be most favourably construed, for ye best behove & most favourable for ye Governor & Company of conetticut, yea & such is ye Common law of England to grantees, That they shall have ye most favourable Construction yea, & very many of ye Statute laws of England, have (so) confirmed, ye kings grantees as by the 34 & 5 of H 8,21 will appear and not with Standing the misresitall or non Resiteall of some parts of ye places or lands &c yet according to ye most favourable constitution confirmed to ye s<sup>d</sup>. grantees, & many more Statutes to ye same effect, and all according to ye common law of England, & when it hath so happened yt by pretence of publique good & importunity, after letters patents have been obtained, to avoid first letters patents (though but at will & pleasure) yett a law provided for a remedy 6 H 8. 15 before resited. Road Island may be supposed to say that in ye said Statute it is said, ye king was not advertised by the latter Patentee of his first Grant, but ye king fully informed by Road Island agent, of Conetticuts grant seruptiously obtained, & therefore Road Island Grant good, & ye said (nonabstanti) of full force Suppose connetticut may answer, that ye king was by Road Island agent, much Importuned, but not Rightly informed for, first conetticut had there then (as to the Matter of arbitration) noe agent

2ly Road Island agent used ye arbitration but in part (only to make way) for his owne grant, but not ye other part of it into his charter (vizt) that Major Athertons partnors might choose to which Jurisdiction they would pertaine, & so seruptiously got a supposed advantage, of a supposed conetticut agent, and a supposed grant, &c.

3ly The king was not rightly informed, (as to Road Island first grant) (as being not granted by ye king) but by an ordinance of ye Lords & Commones assembled in parliment, 1643, then by Commitee ye s<sup>d</sup>. first first Road Island grant, to which ye Royall asent was not, & therefore, by ye 13 king Charles ye 2 & 15 Statute it is said void all orders & ordinances of both or either houses of parliment to which ye royall asent was not

were in theyr first creation & makeing null & void & so shall Remaine therefore by ye s<sup>d</sup>. act ye s<sup>d</sup>. Charter, none, of which the kings was not advertised

4ly the s<sup>d</sup>. (nonabstanti) will witnes (& therefore Road Island agent) that ye s<sup>d</sup>. bounds are granted by Conetticut patent was to Conetticut &c, then cannot be made void & null (ye said Conetticut Charter) by Road Island charter) in any ye s<sup>d</sup>. bounds of conetticut, first, because Conetticut patent was, first

2ly it hath not been lost any part of it by due forme of Law nor there peers

3ly, The s<sup>d</sup>. Grant is a good & lawfull Grant and not against any law of England and as to yt Road Island before is supposed to say, that they cannot relinquish obedience &c to ye authority of their grant, to yt Conetticut may be supposed to answer that Road Island may (more Safely) Relinquish ye whole Bounds then clame or exercise Jurisdiction of, or any of it as appeares by ye 21 of King James third Statute in these words &c. all Monopolis and dispensations wth. penall Statuts Shall be void fforasmuch as your most exselent Majesty, In your Royall judgement & of your blessed disposition to ye weall & quiett of your Subjects, did in the year of our Lord God 1610 publish in print to ye whole Realm & to all posterity, that all grants & Monopolis & of ye benefitt of penall Laws or of power to dispence with ye law, or to compound for ye forfiture are contrary to your Majesties lawes which your Majesties declaration is truly consonant & agreeable to ye antient & fundamentall laws of this our realme. And whereas your Majesty was further graciously pleased expresly to command that no suite should presume to move your Majesty for matters of yt nature yett never ye les upon misinformation & Untrue pretences, of Publique good, many such grants have been unduely obtained & unlawfully put in execution, to ye great grevance inconvenience of your Majestys Subjects contrary to your Majesties blessed intention so published as afores<sup>d</sup>. for avoiding whereof, and preventing the like to come

May it please your excellent Majesty at ye humble suit of the lords Spirituall & temporall and ye Commons In this present parliment assembled, that it may be declared & Enacted, by authority of these present parliment, That all monepolicies & all comitions Grants licenses Charters, & letters patents hereafter made or grantid: And hereafter to be made or granted To any person or persons Bodies pollatick or corporate whatsoever of or for the sole buying, Selling, makeing, workeing, or using of any thing within this realme or ye dominions of Walles or of any other menopolies or all power or fauculty to dispence with any other or to give licence or toleration to doe, use or exersise anything against ye tenour or purporte of any law or Statute or to give or make any warrant for any such dissipation, licence or Toleration to be had or made, or to be agreed or compound with any others for any penallty or forfeitures limited by any Statute (or of any grant or promis of ye of ye benefitt profett or comodity of any forfeiture penalty or Sum of money That is or shall be due by any Statute (before Judgment thereupon had) and all proclamations Inhabitations restraints, warrants of assistants & all other matters & things whatsoever any way tending to Instruction erecting strengthening furthering or Countenancing of ye same or any of them, are alltogether contrary to ye laws of this Realme & soe are, & shall be utterly void, & of none effect, & in no wise to be put in use or examination

And be it further declared & Enacted by authority aforesaid that all monopolies & all such comitions, Granted, licences, Charters, letters, patents, proclamations, Inhibitions, Restraintes, warrants of assistants, & all other matters & things tending as afores<sup>d</sup> & ye force & Validity of them & of every of them ought to be & shall be for ever hereafter, examined heard, Tryed and determined, by & according to the common lawes of this realme, and (not otherwise)

* While in London as agent for the Colony, Clarke was obliged to borrow £140 from Richard Deane, giving him a mortgage on a house and land in Newport. The Assembly, 4 September, 1666 (R. I. Col. Rec., ii: 175), voted to assume this mortgage, so that Clarke should not be dispossessed of his home, and the money was ordered to be sent to London. In April, 1672, a committee was appointed to draw up letters of gratitude to Mr. Deane. (R. I. Col. Rec., ii: 445.) In October, 1680, Deane was still unpaid, and the opponents of Harris in the Assembly protested against repaying the latter £10 which he had sent to Deane on behalf of the colony. (*R. I. Col. *For writing this document, Harris was brought before the Court at Newport, on 24 February, 1672, and committed to prison without bail, upon the charge of speaking and writing against the Charter. (R. I. Col. Rec., ii: 429.) In April the Assembly renewed the tax for Clarke, refused to receive a paper from Harris, and passed a high handed act ordering that all who opposed any rate should be bound over to the Court of Trials for "high contempt and sedition." (Idem, ii: 435-439.) In the following month there came a great political upheaval. The moderate Quaker party combined with the pro-Connecticut element in Narragansett and effected an almost complete change of officers. The new Assembly immediately proceeded to undo the work of their predecessors, repealing the rate for Clarke and the sedition act and writing a conciliatory letter to Connecticut. (Idem, ii: 450-461.) The spirited protests, however, sent in by the people of Warwick and by others prevented this re-

HARRIS TO SHEPPARD, 26 APRIL, 1675.

Addressed : ffor his worthy ffriend Mr. ffleetwood Shephard *
at his lodging in Privie Garden

Worthy Sr.

My very hearty thanks: for your great kindnes, to me a stranger, but your generous noble nature and dispoztion, takes ocaztion by my defeat of Justice, to manyfest your self a louer ther of: & a delight to right wrongs, I doubt not, but you will: not with standing such as these croude in vpon you: take an opertunity to read, and conider what weight, is in the wrongs I complayne of, And in the reasons I render, praying: & hopeing, vpon y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> ground remedy, I haue suffered great & long wrong, but can finde noe efectuall remedy (in new England) thoughe true it is, I haue had a vindecation of my right & my partnors, both by arbytration: & law (long since) but can get noe execution: of the Judment, the forca-ble enterors and detaynors haue soe confederated with others, theyr adherents, partnors: in interest, and kindered, that the inhabytantes are taken (by both sydes) as not fit to Judg (in y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> Collony) nor can we get the former Judgment executed, being by force of armes openly rezisted, And our aduersa-ryes, pretend, that they rezist (and say) (they will) to death, vntill they haue had a tryall (as they pretend) acording as the Kings Commitionors promised them, when they came back from y<sup>e</sup> eastward of Newengland, but came not all back, and now all dead, soe they keep our land by force, and vs out, and

* Sir Fleetwood Sheppard (1634-1698) was a popular and influential attaché of the court of Charles II, into which he was introduced about 1664 by Lord Buckhurst, later Earl of Dorset, whose mistress, Eleanor (Nell) Gwyn he came to know so well that he afterwards served her as steward, a post he resigned to become tutor to her son, Charles Beauclerk, the son of Charles II. It is evident that he was in a position to advance Harris's business materially.

seek not the s<sup>d</sup> tryall, And we (if we euer obtayne it) are forced to come three thousand mile, in y<sup>e</sup> euening of aige, to seek a remedy, finding none other wayes, and though, our aduersaryes pretend, to such a title, seek not to proue it, And therefore, I am forced to come, and be soe troublesome to the king: by long petitions, and to my friends to obtayne an opportunity to haue them heard, which is most contrary to my disposition, to be soe trouble some for small matters, but this, (thoughe my mite) is all my right wronged & lost vpon my aduersaryes groundes of clayme, If they get any, we lose all; Sr. you may think it to be straing boldnes: to enter on, or detayne other mens lands, And soe it is, but stranger, to enter as I heard, one norton lately did, &c. but if doubt arise: whether such a thing be, as complayned of, I haue some papers may moue som credet ther of, And can any man immagin, I would run such Jeopardy: to come soe far by sea, or take such paynes, or vndergoe such Charge, & trouble, not only my self, but my friends, then which (if I knew how to help it) noe thing in y<sup>e</sup> world more contrary to my disposition, then to be soe trouble some, nor neuer goe I to law, for fiae, or ten pound, or such like matters, nor neuer was I arested, but for a supposed high treason against Oliuer Cromwell,* &c. vntill of late fallcly indicted by my aduersaryes, but found not guilty by the Country: And arested by my s<sup>d</sup> aduersaryes, and when they haue done it, apear not to it, nor did I euer arest any man (but first, I offered to him, & them, arbytration,) but least it should be thought, y<sup>t</sup> I am contentious, for all y<sup>e</sup> fore sd, I say, this I pray, a proof, That if, the kings Majesty will be but pleased: to grant my petition, I pray it then vpon these groundes, to be of noe force, nor put in execution (viz<sup>t</sup>) If we haue not had a uerdict, & Judgment, and execution granted, & by them rezisted, many years. HARRIS: DRAFT OF COMMISSION FOR COURT TO TRY HIS CASE, 26 APRIL, 1675.

Charles The Second By the Grace of God of England Scotland France & Ireland King Defender of the fayth
Our Trusty and well beloued: John Winthrop Esquire, Gouvernor of our Collony of Conecticot, John Leueret Esquire: Gouvernor of our Collony of Massacusets, Josia Winslow Esquire: Gouvernor of our Collony of Newplimoth, And William Codington Esquir: Gouvernor of our Collony of Rhode Island and Prouedence Plantations &c, all in our Dominions of New England, we greet you well.

Know ye, That our will and pleasure is: to doe equall & euen iustice, to all our subiectes: neer and afar of, And we haueing receiued a complaynt: from one William Harris, of Patuxet & Prouidence of the Collony of Rhode Island &c, That thoughte he: & his partnors: wear the first our subiectes that purchased landes, and of the moste superior Indeans, in that part of the narroganset bay: & country, and all moste forty years since, and euer since ther in habited, and that after some long space of time: he and his partnors were molested by some of prouidence, but by Joynt arbytration: the sayd landes of Patuxet: Wear awarded his and his partnors landes. And after that, by an arbytration: to which our Collonyes of Massatusets: & Rhode Island &c consented, for y<sup>e</sup> ending defferences of claime to the sayd landes of Patuxet, And that two arbitrators came from Massatusets, and two from Rhode Island, and all foure awarding: the sayd landes: to be the right of the men of Patuxet afore sayd.

And the sayd complaynant sayth, they, haue our grant of the sayd landes: perticularly nomenated vnder our great seal: in our patent to Rhode Island &c.

And that yet not with standing: Forceable entryes ar made into theyr sayd landes, by diuers of the inhabitantes of the Towne of Warwick: ther next adioyne ing, And sayth, some of y<sup>e</sup> sd entryes haue bin made: about twelue years since, And that against some of y<sup>e</sup> sd enterors: he & his partnors haue [     ]y years since) had a uerdict, and a Judgment of court, againste one John Harrud: [     ] those that holde with hime, who by force of armes, openly long since, and yet doe, Reziste the execution. and that y<sup>e</sup> sd John Harrud, & those y<sup>t</sup> holde by force with him, pretend, they soe hold: & Resist execution, as being refered (the sd John Harrud sayth) by the collony of Rhod Island: to our Commitionors, when they wear in New: England: for a finall end of the sd defferences, and our sd comitionors saying, they had our more weightty matters in hand, but when they returned they would end it, but returned not, and therfore y<sup>e</sup> sayde forceable detaynors pretend, that the sd defference is yet before vs depending: for a fineall Judgment, but the sayd complaynant sayth, that our court: of our Collony of Rhod Island, seeing our commitionors wear gon, and had noe opertunety to end that defference, commanded an execution of the former Judgment, which the sayd detaynors Resist. Allsoe, the sd complaynant sayth, that two partyes: out of our Collony of Massatusets haue entered: on some of his & his partnors landes, &c, though, our sayd Collony of Massatusets larger: then all the reste of our fore sd collonyes (viz<sup>t</sup>) one Captayne Hubbard, and a party with him: of the sd collony, And diuers persons with him: of our Collony of Newplimoth allsoe, And one John Towers, and a party with him: of our Collony of Massatusets.

And one William Randall, & a party with him: some of them of our Collony of Newplimoth: whoe pretend title by purchase of Indeans* & haue entered, and (some of them)

* Roger Williams, in a list of sixteen claimants to the lands of the Narragansetts, mentions "9. Capt: Hubbard & some others of Hingham & Rehoboth by purchase from y<sup>e</sup> Indians. 10. John Tours of Hingham by three purchases from Indians. . . . 13. Randall of Scituate & White of Taunton & others by purchase from Indians." (Prov. Rec., xv: 164.)

aliened : & voyded, wher, our writs of Rhod Island runes not, and wher the complaynant sayth : he is prohibited to sue : by our collony of Rhode Island : by a law, vpon y<sup>e</sup> forfeiture of y<sup>e</sup> landes sued for, or if he should sue : in any of our sd collonyes, (before sd) (prohibited to doe) yet, by them cannot optayne Restitution (by our patents to them) (not contayneing the sd land)

And further complayneth to vs, that diuers others : of the towne of Warwick, neer ther to adioyne ing, And of the Towne of prouidence : neer ther to adioyneing on both sides : of Patuxet, haue under pretence of later purchases : pretended title to some of the landes of patuxet, who for theyr pretended interest, make theyr partyes : & adherents, throughe out our Collony of Rhode Island, and by theyr kindered : & abeters : to byas the inhabytance, soe, that if execution of y<sup>e</sup> former Judgment : could be optayned : which hither to could not, nor like to be, yet, among soe few people, (as are sd to be) in our sd collony, and kindered, & interest : soe generally : runing, & lying betweene the sayd parttyes, & in the sayd defferences : & claimes, that an impartiall Jury : cannot (lightly) be had : nor founde there.

Haueing heard : so great grieueance, soe long sustayned : & borne, out of our Fatherly care : & princely pitty, could not but prouide a mean, to inquire of the truth, and as it may be found : Redres the wrong, supposeing, soe long a jurny (in y<sup>e</sup> euening of aige) would not be taken, but by supposeing great wrong, and like need of Relief therin. and we being uery desireous : that our Subiectes (not only neer) (but afar of allsoe) should liue in safty of theyr landes : and goodes, as well as theyr liues.

Therefore, of our Espetiall grace : princly pitty, fathery care & compation, loue to Justice, & y<sup>e</sup> due adminestration ther of, Our Royall will and pleasure is, And here by we doe prouide, Constitute, ordayne, apoynt, Authourise : and Require, That all : & euery, of our constitutions, orders, & apoyntments, herein : & hereby, (after, to be giuen : & granted) shall firmly, and fully, be obserued, kept : done : & performed, by all persons, herein named, or to be named, herein following, or by vertue here of, shall be named or apoynted.

And : our Royall will and pleasure is, for y<sup>e</sup> ending of all : and euery y<sup>e</sup> sayd differences, betweene all : and euery y<sup>e</sup> sd persons (as need shall require) expressed : or implied, to be of the sd deffering parttyes, or either of them, To prouid, constitut, ordayne, apoynt, Authourise, and Requir, a moste Impartiall court : & Jury, with full power, and authoureyty, in such maner & form, as here in after to be expressed : or implied : To inquire hear & determine, all differences, and Issues to be ioyned.

And our will and pleasure is, And we doe by these presents prouide, constitut, ordayne, apoynt, authourise : & require, our trusty & well beloued : Gouvernor of our Collony of conecticot, that now is : or may be for y<sup>e</sup> time being ; who may best know (in our sayd collony) the moste worthy, meet, and fittest quallefyed men, to doe us seruice, & theyr neighbours Justice, That he name : and apoynt : one of our sayd Collony, of the moste Juditious, worthy, unconcerned, an impartiall man there, to be one of our sd court (to be) to inquire here & determine (as further to be expressed) And that our sd Gouvernor : giue to such sd man an oath : as usethe to be giuen in such case, And that he soe apoynted take the same.

And that our trusty & well beloued : our Gouvernor of our Collony of Massatusets, that now is : or for the time being, who may best know (in our sd collony) the moste worthy, meet men, & fittest quallefyed : to doe us seruice : & theyr neighbors Justice, That he name : & apoynt one of our sayd collony, of y<sup>e</sup> moste Juditious, worthy, unconcerned, an impartiall man there, to be one of our sd court (to be) to inquire hear & determine (as further to be expressed) And that our sd Gouvernor, giue to such sd man an oath, as vseth to be giuen in such sd case, And that he soe apoynted take the same.

And that our trusty & well beloued : our Gouvernor of our collony of Newplimoth, That now is : or for the time being, who may best know (In our sd collony) The moste worthy : meet men, & fittest quallefyed, to doe us seruice, and theyr

neighbours Justice, That he name : & Apoynt, one of our sd collony, of y<sup>e</sup> moste Juditious, worthy, unconcerned, an impartiall man ther, to be one of our sd court (to be) To inquire hear & determine (as further to be expressed) And that our sd Gouvernor : giue to such sd man an oath : as useth to be giuen : in such case, And that he soe apoynted take the same. And that our trusty and well beloued : our Gouvernor of our Collony of Rhode Island & Prouidence Plantations, &c, for the time being, who may best know (in our sd collony) the most worthy, meet men : & fittest quallefyed, to doe us seruice, & theyr Neighbours Justice, That he name : & apoynt, one of our sd collony : of y<sup>e</sup> moste Juditious, worthy, unconcerned, an impartiall man there, (to be) one of our sd court, to be, to inquire hear and determine, as further to be expressed, And that our sd Gouvernor, giue either an oath : or an Ingaigement : to such sayd man, according as is used : in such sd case : in our sd collony, and as by our patent : we haue endulged them, And that he soe apoynted : take the same oath or ingaigement. But for as much : as mortallety, sicknes, and diuers in-firmityes, incident to men, may Impead : either of our sd Gouvernors : soe as not to be able to performe, according as by these presentes is : & is to be prouided, & Required : with the moste conuenyent speede,

Therefore, our will and pleasure is, And by these presents provide, constitut, ordayne, apoynt, Authorise : & require, That if it should soe come to pas : that any : or either : of our foure fore sd Gouvernors, for the time being, be at any time hindered : or disabled, soe, as cannot : & doe not performe & doe, as by these presents : is, & is to be Required, that then : in all : & euery such case : or cases, each of our Deputy Gouvernors : in our sd collonyes, for y<sup>e</sup> time being Respectiuely : shall haue, and haue : power & Authoureyty, and required here by, to doe & performe, all, or any of those thinges, our sd Gouvernors : or any, or any of them : are, or are to be, here in : by these presents required to doe, and shall be of like force, and efecte : to all intents what soeuer.

And for as much as like hinderances : may impead : such, or some of such, as may be : of our court (to be) to inquire here and determine y<sup>e</sup> fore sd defferences, and the more like : by reason of distance of places, and yet : to come to gether to one place, And we being willing : to provide Remedyes ; against all hinderances.

Our will & pleasure is, and by these presents provide, constitute, ordayne, apoynt, Authourise, & require. That if any : or either : of our sd court (to be chosen) by any means hapen to be hindered, soe, as at y<sup>e</sup> sd court (to be) ther apear but three of the foure (to be apoynted) that then, our sd three : shall be, our lawfull court, to all intents herein : by these presents. And y<sup>t</sup> two of y<sup>e</sup> three agreeing, in any matter or thing, as to proceedings : in our sd court, about any matter : pertayn ing to theyr inquireing hereing & determineing, as to y<sup>e</sup> sd defferences, or in Judgment, or Judgments ther of, or ther about, or in any matter or thing what soeuer, pertayneing to a court to hear & determine, to doe, two, of y<sup>e</sup> sd three, shall haue full authourey : & power, of our sd court (to be) and to giue a valled : & lawfull Judgment, or Judgments, vpon y<sup>e</sup> verdict : or uerdicts to be brought in, when brought in, by y<sup>e</sup> Jurye or Juryes, herein : & here by, (after to be apoynted) And for as much as y<sup>e</sup> parttyes concerned in the sd defferences (as is complayned) some times inhabit : or are, in three of our sd collonyes at y<sup>e</sup> least, and supposed, may shun appearance : at our sd court (to be) and as Issues, may be founde by the Jury : or Juryes, Judgments giuen, and costes and damages awarded, some may flee from sumons, atachments, & executions, out of, or into, any of our sd collonyes (if not provided against)

Therefore, our will and pleasure is, And by these presents provide, constitut, ordayne, apoynt, Authourise, & Require, That upon complaynt, by any of the persons concerned, in the fore sd defferences, to any one of the foure fore sd (to be apoynted) (to be of our court) he, or any of them, shall haue by these presentes Authourey : & power, to giue out sumons, & shall giue out sumons, into any of our foure fore sd collonyes, Requireing him : or any of them : in our name to make his or theyr apearance: at our sd court, to be, &c. And like wise, as need shall require, to send out atachment, or atachmentes, of persons, goodes, cattell, or chattells into any: of our foure fore sd collonyes, And to constitut an officer to execute ye same, And to imprison, any such person: or persons, that doth not apear vpon sumons, nor will not giue security for his or theyr apearance, as the case requireth, in any of our Goalles in either of our sd collonyes, untill y<sup>e</sup> next our fore sd court to be, as soone as conueniently can be.

And least any of our fore sd court herein required (as afore sd to be) should be defeated, by death of any of them, or other debility, and soe the defference remayne: unended, our will & pleasure is, and we doe by these presents prouide, constitut, ordayne, apoynt, authourise, & require, That if any: or either: of the fore sd foure: to be apoynted, to be our sd court, after they are apoynted, or either of them, or after apoynted and sworne, or after apoynted & sworne or ingaged, to such sd place & trust doe dy, or fall into any utter in capassety to performe such sd trust, that then, in any, or either of our sd collonyes (wher such sd fayler happeneth to be) (and as often as need shall Require) our Gouvernors of our sd collonyes for y<sup>e</sup> time being, or either of them: shall name another: or others, or if either of them our sd Gouvernors be disabled as afore sd: then ther our Deputy Gouvernor shall name another, or others: of our sd collony: or collonyes, of the moste Juditious, worthy, meet, & fittest quallefyed man, or men ther, and shall giue an oath to him, or them, as afore sayd, and, that he & they, take the same, And that our Gouvernor of Rhode Island, &c, for the time being, wher if: and as often ther: as such fayler happeneth to be, shall name & apoynt another ther, of the most Juditious, worthy, meet, fittest quallefyed, unconcerned, unbyased man. And shall giue him his oath: or ingagement: acording to our patent to them, &c. And which sd man: or men, shall take the same.

And that all thinges: may be done with y<sup>e</sup> moste equity, and (wher it may be) with ease all soe, And for y<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> sd landes lyes some what equally distant: from each Collony (or partes ther of) And some certayne place in conuenient time : is needfull to be knowne with speed, to sumon persons concerned, to appear at (uiz<sup>t</sup>) the deffering parttyes far remot from each other, witnesses, and Jurors allsoe, And yet, moste meet : our sd court (to be) apoynt y<sup>e</sup> sd place,

And therfore, our will & pleasure is, that our sd court : with all conuenient speed : after they are nomenated & as afore sd, That they nomenat & apoynt the place, where they intend to hold our sd court (to be) that persons, timely, may thither be sumoned, ther concerned.

And as we haue prouided a mean for, giuen authoureyty to, and required of, our Juditious court (to be) soe we intend to prouid a prudent, impartiall Jury, to try the Issues, to be ioyned : betweene the proprietors of Patuxet, and all parttyes : & persons, concerning title to, and trespas on, the sd land, and as neer as may be, that our subiectes, in our sd collonyes may see : we are willing they should inioye : like equall iustice, with our subiectes of our realm of England, and in like maner, and acording to the equity of proceedinges in law here, proceedinges there, should be, as to tryall of titles : to the sd landes of Patuxet. Therfore know, that our will & pleasure is and by these presentes prouide, constitute, ordayne, apoynt, authourise : and require, our trusty : and well beloued, our gouernor of conecticot for the time being, That he apoynt : how many, prudent, impartiall men, be taken out of conecticot collony, and how many out of massatusets collony, and like wise how many out of Newplimoth collony, and proportion as equally as may be, the number to be taken out of each, acording to the number in each, The whole number to be taken out of the sd three collonyes, to be fortty and eight prudent impartiall men. (but in the defferences between the sd patuxet men : and others of our collony of Rhode Island, as to title to, & trespas on, the sd land, they ther being growne : soe into partyes (as afore sd complayned) ther fore, noe Jurors ther to be taken, in the sayd case, except both partyes willingly consent, and : (to the persons if taken allsoe.) And when, our sd Gouernor of conecticot, hath nomenated the sd numbers, and made knowne y<sup>e</sup> same, to our Gouvernors of Massatucets, & newplimoth, (as by these presentes is required he shall) our will and pleasure is, and by these present prouid, constitut, ordayne, apoynt, Authourise, & require, That our sd trusty: and well beloued Gouvernors: for the time being, each of them, in our Respectiue colloynes, where they are gouernors, shall by name apoynt, each such sd number, of the moste prudent, unconcerned, impartiall, unbyased men, to make up the forty and eight. And that then, each deffering party, or theyr aturnyes: upon request: to the sd our Gouvernors, shall haue the knowledg of the names, of the sd forty and eight men, against any of which, they may haue theyr resonable challenges of fauor, at the discretion of the sayd Gouvernors, And soe many as challenged by y<sup>e</sup> parttyes & alowed, by our sd Gouvernors, or either of them, shall allsoe by them, be supplied, to resonable satisfaction of each party, or theyr aturnyes. And that then, each of our sd Gouvernors, shall take out of the sd number, soe many of the moste prudent, unconcerned, impartiall unbyased men, as acording to proportion set before: will make twelue, for a Jury to try the sd issues, out of each collony proportionably. And that noe meanes: may be used, to byas the sd twelue iurors, our sd Gouvernors shall conseale the name of the sd twelue, untill, uery neer the time of tryall, and then to be apoynted by our sd Gouvernors (the sd iurors) to be at the sd time & place (to be apoynted) as afore sd.

And our will & pleasure is, & by these presents doe further prouid, & ordayne, That our sd court (to be) doe see (if the parties cannot agree) what iust, & lawfull issue, or issues to ioine, that then, our sd court shall state, iust, lawfull, and honnest issues: betweene them, to be tryed by y<sup>e</sup> iury. And least some of the sd iurors, should fayle of apearance, by negligence. our sd court shall asses reasonable penalties, for any of theyr neglectes, And shall supply theyr roome: or roomes, by the moste impartiall men (that may be had,) & as neer as (may be) to the satisfaction of both parttyes. And further more to prouide, for the doing of equall iustice: & right betweene y<sup>e</sup> sd parttyes (viz<sup>t</sup>) Patuxet men : & all those within the collony of Rhode Island, &c, that deffer with them : as to title of landes, or trespas ther on, And concidering, we haue endulged the sd collony : with respect to theyr remotnes, and defferent understandings, to some of our proceedings in our Realm of England ; as other of our Subiectes in new england are, in some thinges (of like nature) and the lawes of the sd collony being acordingly, with respect to witnesses, as to tryalls of title of landes, & all other cases, and that ther (as the complaynant afore sd sayth) neuer lightly is vsed an oath, but insted ther of, an Ingagement : vpon y<sup>e</sup> penallty of periury to speake the truth, or suffer such penallty : as for fallce swearing, & acording to which, diuers testamonies haue bin taken, as to y<sup>e</sup> fore sd defferences, & without such form : & manor of witnessing, witnes to matters in y<sup>e</sup> sd collony, can selldome be had, for that but few ther, will take an oath (as we are informed) by which way of witnessing, acording to y<sup>e</sup> law & proceedings of our sd collony, neither of the sd parttyes, can be unequally delt with, for that themselues : haue bin ayding to, or enacting of, the sd lawes, (as the sd complaynant sayth) In concideration of the fore sd, our will & pleasure is, and by these presentes prouid for, constitut, ordayne, apoynt, authourise, & Require, That our sd court (to be) shall admit all parttyes in y<sup>e</sup> sd defferences, fayrly to plead, shew, & set forth theyr titles to the sd land, and by the lawes of our sd collony, to proue theyr sd titles (not being contrary to our lawes of our Realm of England) but agreeable to our patent, And that ye Jury shall proceed as to theyr verdictes, acording to our sd patent, within the boundes ther of, & ye lawes ther by, (and not contrary to our lawes of our Realme of England) as other iuries, in other our collonyes, giue theyr verdictes, acording to y<sup>e</sup> laws of such other our sd collonyes, And vpon y<sup>e</sup> uerdict, or uerdictes giuen in, by such sd iury, or iuries, in the sd case, our sd court shall acordingly : (agreeable to our lawes of our Realm of England) giue Judgment ther on, & grant out execution therof, & cause it to be executed, but, in easy maner (if not rezisted) but if rezisted : then our sd court shall haue, & hath power hereby, to giue authour-ety, and shall giue authourety, to an officer constituted by themselues, to rayes sufficient strength : at his discretion, in either of your foure fore sd collonyes : or all of them, And to imprison y<sup>e</sup> rezisters, in any, or either of our comon goalles, in our fore sd foure collonyes, & to proceed againste them, acording to our lawes, in such case prouided, And to put the person, or persones, in full possession, whose Right it is found to be, by such fore sd fayre tryall, verdict, & Judgment, and award iust costs & damages And for as much as Justice is the mayne matter hear in intended in all thinges here about to be acomplished & efected & therfore like needfull prouition to be made to acomplish y<sup>e</sup> same & considering y<sup>e</sup> distance of places & y<sup>e</sup> frayltyes incident to human nature & y<sup>e</sup> long dependance of y<sup>e</sup> fore sd defferences Therfore our will & pleasure is & by these presents prouide, constitut, ordayne apoynt, authourise, & require that if any of our fore sd court (to be) should fayle after chosen & apoynted, or after chosen apoynted & sworne, or after sworne or ingaged (as afore sd) or y<sup>t</sup> by some (as yet)

 unknowne neglect or hinderance in any one of our fore sd foure collonyes should happen not to be chosen any one of our fore sd court (to be) That then y<sup>e</sup> other three chosen as afore sd shall be our lawfull & sufficient court to hear & determine to all intents afore sd Or, if it should soe come to pas that all the fore sd Jurors : in any one : of our fore sd three collo-nyes (wher before apoynted the iurors to be taken) should by any (as yet) unknowne neglect, or any hindered, soe, as not apoynted to, nor doth not apear at our sd court (to be) That then, our fore sd court (to be) by these presents shall haue :
 & then haue : full power & authorety to nomenate, apoynt & require, and shall require, soe many worthy, prudent, indefferent unconcerned unbyased impartiall men for iurors, as shall make up y<sup>e</sup> sd number of twelue, to try y<sup>e</sup> sd issues (to be ioyned) as to y<sup>e</sup> fore sd defferences, in, or out of, any, or all, our fore sd three collonyes ; (or any out of the other fourth
 (as afore sd prouided) (by consent of y<sup>e</sup> deffering parttyes)
 And y<sup>t</sup> our sd court alow reasonable challenges (of fauor at theyr discretions) If any of them be challenged, (and by our court seene cause to allow it) then by our sd court y<sup>e</sup> iury to be made up, to reasonable satisfaction of y<sup>e</sup> partties (at our sd courtes discretion)

And y<sup>t</sup> our sd court shall giue oath to y<sup>e</sup> sd iurors by uertue of these presents, and y<sup>t</sup> they ther by shall take y<sup>e</sup> same, provided all soe, if any be taken for iurymen, by y<sup>e</sup> concent of y<sup>e</sup> deffering partties, out of y<sup>e</sup> collony of Rhode Island, &c, (as afore sd) then y<sup>e</sup> sd shall be sworne or ingaged by our sd court: according to our patent to our collony of Rhode Island, &c, and such sd iury shall be a lawfull iury to all intents by these presents whatsoever. And for as much as our court afore sd (intended) to redres y<sup>e</sup> wrong, should not be oppressed nor griued ther by, by whomesoeuer y<sup>e</sup> wrong be done, & founde by y<sup>e</sup> iury (to be) and iudgment giuen ther upon: shall pay to our sd court, or shall by uertue of these presents be distrayned, or taken by execution: of him, or them, founde y<sup>e</sup> ofending person, & persons: theyr goodes cattell, or chattells, to such uallue as shall amount to such sum: that each of y<sup>e</sup> foure of our sd court (to be) (and ther) shall haue the uallue of four shillings starling mony for each day, he, & they, are about y<sup>e</sup> sd matters to inquire hear & determine, from y<sup>e</sup> time he & they come from theyr homes, untill they be thither returned agayne (by vse all time)

And y<sup>t</sup> iustice & right may be done, to all men ther about, & noe man be oppressed by his neighbors faultes, nor bear the charg of an other mans wrong doeing, therefore, our will & pleasure is, & by these presents prouide constitut ordayne apoynt authourise & require, that our sd court (to be) shall set such sum: as shall be Just for y<sup>e</sup> Jury, & witnesses, considering theyr time: & trauell, and charge. And all other necessary coste, charg, & damag sustayned by any one: & euery one, in y<sup>e</sup> sd defferences, and againste whome y<sup>e</sup> verdict shall be founde: & y<sup>e</sup> Judgment be giuen, shall all y<sup>e</sup> costs charges & damages be payd, according to law & Justice, And that we may know, what wrong hath bin done, and what cause of com-

playnt, and y<sup>e</sup> redynes of our gouernors : & court afore sd (to be) to inquire of wrongs : & trespasses, & hear & determine, according to right law & Justice, as afore sd, Our will & pleasure is, & by these presents Require, that our fore sd Gouernors : & Court (to be) when y<sup>e</sup> sd defferences (as to y<sup>e</sup> mayne matter) hath bin inquired, heard, & determined, that then (in conuenient time) they send to us the tenor of y<sup>e</sup> same. HARRIS'S ACCOUNT OF NEW ENGLAND, 29 APRIL, 1675.

Endorsed:—An Account (taken frō Mr. Harris) of New England, Aprill 29, 1675.

New-England.

Aprill 29. 1675.

The Number of People there, Mr Harris sayes, he knowes not certainly, but judges y<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> number of men bearing Armes may amount to 7. or 8 thousand foot, and about 8. or 10. Troops of Horse, each Troop consisting of between 60. & 80 Horse.*

As to y<sup>e</sup> Number of ships, he sayes they build every yeare about Boston, Salem, and in y<sup>t</sup> Jurisdiction 12. ships between 40. and 80. Ton,† that he came over in a ship built

* This estimate was undoubtedly far more correct than that of 16,000 arm-bearing men, as given in the anonymous "observations" sent over to Randolph, 20 March, 1676, or than the extravagant computations of Cartwright in 1671 and Randolph in 1676. (See Palfrey, iii: 36; Hutchinson Collection of Papers, p. 485; Prince Soc. Pub., xxvi: 199.) Andros estimated in 1678 that there were in Connecticut about 3000 freemen able to bear arms, in Rhode Island 1000 or 1200, in Plymouth 1000 or 1500, and in Massachusetts 8000 or 10,000. (Idem, xxvi: 301.)

† The anonymous "observations" on New England of 20 March, 1676, (Prince Soc. Pub., xxvi: 199; Palfrey, iii: 303, who assigns the date 1673) assert that "there are 12 Ships of betweene 100 and 220 Tuns, 190 of betweene 20 and 100 Tuns, 440 Fisherboats, of about 6 Tuns each." Randolph writes to Coventry, 17 June, 1676, that "for these 7 last years Communibus Annis they have lanchd 20 Ships Some of 100 Tuns & some under;" and in his Report of 12 October, 1676, he says "There are built in and belong to that jurisdiction 30 Vessels from 100 to 250 Tuns, 200 from 50 to 100 Tuns, 200 from 30 to 50 Tuns, and 300 from 6 to 10 Tuns." (Hutchinson, Collection, p. 496.)

there of 200 Tuns, & carrying 14. Guns. The Fisher-boates he knows not y<sup>e</sup> number of, y<sup>e</sup> Fisheing Trade being more Easterly than where he lived, He sayes there are never fewer than 2. men in every boate, & generally 3. or 4. men. The greatest Fishing is about Puscatoa. Eastward frō Rhode Island Colony, where he lived. The Fishing is in Codd, Haddock, & Mackarel, w<sup>ch</sup>, he sayes, is very great, & is thence transported into y<sup>e</sup> West Indyas, as to Barbadoes, &c. to Spaine & y<sup>e</sup> Streights.

Iron-workes, he sayes, there are 3. or 4. but never heard that they cast any Guns there, though they have many in y<sup>e</sup> Country, where on y<sup>e</sup> sea-side he has seen some 3. yards & a halfe long. These Guns are most about Boston, in y<sup>e</sup> Fort whereof (wch is on y<sup>e</sup> Sea-side, & by wch all ships must passe) he has been told there are above 20. Guns, besides what are planted on y<sup>e</sup> Bulwarke neare y<sup>e</sup> Town. In these Iron-workes they formerly cast Iron pots to boyle meat in &c :

The Merchants, he sayes, seeme to be rich men, & their Howses as handsomely furnished, as most in London.* In Exchange of y<sup>e</sup> Fish, Pipestaves, Wooll, & some Tobacco, wch is exported thence, they have frō Spaine, Portugal, & y<sup>e</sup> Islands, Wines, & other y<sup>e</sup> Commodities of those Countryes. Their Wooll they carry to France, & bring thence linnen. To England they bring Beaver, Mouse & Deer-skins, Sugar & Logwood, & carry frō hence Cloath, Iron-wares, as Nailles, Locks &c. To Barbadoes they carry Horses, Beef, Pork, butter, Cheese, flower, Pease, biskett &c. & frō thence have Sugar & Indigo ; And when they trade to Jamaica, as they doe some times, with Provisions, they bring home pieces of 8/8, Spanish Plate, & Pigs of Silver. Their Money is of pretty good Silver, in y<sup>e</sup> middle of it is a Pine-tree (wth w<sup>ch</sup> the Country abounds, & of w<sup>ch</sup> they make Tarre & Pitch). The valuation of their Silver is but 3. or 4. sterling money, & a New-England shilling is but 9<sup>d</sup> sterling The Pieces usually currant are only, 2<sup>d</sup>, 3<sup>d</sup>, (4<sup>d</sup> they have none) 6<sup>d</sup>, & shillings.

With this Silver they are wholly supplied frō Jamaica.

The Howses in Boston, he sayes, are of Brick, & ordinary Stone, but most of Timber, some are 2. & y<sup>e</sup> most but 3. storyes high.* The Town it selfe is very large, & scituate upon a neck of Land, surrounded wth a great Salt-river, only to y<sup>e</sup> Land ward there is an Entrance into y<sup>e</sup> Towne of about 40 Perches large, over a low-salt marsh & w<sup>ch</sup> is sometimes over flown by y<sup>e</sup> Sea, & where they may cutt a River. They have 3. Meeting Howses, sett round wth Galleryes, & very full, Each Meeting-Howse is as large as an Ordinary Parish Church here. The Country-Howses are generally of Timber; in Rhode-Island y<sup>e</sup> Howses are very good, especially at a Town called Newport in y<sup>t</sup> Colony, w<sup>ch</sup> thrives very well, & where are more sheep than in any place in New-England,† y<sup>e</sup> Haven is very commodious, being situate just upon y<sup>e</sup> Sea, whereas y<sup>t</sup> of Boston is 2. or 3. leagues w<sup>thin</sup> y<sup>e</sup> Land, and is large enough for 100. ships.

* "Observations," as above: "No house in New England hath above 20 Rooms: Not 20 in Boston, which have above 10 Rooms each. About 1500 ffamilies in Boston. The worst Cottages in New England are lofted." Randolph in his Report says: "The town [of Boston] contains about 2000 houses, most built with tymber and covered with shingles of cedar, as are most of the houses in the country, some few are brick buildings and covered with tyles." See also Josselyn account of 1663 in his Two Voyages, p. 162; and that of the Commissioners in 1666 in Hutchinson Collection, p. 421.

† The Royal Commissioners reported in 1666 that in Rhode Island was "the best English grasse and most sheep, the ground very fruitfull, ewes bringing ordinarily two lambs." (Hutchinson Collection, p. 416.) William Brenton alone in 1673 owned over 1500 head of sheep (Austin Geneal. Dict., p. 254), and William Coddington was also a large sheep-raiser. (Mass. Hist. Soc. Coll., vi: 319, vii: 279.)

This Island is about 12. miles long, & 2. broad, & y<sup>e</sup> Garden of New-England. There is a good Harbour likewise in y<sup>e</sup> Jurisdiction of Connecticut, called New-London, but y<sup>e</sup> Town nor Trade are not as yet considerable, though very commodious.

Rivers, he sayes, he knowes none there that are navigable, but that of Connecticut, he not having seen Puscatoa, The Country is so well provided with Waters, that you can hardly passe a Mile, or two, w<sup>thout</sup> some River, Pond or Brooke.

The Islands, he knowes not y<sup>e</sup> certaine number of. In y<sup>e</sup> Jurisdiction of Rhode-Island is one Blocke-Island, w<sup>ch</sup> was first inhabited about 7. yeares agoe, there is excellent fishing for Codd round about it, only it wants a Harbour. The Colonyes of Plymouth, Connecticut & y<sup>e</sup> Mattatusets, are in a Confederacy or Union, by vertue of certaine Articles, but Rhode-Island is not, for w<sup>ch</sup> reason y<sup>e</sup> former are called y<sup>e</sup> United-Colonies.

The Governours are chosen by all y<sup>e</sup> Freemen. The present Governour of Boston, is one John Leverett, a resolute man, but much opposed by one Major Dennison; the Election is yearly, though he has been Governour these 3 yeares, ever since M<sup>r</sup> Bellingham dyed. The Governour of Connecticut-Colony is one John Winthrop Senior, a

* Randolph, in his Report, enters quite fully into the question of militia organization. The "observations" say that "not above three of their Military Men have ever been actual Soldiers, but many are such Soldiers as the Artillery men at London"—an evident reference to the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company of Boston, which still maintains the traditions of its two hundred and sixty-four years of service.

There is also a considerable Party in all y<sup>e</sup> Colonyes called Common Protestants, who in y<sup>e</sup> Mattachusetts are not permitted to beare any High Office, as Governour or Assistant, but may be Constables, but in Rhode-Island they enjoy y<sup>e</sup> same Priviledges as y<sup>e</sup> other Inhabitants. In y<sup>e</sup> Mattachusetts, at a Town called Cambridge, about 3. miles frō Boston, is a Colledge, where many Preachers, Physitians, & Indians (but no Lawyers) are bred.† The said Colledge has translated y<sup>e</sup> Bible into y<sup>e</sup> Indian language, And in y<sup>e</sup> Mattatusetts there are 3. or 4. Churches or Congregations (as they are called) of Indians, who are likewise called Praying Indians, & distinguished frō the others in Rhode-Island, who continue unconverted in their Paganisme.

† Similar descriptions of this college are in the Commissioners' Report of 1666 and in Randolph's Report of 1676. (Hutchinson Collection, pp. 421, 501.)

A Fencing Schoole there was formerly in y<sup>e</sup> Mattatusetts & Rhode Island, but whether there is any now M<sup>r</sup> Harris knowes not.*

Gameing is not allowed in y<sup>e</sup> Mattatusets.

As to Cloath, There are made there Linsey Woollseys, & others of Cotton & Wooll, & some all Sheeps-wooll, but y<sup>e</sup> better sort of Linnen is brought frō England. They have many Wool combers, Spin their Wool very fine, of w<sup>ch</sup> some make Tammyes, but for their own private use.

Oathes in Rhode Island Colony the Inhabitants, unlesse they please, take not any, (Quakers-there, as in England, peremptorily refuse thē.) only an Engagement (upon y<sup>e</sup> penalty of Perjury) to performe such Office, or to give true Testimony, w<sup>ch</sup> if they doe not, they suffer as if for false swearing. The forme of y<sup>e</sup> Engagement is this, You here promise to speake y<sup>e</sup> truth, or justly to performe such office, upon y<sup>e</sup> penalty of Perjury. The Oath of Allegiance is to y<sup>e</sup> effect of y<sup>t</sup> taken ordinarily in England, to be loyal & obed<sup>t</sup> to y<sup>e</sup> Kings Ma<sup>ty</sup> &c. but y<sup>e</sup> Oath of Supremacy, as to y<sup>e</sup> Kings being head of y<sup>e</sup> Church, differs frō y<sup>t</sup> w<sup>ch</sup> is administred in England.

*The "observations," as above, say: "There are no Musitians by Trade. One Dancing Schoole, was set up, but put downe. A Fencing Schoole is allowed." There is a close similarity between the heads of this report, of Randolph's Report, and of Harris's Account.

Endorsed by Andrew Harris :—A Coppie of William Harris Petitione to his Ma<sup>tie</sup>

To the Kinges most Excellent Ma<sup>tie</sup> The humble Petition of William Harris of New England humbly sheweth :

That wheras your Petitioner and twelve others neere forty yeares since purchased of the indian Princes a certaine parcell of land called Patuxet which they injoyed peaceably for severall yeares which though afterwarde claymed first by the Towne of Providence, and then by the English Collony of the Massachusets was still adjudged theirs, And that they might injoy the same more peaceably bounds were set therto, and some parts thereofe exchanged by Arbitrators as is recorded in y<sup>e</sup> Court of or Colloney of Rhode Island & Providence Plantations yet Notwithstandinge John Harrud and a party with him have forceably entered upon part of these landes (after your Petitioner and Partners had injoyed them above twenty yeares) upon pretence of purchasing the same of other Indians, and still houlds them agst verdickt, and judgement of the Court resistinge Execution, And not onely so, but in regard Patuxet boundes, and is neer unto severall Townes and Collonyes, Your Petitioner & his partners are in no small danger to bee deprived of their right by severall of them more especially some of y<sup>e</sup> Townes of Providence Warwicke and New Plimouth and two parties of the Massachusets Colloney,

Wherefore your Petitioner humbly prayes that your Ma<sup>ty</sup> would graciously please to Comaund the Governours of the four Collonyes & their deputies in New England to take care that speedy justice bee done your Petitioner and Partners by hearinge the Cause themselves, or apointinge such as are just and able men to heare the same, and together with an upright jury equally chosen out of the respective Collonyes to determine all differences concerninge these landes of Patuxet or what other way your Majestie shall in Your Princely wisdome

thinke meet that Justice bee done us,

And Your Petitioner shall ever pray &c *

HARRIS TO THE KING, 11 JUNE, 1675.

To The Kinges Moste Excellent Majesty moste humbly
Shewing

That your petitioner, William Harris, a weary traueeler for the space of allmoste forty years in the willdernes of new England, and one of the first Englishmen that purchased land of the moste Superior Indeans in the Narroganset Bay, and country, and inhabited ther wher and which (now is) part of the Kinges Majestyes Collony of Rhod Island &c, And your petitionor and his partnors (in the sayd land) (called patuxcet) of a long time inioyed the same in peace,

But in after time diuers persons and partyes some of the fore sayd collony, others of the massatusets collony, and likewise of Newplimoth Collony vnder pretence of other late purchases of Indeans, haue entered vpon our fore sayd landes:
Againste some of the sayd pretended purchasors your petitioner and his partnors haue had suites and arbytrations by which the sayd landes haue all wayes bin founde, Judged and awarded your petitionors and his partnors landes

* This petition was presented at a meeting of the King in Council on June 11 and referred to the committee for Plantations (Sainsbury, Calendar State Papers, Am. & W. I., 1675-76, no. 585). The committee met on August 4 and heard the Lords' report of William Harris's case
"all drawn up in a letter proper for his Majesty's signature, which his Majesty approved of, and ordered to be prepared by Mr. Sec. Williamson, and sent to the Governors in New England." (Minutes of the committee in Sainsbury, Calendar, etc., no. 631, 632.) The copy of this letter sent to Connecticut is printed in Conn. Col. Rec., ii: 586.

Yet the sayd pretended purchasors againste the sayde Judgements and awardest, Still continew to hold by force and subtilty that your petitionor and his partnors can optayne noe remedy; And some of them that enter by force of the massatusets and Newplimoth can and doe enter and voyd wher the Kinges writs of Rhod Island runes not, soe that by noe means can optayne remedy, but that our soe long Just rightes are like to be defeated, Your petitionor therfore prayeth, your moste Excellent Majesty, to grant power to some knowne, Just, wise men in New England to hear and determine all the sayd differences by a spetiall assise

HARRIS TO THE KING, 11 JUNE, 1675.

To The Kings Moste Excelent Majesty moste humbly
Shewing

That your petitionor A weary traoueller for the Space of almoste forty years In the wildernes of New England And one of the first six persons* that purchased land of the moste Superior Indeans in the Narroganset Bay and Country and inhabited there wher and which (now) Is part of The Kings Majestyes Collony of Rhode Island And prouidence plantations by patent from your maiesty which sayd land purchased &c is called patuxcet by the Indeans and English ther And in the Kings patent to the sayd Collony.

And your petitioner and his partnors possesed y<sup>e</sup> same in peace for many years vntill some neer dwellers vnder pretence of an after purchase of the Indeans molested vs But y<sup>e</sup> sayd defference being refered to Arbitration Joyntly. The award concluded y<sup>e</sup> sd land your petitionors & his partnors

Some years afterward some of our partnors subiected themselves & lands to the Jurisdiction of the Massatusets (wher of Boesten is y<sup>e</sup> chief Towne) And ther (by suit) demanded y<sup>e</sup> sd land &c, our Evedence of the same lands (being formerly committed to y<sup>e</sup> sd demandant to keep) part of the sayd Evedence was cut out : and peiced together on another paper,* But your petitioner being confident of his honnest cause & that his ino-cency would answer for him & that y<sup>e</sup> demandants fraud would not avayle went to Boesten wher by y<sup>e</sup> good prouidence of God And the honnesty of the then gouernor one Mr Dudley his plaine honnest dealing with y<sup>e</sup> demandant he confesed in y<sup>e</sup> sayd court your petitionors right in y<sup>e</sup> sayd land

Yet neuer the les after ward y<sup>e</sup> fore sayd demandants & Adherents Againe demanded y<sup>e</sup> sayd land by Arbitration To which sayd arbitratio The Collony of the Massatusets and the Collony of Rhode Island consented and two arbytrators came from Boesten & two from Rhode Island all foure awarding vs the sayd land Patuxcet afore said

Next the Inhabytance of a place called Warwick (hearing our sayd Evedence was cut & defaced) pretended to some of y<sup>e</sup> sayd land by a pretend purchas of y<sup>e</sup> same, after our purchase, & theyrs, not of the moste Superior Indeans, for y<sup>e</sup> ending of which sayd deference your petitioner & his partnors offered arbitration : to y<sup>e</sup> said claymors of Warwick, which they refused, and ther vpon : perceued, y<sup>t</sup> your petitonor & partnors intend to sue y<sup>e</sup> sayd of Warwick, They then put on a party of Warwick (y<sup>e</sup> chief actors among them fled out of the Jurisdiction of conecticot pursued ther for supposed crimes) To pretend a new late purchase of inferior Indeans, of some of your petionors & his partnors fore sayd land Lying neerer to vs and betweene y<sup>e</sup> former clayme of others of Warwick afore sayd takeing in ther by (by theyr sayd pretended boundes) your petitionors house wherin he dwells with his partnors lands with other lands of y<sup>e</sup> inhabitants of Prouidence which sayd pretenders (who clayme our sd lands) wear inhabitants in Warwick (The Boundes wher of) they of Warwick say Exstends twenty miles in length And y<sup>e</sup> Inhabytants of y<sup>e</sup> sayd Warwick but about half soe many as they of y<sup>e</sup> towne of Prouidence (nether)

your petitioner & his partnors perceiueing the great fraude intended by y<sup>e</sup> sayd pretended purchase of some of Warwick afore sayde did reason with them y<sup>t</sup> wear leaders in it to preuent y<sup>e</sup> mischiefes like to ensue

but they intending ther by to strengthen each otheyrs partyes forceable entries into & on your petitionors & his partnors lands would not Receiue our Reasons to preuent them But Entered by force in to our sayd lands thinking by theyr many parttyes And each for theyr pretended interest to encomber vs not only with many suits but by theyr Adherents & kindered soe to byas the Inhabitanteres that a competent Jury might not be had among soe few people our sd aduersaryes allso vseing to haue a great partty in & of y<sup>e</sup> court wher such sayd cases vse to be tryde And they haueing soe tired themselves Entered by force on your petitionors & his partnors lands with diuers persons in y<sup>e</sup> time of y<sup>e</sup> Court then ther about twelue years since

we then complayned of y<sup>e</sup> sayd force to y<sup>e</sup> Justices of peace of y<sup>e</sup> sd Courte who sent a cunstable & ayde to fetch y<sup>e</sup> sayd Enterors but the sayd Cunstable & ayde wear by y<sup>e</sup> sd Enterors rezisted & could not be, nor yet, are not remoued

But one of y<sup>e</sup> sd enterors one John Harrud of Warwick afore sd came to y<sup>e</sup> sd Justices of y<sup>e</sup> peace and gaue bond to answer the next court. But not withstanding by theyr partty in y<sup>e</sup> law makeing court had enacted a law That who euer comeplayned of a forcable entry he should first

proue his title to y<sup>e</sup> land before y<sup>e</sup> force should be tryed by which law (contrary to y<sup>e</sup> law of your Majestyes &c) (noe tenant for tearme of years could haue any remedy against a force committed against his possession) your petitioner & his partnors wear forced in such forme of law to proceed y<sup>t</sup> a demandant may be kept out of his possession about two years though his title to the land be good & his possession allsoe your petitioner seeing such delay, and vnder, (and long like to be) of soe great & griueous wrong, & damage: about Eleuen years since I came from New England then intending to supplicate to your Majesty but then your Majestyes Commitionors wear goeing to New England (by whome I hoped a remedy) (but founde none)

But while I was then in England * ther was in New England a tryall of the case And your petitioner for himself & partnors had a verdict against y<sup>e</sup> claime of y<sup>e</sup> sd Harrud Then y<sup>e</sup> sd Harrud (by vertue of a by law ther) without shewing any Reason Error or ataint optayned by the same to haue another hearing of y<sup>e</sup> sd case &c But when the time came to answer in y<sup>e</sup> said court The sd Harrud by his Aturny & partnors only pleading was to be excused from y<sup>e</sup> then tryall which y<sup>e</sup> court before he only desired to preuent Judgment & Execution

vpon which sd pleading (for allmoste a dayes time) he was alowed not to plead &c (as he desired) And then upon y<sup>e</sup> sd verdict your petitioner had a Judgment

But then the sayd Harrud (by his aturny & partnor one Edmund Caluerley petitioned to the Kings Majestyes commitionors then at Rhode Island in New England That they would hear & determine that mater But your Majestyes commitionors sayd That they had more vrgent maters of y<sup>e</sup> kings in hand but when they came back from y<sup>e</sup> Eastward they would hear & determine y<sup>e</sup> matter but they had not the oportunity And the sayd forcable enterors by force detayn the same the while I still continewed to petition to the court of Rhode Island &c That they would require a writ of Execution to Issue out, which did, But y<sup>e</sup> officer the seargant that was to Execute y<sup>e</sup> sd writ was and is soe adherent to the sd enterors & detaynors that they rezist y<sup>e</sup> Execution and y<sup>e</sup> said officer is soe willing to be rezisted that noe Execution is done And by reason of y<sup>e</sup> partnors kindered Abettors & adherents of y<sup>e</sup> sd Enterors detaynors & seargants we haue bin & yet are & like to be kept out of our soe often proued true title to our sd land & possession oures for y<sup>e</sup> space of allmoste forty years & kept out of y<sup>e</sup> moste part for twelue years

And concidering we cannot get Execution of one verdict & Judgment (in soe long time,) we cannot acspect If we should commence suits against soe many as haue entered they being very many knowne & it may be as many vnknowne that may (to encomber vs) yet enter, as others haue designed & done euer to liue soe long a time nor noe man to end them all (with such delayes)

All which, Entyers, or claims ar, of one party at prouidence, consisting of many persons, two partyes of y<sup>e</sup> Massatusets, consisting of diuers persons, on party of Newplimoth, of which are diuers persons, All (which sd parttyes) haue bin anemated by the bold rezistance of the kings writ, by y<sup>e</sup> fore sd of Warwick, forcable enterors & detaynors, & theyr succes, & our defeate. (as yet without remedy) O that it would please God, and the king to take notice of our opressions And of the humble supplication of your petitioner, our opressions ar, by the many pretended purchases & Entryes of y<sup>e</sup> partyes & theyr abeters ayders kindered & Adherents open rezisters (some of them) of the kings writ of Execution, contrary to y<sup>e</sup> minde of y<sup>e</sup> honnest party in y<sup>e</sup> sd collony of Rhode Island &c, y<sup>e</sup> partyes y<sup>t</sup> rezist & theyr adherents are soe confederated: & ingaged, for theyr owne vsurped interest, to ayd each other, that your petitioner: & his partnors: are neuer like (ther to haue) y<sup>e</sup> verdict & Judgment soe long since giuen y<sup>e</sup> verdict for about Eleuen years since, & y<sup>e</sup> Judgment for more than seuen, neuer like to be executed. Nor neuer like

(there to be) (in y<sup>e</sup> sd case) a competent Jury to try y<sup>e</sup> abundance of defferences about the sayd matters which yet remayne (without your majestyes spetiall commition) &c But beside (& more then that) there are diuers partyes & persons of y<sup>e</sup> other Collonys who allso pretend title to y<sup>e</sup> sd lands, vnder pretence of late purchases who haue Entered by force & Aliened y<sup>e</sup> same & voyded & agayne Entered at ther pleasure And cannot be preuented y<sup>e</sup> sayd patents bordering vpon each other and y<sup>e</sup> kings writ of Rhode Island not runing into the other Collonyes makes your petitioner & his partnors vtterly vnable of Remedy (but by your Majestyes spetiall commition)

True it is (and neuer to be forgotten) your Moste Excellent Majesty hath gratusly granted many fauors & great enduldgence to your subiects of New England all Emuneties of freeborne English men, and therfore, the lawes of your Realm of England, by which, they may liue in safty of theyr liues & lands &c

But for as much as three thousan miles distance of place doth soe allter our case that when incompetent or fauorable enquests are, we cannot: soe soone come, nor returne, nor with, soe litle danger nor with soe small charge optayne writs of Circeorari (as your Majestyes subiects inhabiting in England may) nor can (but very few liueing soe remote) vndergoe soe long delay & stay cost charge absence from home & trouble to doe it, but y<sup>t</sup> they must either lose all such suits at home (to theyr vtter vndoeing or spend all they haue to come soe far for remedy & then peraduenture y<sup>e</sup> charg and expence may be more than they imagined would be, or haue to expend & soe end seeking a right remedy & find an vtter Ruen to themselues & famelyes be theyr causes neuer soe Just And for as much as your Majestyes lawes of England presuppose Just ocacation for granting Spetiall comitions into Corporations within your Majestyes Rhelm of England and yet, noe detryment to y<sup>e</sup> former commition, nor to y<sup>e</sup> such sd corporation How much more nesessety: hath your: so long oppressed, greatly grieued, & remote petitioner to supplicate to your Majesty for such sd commition not with standing your

former commition, & y<sup>e</sup> sd corporation being but few & lately and matters neuer well settled nor haue had but litle time to doe it & haue bin much enterrupted in it and therfore noe wonder then If in y<sup>e</sup> kings corporations in his Realm of soe antient standing soe long settlement y<sup>e</sup> multtitude of people (among whome might be thought to be had Impartiall Juryes) The law presuppose for y<sup>e</sup> mayntenance of Impartiall Justice the kings Honnor & peace & his subiects rights spetiall commitions needfull & spetiall assises, much rather and more need in newengland

O! That The Kings Moste Excelent Majesty would be pleased Gratiously therefore to grant A spetiall Commition to some known wise Just men in Newengland to hear and determine by a spetiall assise there wher it may be sooner heard wher all persons concerned are

HARRIS'S STATEMENT OF CASE, 11 JUNE, 1675.

A, And his partnors Trauelled into new England all most forty years since and then & there purchased lands of y<sup>e</sup> most superior Indeans (meere monarhes over y<sup>e</sup> Indeans) before y<sup>e</sup> exercise of y<sup>e</sup> kings Jurisdiction ther by patent

B, And his partnors, since, purchas some of y<sup>e</sup> sd lands of Inferior Indeans And enters into it by force

A, And his partnors, complayne of B his forc &c And after some delay optaine a Verdict And after longer delay A Judgment but not an execution performed nor serued in twelue years after y<sup>e</sup> force committed, nor yet to this day The reason is because y<sup>e</sup> officer called a seargant is willingly rezisted by B &c

B pretending he will kill whomesoeuer enters vpon him to dispossess him And pretends first, that he hath y<sup>e</sup> best title &c 2 ly sayth, y<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> kings commitionors eleuen years since : or there aboute, when they wear in new England s<sup>d</sup> they would end it when they came from y<sup>e</sup> eastward from doeing y<sup>e</sup> kings

busynes there, but are not yet come therefore not to be dis-seised

B, keeping y<sup>e</sup> possessiō by force in corageth others to enter by force allsoe Then enters C, & his partnors D, & his partnors E, & his F, & his G, Allsoe

A Then sayth, B hath kept vs out twelue years but C, D, E, F, & G, by y<sup>e</sup> same way may keep vs out each as long as B If they wear vnder y<sup>e</sup> same Jurisdiction by such force And Imbracery but E, F, & G being of other Jurisdictions where y<sup>e</sup> fore sd Collony of Rhod Island writs runs not y<sup>e</sup> sd E, F, & G, entering, & voyding, can not be tryed at Rhod Island, And by y<sup>e</sup> sd Rhod Island law prohibited, A, & all others to try y<sup>e</sup> title of land lying in y<sup>e</sup> sd Jurisdiction in any other of y<sup>e</sup> Collonyes Courts (to say) of y<sup>e</sup> massatusets, Plimoth, or Conecticott vpon penallty of forfeiting y<sup>e</sup> land A, considering y<sup>e</sup> long delay in a case Judged Just by law, And that A, & his partnors title to y<sup>e</sup> sd lands haue bin seuerall times by awards of Arbytrations Judged A, & his partnors And once by an arbytration Agreed to be by y<sup>e</sup> Collony of y<sup>e</sup> Massatusets, & of Rhod Island allsoe, two Arbytrators coming from each all foure awarding y<sup>e</sup> sd land to A, & his partnors Then, A, considers y<sup>e</sup> longer likely hood of y<sup>e</sup> like delayes his old Aige, & short life And supposeth noe remedy in New England A Therefore intendeth to supplicate to y<sup>e</sup> kings Majesty To grant his order to whome y<sup>e</sup> king pleaseth to hear & determine by A spetiall Assise

by B supposed to be sd that the King will not grant such order in the absence of B &c

A supposed to say That what he prayeth of the king is noe more nor noe other thing then to bring B &c to a fayre tryall, to which If y<sup>e</sup> defendants or tenants presents must be had, or noe proceeding, then wher & when y<sup>e</sup> tenant doubts of his

Just cause ther then he will not be, to endanger it, by his presents, knowing, his Absents will keep of ye tryall: & all danger by it. but writs for apearance doe not vse to depend vpon y<sup>e</sup> presents of defendant nor tenant supposed may be sd as to B &c That A Judgment is all redy (as to B &c & therefore needs noe tryall nor to be brought to it

A supposed to say That B hath leased to diuers others y<sup>e</sup> wear in y<sup>e</sup> force with him but now entered for themselues seuerally And B hath many wayes trespassed since for which he hath not bin tryde nor Just y<sup>t</sup> he should be suffered in it

B, supposed may say That y<sup>e</sup> king his grants & Patents to y<sup>e</sup> Collonyes in New England cannot admitt such order from y<sup>e</sup> king as afore sd for then euery disconted person will complayne to y<sup>e</sup> king & perplex his neighbors and render his patents of noe vse to y<sup>e</sup> ending of defferences

A, supposed to Answer That If y<sup>e</sup> kings patents to Corporations in England are of good vse for y<sup>e</sup> ending of defferences wher may be supposed more contrauercyes (by y<sup>e</sup> multitude of people And easy are to goe to y<sup>e</sup> kings higher Courts at westminster then to come from New England to the king how much more y<sup>e</sup> patents of New England, soe remote, y<sup>e</sup> people soe few, y<sup>e</sup> delay soe long, & y<sup>e</sup> Charge soe great, wil be noe incoragement to come to comeplayne soe far 2ly A doth not petition to bring any to England to Charge them and trouble them but prayeth of y<sup>e</sup> king y<sup>t</sup> it may be heard & determined in New England, without any Charg to y<sup>e</sup> king or any other but he or they who vpon tryall shall be found in y<sup>e</sup> faull or wrong And in the mean time bears his own Charge 3ly A supposed to say That y<sup>e</sup> kings griued subiects by fauorable enquest to theyr neighbors in Corporations in England ar by law admitted by writs of Cerciorarie to remoue theyr suits into y<sup>e</sup> kings higher Courtes to be tryde by more competent & impartiall Juryes how much more equitable wher among a few interested people soe totally byased as men in theyr owne cases vse to be should cases be admitted to be tryd by Jurors of an other Corporation vn concerned

B, supposed to say That Corporations in new England haue power to make lawes by which all ther should be tryd

A, supposed to say That they haue power to make lawes but yet as limited in theyr Chartors 2ly The matter of contrauercy is not as to lawes made but as to what may be Just & equall to relieue y<sup>e</sup> wronged agreeable to such like cases in England 3ly A doth not deny but is willing y<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> sd controuercyes should be tryd by y<sup>e</sup> lawes y<sup>t</sup> ther are in y<sup>e</sup> sd Collony wher y<sup>e</sup> land lyes but petitioneth y<sup>t</sup> it may be ther soe tryd acording to all lawes made ther acording to the sd patent or y<sup>e</sup> lawes of England And not be defeated nor his partnors of theyr lands for want of a fayre tryall nor execution

A, supposed to say That y<sup>e</sup> king hath granted to them to proceed as other Corporations of England yet reserues y<sup>e</sup> superior power to bring them to any tryall for any wrong done or misgouernance by any of them or els they need but make a law & by it escape any tryall for any wrong done And y<sup>e</sup> king haueing granted to all his subiects there y<sup>e</sup> libertyes & emuneties of Englishmen cannot be immagined y<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> king did intend y<sup>t</sup> some should gouern y<sup>e</sup> rest by lawes soe as not allowing them y<sup>e</sup> libertyes of English men

B, supposed to say That If an order be granted it will not be obeyed

A, supposed to say that y<sup>e</sup> king did lately send to New England as to a duch ship y<sup>t</sup> was taken by some ther as prize & proceeding supposed to be acording to y<sup>e</sup> sd order made but as to hearing & dermining y<sup>e</sup> defferences between A, and his partnors & B & his partnors &c A doth not doubt but y<sup>t</sup> the Collony of Plimoth, Conecticot & likely of y<sup>e</sup> massatusets And Rhode Island If y<sup>e</sup> king apoynt will perform the same order but if they, or either of them fayle soe to doe as y<sup>t</sup> a lawfull number be not out of y<sup>e</sup> whole, yet then A only suffers y<sup>e</sup> damag And y<sup>e</sup> king noe charge but If they doe performe it as A belieues they will then the kings command will enure to doe Justice ther &c

HARRIS TO SIR JOSEPH WILLIAMSON, 12 AUGUST, 1676.

Truely Noble Sr your humble seruant whome your spetiall fauor hath obliged to a continewall remembrance thereof: and thankfullnes for y<sup>e</sup> same, and constant seruiss to your Honnor, according to my best dillegence and abillity (though but slow & weak) and y<sup>e</sup> reason I haue noe oftener expsed my seruiss: and thanks to your Honnor, is, by reason y<sup>e</sup> way of sending is soe enterrupted by y<sup>e</sup> war: y<sup>t</sup> there<sup>s</sup> is noe safe sending, nor pasing to & fro (without danger of life) And allso desiring (when I did writ) to giue as certayne acounte: * & per-ticuler (as I could) to your Honnor, (as I could get) and therefore delayed: hoping to haue had certayne information: out of each Collony of theyr afayres (as to y<sup>e</sup> war) by some espetiall intellegable friend, but wanting opertunety to send to such, and allsoe haueing bin euer since in y<sup>e</sup> moste dangerous place (by y<sup>e</sup> Indeans) in y<sup>e</sup> country: wher I haue lost a deer son: a dillegent engenious Just man: temperate in all things, whom y<sup>e</sup> Indeans lay in waite for by y<sup>e</sup> way syd & kild him,† and a

* This long and careful account drawn up by William Harris forms a notable addition to the contemporaneous literature of King Philip's War. Since the subject is familiar to students of New England history, the document is not so fully annotated as are those papers which have more to do with Harris himself. Copious bibliographical accounts of the War can be found in Winsor, Narrative and Critical History, iii: 360; Memorial Hist. of Boston, i: 327; and Palfrey, iii: 132-239.

† Toleration Harris, born 1645, the youngest son of William Harris. His death was deeply mourned by his father, who in his will specified that his farm should "be called Mourning, as a monument of the death of my deare son Tolleration" (Prov. Rec., vi: 55). It was on January 27, 1676, that 300 Indians attacked Pawtuxet, burning William Carpenter's outbuildings, corn and hay, and driving away 180 sheep, 50 head of cattle, and 15 horses. "Besides, they took much Cattel from young Mr. Harris, and killed a Negroe-Servant of his" (Continuation of the State of New England, London, 1676, p. 14. See also Drake, Indian Chronicle, 1867, pp. 196, 212, 244, 302; and Hubbard, Narrative, 1677, p. 60, add. p. 4).

negro man, and burnt our houses, and droue away aboute fifty head of Cowkind cattell, and fourscore horskinde of ours & carryed away some goods, and burnt aboue fifty loade of hay, and haue put vs out of our way of liueing, and from all oportunityes (for a long time) to doe this small seruise to your Honnor, (soe much & long) bound to: by your great fauor; And at this time am a soiuernor at Rhode Island, hoping from thence to haue an oportunity to send these by water to y<sup>e</sup> bay (viz<sup>t</sup>) to Boesten.

And as to y<sup>e</sup> state of y<sup>e</sup> Country in generall, but first: what it hath bin since y<sup>e</sup> war began (viz<sup>t</sup>) In very sad & lamentable condition: and y<sup>e</sup> wisest men in y<sup>e</sup> Country euen at their wits end, to think what might become of themselues & famelyes & y<sup>e</sup> whole country, y<sup>e</sup> Indeans then doeing soe many mischiefs: in a secret sly: sculking way: y<sup>t</sup> noe man knew well how to finde them, and y<sup>e</sup> truth is, had it not pleased god to draw forth some other Indeans (such as were) former enemyes to our now enemyes: to ayd y<sup>e</sup> English to finde their enemyes: and overtake them (when y<sup>e</sup> English cannot) we might haue bin driuen to great strays, And had y<sup>e</sup> Indeans bin all our enemyes: and could haue gotten powder: they might haue forced vs to Islands for safety, and there to haue planted some litle Corne, and haue fished for our liueings, takeing some winter seasons (only) to fight y<sup>e</sup> Indeans (if we could) much hurt y<sup>e</sup> Indeans did, and y<sup>e</sup> mesengers therof (for some time) came quickly one after another, like y<sup>e</sup> news to Jobe: of his sorrowes, and our enemyes boasting: y<sup>t</sup> god was departed from vs, and was with them.

And yet, y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> former fact: y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> phillip supposed was guilty of: and fined for: was a war plotted by him to destroy y<sup>e</sup> English at vnawares; which was a compasing: and contriueing: to fight against y<sup>e</sup> kings authourity in his dominions: & to take y<sup>e</sup> authoureyty & dominion & rule to himself; which is high treason against y<sup>e</sup> king; and is y<sup>e</sup> efect of his last facts and therfore y<sup>e</sup> war made in defence: agaynst him: is Just; he first leuying war against y<sup>e</sup> kings Authourity in his dominions, and killd many of his subiects. Allsoe, y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> war was by phillip intended against y<sup>e</sup> English long before, as apears by y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> phillips (& not his only) (but others alsoe y<sup>e</sup> Indeans of other places) prouiding for y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> war, y<sup>e</sup> year before, laying vp corne in such secret maner: as they were not wonte to doe (in time of peace) for, in time of peace: any y<sup>t</sup> pased by theyr barnes which are made in y<sup>e</sup> ground: y<sup>e</sup> English (as well as y<sup>e</sup> Indeans) knew them; but those made in preparation for y<sup>e</sup> war, are not seen: nor knowne by y<sup>e</sup> English: nor Indeans nether, (but by such as made them) gras being made to grow ouer them, and layd leuell; therfore, y<sup>e</sup> war by y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> Indeans intended, and began; therfore, not an vniust war, (by y<sup>e</sup> English) to defend by war; therfore, y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> war (on y<sup>e</sup> Englishes parte: Just) And of my certain knowledg, I know them soe barbarous, y<sup>t</sup> thoughe theyr predeseacors: did acknowledg themselues, y<sup>e</sup> kings subiects, & subscribed therto: that they might haue preueledg therby: & safety against theyr enemyes: these theyr succesors would acknowledg it to such ends, yet, when theyr obedyence to good law: is to theyr los, they matter not subiection: nor aleigance: noe more then brute beast; allsoe formerly I haue told phillip (after he plotted against y<sup>e</sup> English) that he aboue all other Indeans should loue y<sup>e</sup> English & be true to them, for, had it not bin for y<sup>e</sup> plimoth old plantors (now

dead) y<sup>e</sup> narragansets had then cutt of his fathers head (then called Mas-sa-soyt, since was called Osa-mea-quen, whom I knew forty years since, Allso to my certayne knowledg: they did reason for y<sup>e</sup> mayntenance of theyr customes against y<sup>e</sup> kings law, and yet, haue soe many monsterous customes contrary to all humanyty: some wherof I shall mention (viz<sup>t</sup>) to kill theyr children: yea any litle ones of any ayge: at theyr pleasure, without fear of punishment, And to kill theyr aiged parents, and for a mans murdering another: to kill his brother, or kinsman, with many such like; And without doubt (were now) resolved to fight for y<sup>e</sup> same and to destroy all English men noe doubt (If they could)

And wher as some: stick not to say, y<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> English haue ocationed y<sup>e</sup> war: by diuers opretions vsed to y<sup>e</sup> Indeans, as defrauding them of theyr land (as they say) trespassing in theyr corne by theyr cattell, with diuers other things obiected, acord- ing to theyr seuerall interest, makeing (they say) y<sup>e</sup> Indeans pore. The temptations of men to the s<sup>d</sup> acuseations, may be these? some intending if they could to re buy theyr neighbours lands, as some did, and soe it hath sometimes bin: y<sup>t</sup> land hath bin bought: and solde three or foure times ouer. others out of enuy to theyr countrymen: for some sinister end: others flattering y<sup>e</sup> Indeans (sometimes) to buy theyr land. & some- times to draw y<sup>e</sup> Indeans trade, of buying & selling cloath & furs & such like.

to which it may be answered, y<sup>e</sup> Indeans are or wear when they began y<sup>e</sup> war far more supplied and better then when y<sup>e</sup> English first came for then they wear in great wants but sinc in great plenty, they when y<sup>e</sup> English first came had only axes of stone, but since of Iron & steele, then Hoese of wood: & tortes & other fish shells, but since of Iron & steele, allsoe they had then but a litle corne, perhapes fieve or six bushells a year one famely, but since sometimes forty, fifty, or sixty bushells; then made drills of flints to make theyr mony, but since haue drills of steele & can make forty to one; And doubtles those drills of flint would try y<sup>e</sup> patience of y<sup>e</sup> most industrious artist: & theyr skill (in theyr way) to make those drills ; they then had spent theyr corne early in y<sup>e</sup> pring, but since haue corne enoughe & spare & sell, then ate fresh fish to keep them aliuie, but by such foode dyed : of fluxes, but since had wholesome foode : & phizick store, in a word they then wanted allmoste all things, but since had allmoste all things y<sup>t</sup> they might think needfull, and prosperity hath slayne them, yea and many of vs to ; The Indeans since haue had soe much corne as to lay vp for a war a year before : agaynst this present war, and lately Conecticot men found seven hundered bushells of corne : & many beans of this country like y<sup>e</sup> beans y<sup>t</sup> are in England which are eaten shells an all ; it is like y<sup>e</sup> people y<sup>t</sup> layd y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> vp were dead, or killd, or taken, or driuen where they could not come at them ; then y<sup>e</sup> Indeans before y<sup>e</sup> English came, wear allwayes in war & still in fear of theyr liues, but sinc y<sup>e</sup> English haue slayn theyr enemyes, & now y<sup>e</sup> Indeans make war with y<sup>e</sup> English, rather by y<sup>t</sup> prosperity they inioyed (by y<sup>e</sup> English) then by any aduercity by them tempted to y<sup>e</sup> war.

And that y<sup>e</sup> war was not only Just with Phillip but y<sup>e</sup> narragansets allsoe, for y<sup>t</sup> many of them wear with phillip in y<sup>e</sup> first fight (aboute mounte hope) And when phillip fled from thence y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> narragansets fled to narraganset, and y<sup>e</sup> narragansets sachems or rulers confesed them theyr men and were conducted with a great woman* of phillips party & her men to narraganset, wherevpon y<sup>e</sup> English demanded of y<sup>e</sup> narragansets why they receiued & shelltered theyr enemyes, and demanded them, but y<sup>e</sup> narragansets did not deliuer them, but entered into articles to deliuer phillips men, & theyr enemyes y<sup>t</sup> came among them, but did not, yet then makeing large pretences of peace, intending noe thing les, but they thought that if they should by a suden war lose theyr haruest : y<sup>t</sup> then it would soone disable them to continew y<sup>e</sup> war, Allsoe they receiued of y<sup>e</sup> English rewards : as if they had taken of some of phillips mens heads, but y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> heads (some of them) doubtles

wear heads of Indeans y<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> English & theyr confederates had kild, or els : some heads of others y<sup>t</sup> they slew y<sup>t</sup> wear run from them : to phillip formerly : for fear of being put to death by y<sup>e</sup> narragansets for supposed ofences committed against y<sup>e</sup> narragansets, or others of phillips men y<sup>t</sup> in time of peace contrauerted for phillip against y<sup>e</sup> narragansets, aboute former defferences of rightes due : or wronges done, by, or to either y<sup>e</sup> narragansets : or phillip, against whome they had spetiall spleen ; & soe tooke y<sup>t</sup> time to reueng themselves on them (when fallen into distres & into theyr hands : for supposed deliuerance : willing to shellter themselves vnder them) and as to y<sup>e</sup> last sort against whome they had such spleen : some of them I knew : & heard them debate, y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> defferences in open courte at Rhode Island, y<sup>e</sup> defference arose about a man (to say) an Indean y<sup>t</sup> liued at Rhode Island : y<sup>t</sup> kild his wife & a man y<sup>t</sup> (he s<sup>d</sup>) lay with her, y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> man was tryd & condemnd for y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> murder, but because he kild two, y<sup>e</sup> sachems s<sup>d</sup> they would haue two to put to death for y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> two kild, and out of phillips men, for y<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> murdered wear related to y<sup>e</sup> narragansets : and y<sup>e</sup> murderor to phillip, The narragansets allsoe would haue had y<sup>e</sup> murderor to haue cast him bound into a fire, but y<sup>e</sup> court would not admit it, but s<sup>d</sup> he was y<sup>e</sup> kings subiect : & soe should haue y<sup>e</sup> kings law, with much such discourse, And y<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> law would not admit to put one man to death for anothers ofences, wherat : y<sup>e</sup> narragansets shewed great indignation & s<sup>d</sup>, that before y<sup>e</sup> English came : they could doe what they list with phillips party, and phillips party pleaded theyr exemption from them, & theyr owne absolute power, and soe stood theyr defference ; and one (a chiefe interpreter among them then) his head was brought to y<sup>e</sup> English by y<sup>e</sup> narragansets & tooke a reward as for killing one of phillips men, but doubtles y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> man (whome I had knowne neer forty year) was slayn by y<sup>e</sup> English : and then y<sup>e</sup> narragansets got his head : to get y<sup>e</sup> reward, & to keep of (for y<sup>t</sup> present) y<sup>e</sup> war, or els : they kild him for y<sup>e</sup> fores<sup>d</sup> defference (in y<sup>e</sup> debate wherof he was) and not simply, as one of phillips men : and an enemy to y<sup>e</sup> English, for, y<sup>e</sup> narragansets had then among them many of phillips

partty: whome they neither deliuered vp to y<sup>e</sup> English, nor brought in theyr heads, which shews they did all in deceite; yea, & all this while vp in y<sup>e</sup> country about hadley & deerfield & there aboute ayd phillip: and others of theyr partty: against y<sup>e</sup> English to y<sup>e</sup> doing of very great mischiefe; And further, y<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> heads pretended to be taken of by y<sup>e</sup> narragansets from liueing men of phillips; as enemyes to y<sup>e</sup> English: seems not to be believed, for, If soe, y<sup>t</sup> partty of phillips among the narragansets then (which wear many) might haue supposed themselves to be determined to y<sup>e</sup> same end, & then, would not (at liberty as they wear) there haue stayd (to y<sup>t</sup> end) but there did stay therfore, not in such danger, nor y<sup>e</sup> heads such heads, as wear pretended, but in truth y<sup>e</sup> heads either of them slayne by y<sup>e</sup> English, or such other as afore<sup>s</sup>d, not slayne by y<sup>e</sup> narragansets as Englishes enemyes; much more playne demonstration: might be made proueing y<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> narragansets did Joyne with phillip in y<sup>e</sup> war, but not to trouble your Honnor therwith, but some hold noe war iust, and noe wonder they object y<sup>e</sup> iustnes of this war allsoe, and haue some temptation to it allsoe, for, If y<sup>e</sup> war iust? then their ayde may seeme to be engaged, therto, but, they not ayding nor willing to it, yea say they ought. not, had need to haue some pretence (as y<sup>e</sup> vnlawfullnes of y<sup>e</sup> war) to excuse themselves; espetially (being) such as are soe far concerned: as defence &c, for y<sup>e</sup> kings interest: & his subiects safety. † Hubbard records that eighteen houses were burned at Providence, 28 June, 1675 (Narrative, add. p. 4).

‡ This was the fight of 1 August, 1675, near Nipsachuck Hill. F. A. Arnold, in the Narr. Hist. Register, vi: 61-69, clearly shows that both the hill and swamp of this name formerly bordered on the western end of the boundary line between North Smithfield and Smithfield. It was at Nipsachuck Swamp that Talcott's victory of 2 July, 1676, took place.

Country (but a great woman with phillip then, but left him & went with some narragansets to narraganset) Phillip & his party did much hurte vp in y<sup>e</sup> country aboute hadley, deerfield & therabout, but at narraganset a seeming peace, then y<sup>e</sup> English went to y<sup>e</sup> narragansets And demanded why they shelltered theyr enemyes, but they deliuered them not, but entered into articles: & to deliuer vp phillips party, but did not, but y<sup>e</sup> English wanting Amunition, & prouition, and therfore wear forced to delay & to get in haruest, and y<sup>e</sup> Indeans as willing to get in theyr haruest, but in y<sup>e</sup> mean time: y<sup>e</sup> Indeans to y<sup>e</sup> Eastward rose & did much hurt, but since s<sup>d</sup> they are come in: & y<sup>e</sup> war there ended; but aboute the thirteenth of desember last, aboute a thousand of y<sup>e</sup> English forces came to narraganset, & after some few dayes stay there: & some perlie with y<sup>e</sup> Indeans, they fought them in a swamp to which they had aboute half a dayes march,* The English shewed very much vallour: runing vp to y<sup>e</sup> mussells of y<sup>e</sup> guns, & to theyr porte holes: fireing into theyr forte, leaping ouer theyr brestworkes, & into theyre fort, turning y<sup>e</sup> but ends of theyr guns sometimes, And thoughe many of y<sup>e</sup> English slayne & wounded, yet, y<sup>e</sup> coldnes of y<sup>e</sup> season ocationed y<sup>e</sup> death of many of y<sup>e</sup> wounded, they being far from theyr quarters, and it frose y<sup>t</sup> night very hard; but many more of y<sup>e</sup> Indeans wear slayne (then of y<sup>e</sup> English;) there was litle more done there y<sup>t</sup> winter, but in y<sup>e</sup> spring they marched out with about thirteene hundred, vp into y<sup>e</sup> Country: & slew aboute sixty, but some of theyr nimblest enemyes: theyr horses could not come vp with: only (some few) (not enough to encounter y<sup>e</sup> enemy) which march being ouer: each Collonyes forces marched to theyr owne Collonyes.

After which time many mischeifs wear done vpon many townes of y<sup>e</sup> massachusets, to y<sup>e</sup> los of many soules, Allso a great multtitude of Indeans came downe out of y<sup>e</sup> country: in one body, they met with one captayne pierce at a place neer

It seems to be another Cononicus since, not y<sup>t</sup> of narraganset *

Euer since The takeing of y<sup>e</sup> great man of Narraganset the war hath gon moste against y<sup>e</sup> Indeans, And within two or three dayes after a great army of Indeans supposed a thousand bosted of theyr victoryes at Providence ouer y<sup>e</sup> English in a pearley there the fore s<sup>d</sup> great man was taken by Conecticot forces, from which time march to this 12th of August 1676 two thousand Indeans haue bin killd taken & come in And supposed fifteen hundered before, And some say a thousan English from y<sup>e</sup> first slayne, but I doubt neerer fifteen hundered.

The Indeans come in dayly, and fight presently against y<sup>e</sup> Indeans they came from and betray one another into y<sup>e</sup> hands of y<sup>e</sup> English

HARRIS TO THE COURT, 12 OCTOBER, 1677.

To his Majestyes Honnored Court sitting by his Majestyes Authority & order bearing date at Hampton Courte y<sup>e</sup> 4th of August 1675, & 27th year of his Majestyes Reigne—for y<sup>e</sup> hearing & determining defferences as to patuxet at providence in y<sup>e</sup> Collony of Rhod Island & providence plantations &c y<sup>e</sup> 17th of novem next

The declaration of Thomas ffield, Nathaniell Waterman & William Harris all of patuxet & providence in y<sup>e</sup> sd Collony complaynants & demandants as in theyr complaynt expressed, bearing date of octob 1677 Against Edmund Calverly, late of warwick in y<sup>e</sup> foresd Collony tenent by force & formerly aturney for his partners in y<sup>e</sup> sd lands pretended to, (to say) James Sweet William Burton, John Sweet, John Wicks, Abell Potter & others, wherefore he y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> Edmund Calverly hath unlawfully purchased with his s<sup>d</sup> partners four thousand acres of our land of patuxet as by his & theyr & others pretended grant ther of bearing date y<sup>e</sup> 23 of June 1662 taken of Cooweaset Indians it doth apear. And for y<sup>e</sup> sd Edmund Calverly hath entered by force by y<sup>e</sup> sd pretended grant with others & mayntayned y<sup>e</sup> force as in our complaynt expressed we wear forced to commence our sd action of trespas against him y<sup>e</sup> sd Edmund Callverly & partners of one hundred pounds starling & make our demand of y<sup>e</sup> sd land & commit y<sup>e</sup> Issue therein expressed to y<sup>e</sup> good Country as in y<sup>e</sup> conclution of our declaration we shall expres, now further showing that y<sup>e</sup> sd Edmund Callverly & his partners petitioned of y<sup>e</sup> Court of Rhod Island &c leave to buy foure thousand acres of land for without leave from y<sup>e</sup> sd Court it was unlawfull by y<sup>e</sup> law there, to buy upon theyr request : had leave to buy foure thousand acres, but with those restrictions (to say) not to buy any bought before, nor within any towne ship, but our sd patuxet was bought before y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> warwick was, And since (much of it) often bought & sold, And within y<sup>e</sup> Towneship of providence which they knew

which shewes theyr intended force & frauds as we shall produce record to prove
 zly those tenant by force Edmund Calverly buy of them y<sup>t</sup> had noe right to sell (with his partnors) they buy of a few Cooweaset Indians, foure thousand acres not of Cooweaset land, much like Warwick men<sup>s</sup> buying some of our patuxet of Alexander a sachem of y<sup>e</sup> Masachusets.* Warwick towne lyes between Cooweaset & patuxet & yet warwick grant is of meantonomy & not of y<sup>e</sup> sd Cooweaset Indians, but it is like they the right to make up y<sup>e</sup> weaknes of theyr grant with y<sup>e</sup> strenth of theyr Armes as thus apears, when execution formerly was commanded to be done for us, then apeared Edmund Calverly as a cunstable ther, soe made by Mr. Greene, to keep y<sup>e</sup> peac s<sup>d</sup>, while ye Kings writ of execution was resisted, at which wear some warwick women, & old Mr Gorton was goeing thyther, only came when y<sup>e</sup> partyes wear partyed, all in ayde of theyr young grants, But our grant was forty years since, of old Cononicus y<sup>e</sup> chief conqueror, & of old meantonomy, to whome our adversaryes grantors wear underlings at their wills. And if these underlings can run away from theyr masters, & sell y<sup>e</sup> land theyr masters sold; soe long before and be a good grant; how good will a grant be of theyr soe late weak grant by those soe potent to conquer them all, as of late it hath bin, But warwick remayned, by not soe much as a half title to oures, for oures forty years since, by y<sup>e</sup> greatest conquerer,† & by warwick litle grantor to, but warwick only by our & theyr litle grantor meantonomy only a cuszin to the right grantor a younger brothers son, which s<sup>d</sup> great grantor had sons & himself in life, when y<sup>e</sup> other was dead (meatonomy) much better is our grant of patuxet then, to Edmund Calverly<sup>s</sup>—and his partners whose granttors were manyfould more below & les power in all things then meantonomy our least grantor, & warwick greatest grantor.

To the Kings Majestyes Honnored Courte Siting by vertue of his Majestyes Order, bearing date at Hampton Courte y<sup>e</sup> 4th of August 1675, & 27th year of his Majestyes Reigne for y<sup>e</sup> hearing & determining defferences as to patuxet at providence in y<sup>e</sup> Collony of Rhod Island & providence plantations &c, the 17th of November next, The declaration of Thomas ffield, & William Harris of patuxet & providence in y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> Collony, complaynants & demandants in an action of trespas bearing date y<sup>e</sup> 13th of octob 1677, Agaynst Mr Gregory Dextor, Captayne arthur ffenner* And y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> Towne of providence in y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> Collony tenants by force And as further perticularly expressed in our s<sup>d</sup> complaynt we herein further declare and shew, That y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> Mr Dextor & Captayne ffenner have bin active leading Instruements in carrying on a defference with divers persons after comers of y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> towne of providence under y<sup>e</sup> name of y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> Town have by many meetings calling & requireing the Searjante in his Majestyes name to warne us to y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> townes meetings & then & there bid us for peace sake relinquish our Claymes to a great parte of our land of patuxet as if they should sugest we wear like to have noe peace, but by soe doeing, some demanding shares of our sd land of y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> Towne (saying) see if we cannot keep it as well as warwickmen (theyr teachers) Notwithstanding 13 of us patuxet men wear y<sup>e</sup> first * Fenner, in 1657 and 1659, had purchased the land immediately south of the Pocasset river and west of the present Randall's pond (Prov. Rec. viii: 72) which land came very near to where Harris thought the dividing line between Providence and Warwick ought to be.

purchasors of Mr Williams of all y<sup>e</sup> Lands both of providence first, & afterward of patuxet, & some of us with y<sup>e</sup> adventure (by hardship) of our lives, & neer loste, soe great was our cost, of y<sup>e</sup> sd lands, which we y<sup>t</sup> came with Mr Williams should have bin with him in y<sup>e</sup> first grant & price, but he only put in himself in y<sup>e</sup> first which he had of the Sachems for litle above half soe much as he solde providence to us, And thoughe he promesed patuxet to y<sup>e</sup> men of patuxet for five pound yet he got it of gift & had of us with his owne share twenty pounce starling as his receipt will shew,* Into which s<sup>d</sup> lands of providence we received divers persons who by y<sup>e</sup> sugjestions of Mr Williams & other rose in a tumult against y<sup>e</sup> then peace of providence, order, & rule therin, And allsoe claymed patuxet, but when they had wearyed themselves came to arbytration, & y<sup>e</sup> award † was y<sup>t</sup> all y<sup>e</sup> Inhabytants should pay equally & have equally of providence (to say) on y<sup>e</sup> northward syde of y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> line betweene y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> Rivers, & y<sup>e</sup> rest northward which sd land is supposed three quartters, and patuxet y<sup>e</sup> 4th quarter, which s<sup>d</sup> patuxet part was awarded to patuxet men aboute or above thirty years since And all men then save one Mr Weston & one Mr Greene (both now dead) asepted of y<sup>e</sup> award then (and theyr Succesors afterward) and have solde theyr rights in patuxet, And all men then ther subscribed to y<sup>e</sup> award as we have to shew, since then many young people not then Borne, growne up, & many such come hither, & here received unknowing to former rights, & some through covetousnes invade our rights of patuxet afores<sup>d</sup> & are anymated by our adversaryes of warwick, Thoughe we of patuxet possesed y<sup>e</sup> inhabytants

of providence with providenc land (to say) three quarters of all our lands, supposed, & kept a quarter (supposed) (to say) patuxet, But, warwick purchasors, (to say) twelve, pretend to above twenty mile in length (to say) a great piece of good land besyde, And yet alow theyr inhabytants but five miles in length (to say) of y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> twenty miles, yet y<sup>e</sup> Inhabytants of providence are instigated by them of warwick, against us of patuxet, thinking by many perplexetyes to wear us out, & mak us yeild up our rightes, in which designe Mr Dextor & Captayne ffenner are & have bin very active and underhand another designe for by pretence of providence, litle old bounds (much stood upon) wherin Gregory Dextor could not in his understanding against Jurisdiction by y<sup>e</sup> same clayme his land, his due, would by force if he could overthrow y<sup>t</sup> title (for a worce) (but biger) think<sup>s</sup> with a multytude of trespassers by force to enforce theyr way as by theyr papers & acts we shall prove & not only soe with his partty of providence, but with another partty of Rhod Island in a parcell of land 13 miles square bounded by providence line, which if he could make his matters take by his mulltitude to deminsh or null providence, patuxet, & warwick intangled (to him) (by Jurisdiction), then by his party of Rhod Island with him who have some sway in Courtes, may place his thirteene mile square (to say) as much of it as can be containyd on y<sup>e</sup> deminution or nulleyty of providence & patuxet, for, by y<sup>e</sup> name of y<sup>e</sup> line of providence, patuxet is bounded, soe is his 13 mile &c soe y<sup>t</sup> to come to y<sup>t</sup> line must lay theyr land on patuxet land, & lack roome, must have providence & more & soe bury patuxet, not then, thinking of any other Court or Jury but some of theyr or his party should be in it to help at a dead lift neer hand, And thus haveing breefly discovered theyr undermineings, I will shew our true title stands upon soe great rockes, y<sup>t</sup> have stooode soe many such stormes cannot be soe overthrowne, nor blowne soe

of patuxet, & against them both, (though not soe much to providence,) our sd titles are from Conounicus y<sup>e</sup> eldest, & y<sup>e</sup> eldest Meantonomy, the sd Conounicus y<sup>e</sup> greatest Conquerer who subdued all y<sup>e</sup> Indeans ther under his finall Judgment & doome, & therfore might as well as other monorches sell his conquered land, And did, after he had sold oures, To M<sup>r</sup> Cottinton of Newporte & others Aqueadnick, (now called Rhode Island), as by record I shall prove, And warwick as by theyr deed we shall prove,

And a parcell long since to M<sup>r</sup> Benadict Arnold Senior on y<sup>e</sup> other syd of patuxet river, all since providence & patuxet, And three Islands to M<sup>r</sup> Williams, now called prudence patience, & hope, may prevent pation, remove doubt, & such unwisdome as to object our grantors, all since providence & patuxet granted, therfore before his or theyr monorchy suffered any demination, If they all stand firm & y<sup>e</sup> last, much more y<sup>e</sup> first, providence & patuxet, when noe English Jurisdiction here to enterupt theyr power nor noe English inhabytants to be entered upon or clayme before us, And y<sup>e</sup> English Jurisdiction and since, our grant, tooke him & them for y<sup>e</sup> rulers of all y<sup>e</sup> Indeans here & confederated with them against y<sup>e</sup> pe-quats as by witnes I shall prove,

3ly we of patuxet, & they of providence have held y<sup>e</sup> same about forty years, & y<sup>t</sup> is almost or about twice y<sup>e</sup> time of the Statute of none claymes, after which time noe man can commence a suite by a writ of righte, though otherwise had a righte, but our adversaryes have none to patuxet, & besyde our olde knowing neighbours Challeng noe right there, but such as afores<sup>d</sup>, & though we y<sup>e</sup> towne, because under y<sup>t</sup> name we wear

hindered and molested, yet with them we doe not intend those (y<sup>t</sup> have noe hand in it) noe more then ourselves y<sup>t</sup> are of y<sup>e</sup> towne allsoe

Then seeing our grant of patuxet by the Chiefest granttor of the Indeans & first, and laste of y<sup>e</sup> king, underling Indeans grantes cannot defeat nor frustrat them therefore it is Just we should have our right, And y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> Gregory Dextor, & Captayne ffenner & they that y<sup>t</sup> called themselves y<sup>e</sup> towne should pay y<sup>e</sup> damage they have done as in keeping us out of our knowne rights soe long, & forcing us to goe to England to pray a remedy with theyr many more troubles, & Charges then here recited or can at present be remembered to great disturbance of neighborly & y<sup>e</sup> publike peace & against good law have Ejected or cast us oute of our s<sup>d</sup> right, & to our damage of ten pounds starling, which forceth us to bring our action of trespas of y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> sum against y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> M<sup>r</sup> Dextor, & Captayne ffenner & y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> towne of providence, & commit to y<sup>e</sup> Court & Countryes Consideration our wronges & trespasses, & to y<sup>e</sup> Jury this Issue (to say) whether y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> towne of providence should not with us run y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> line agreed on by us for partition betweene y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> Rivers wanasquetucket river & patuxet River at an equall or even distance & equally upward into y<sup>e</sup> Country as high as a place or pon called penhungganset, the moste westerly bounde which is aboute twelve miles from y<sup>e</sup> moste easterly bound set at providence, And who hath y<sup>e</sup> best right & truest title to y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> land on y<sup>e</sup> southward syde of y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> line the s<sup>d</sup> tenants by force or we the complaynants & demandants according to our proportions.

In behalf of Thomas ffield his aturny, & in my owne right
Complaynant & demandant.

WILLIAMS, DEXTER AND FENNER TO THE COURT,
17 NOVEMBER, 1677.

Endorsed :—To the Honourable Court sitting by virtue of his Majesty's order now in Providence from R. Williams Gregory Dexter Arthur Fenner 1677

We whose names are under-written in this juncture of time cannot forbear but declare to you those things which live pressing upon our minds having respect to the honour of the king and the Governors of the 4 colonies, honour and the safty of yourselves. Therefore present this to your consideration viz. for as much as in the order given by the king at

Hampton Court the 4th day of August 1675, Thus it is said, Whereas our subject William Harris planter, in the colony of Rhode-Island did by his humble petition set forth, that he and twelve others his partners near forty years since, purchased from certain Indians a parcel of land called Pawtuxet. And now the said William Harris declareth that they bought Pawtuxet of Mr. Williams, who is no Indian, also William Harris further saith that Pawtuxet was given unto Mr. Williams and they gave him £20 starling, and said it was not bought but given.

More things we have to present, if we be not barred from appearing to answer to his declaration against us.

Make use of these at your pleasure till more comes.

By us who desire no more favour than justice will allow us.

WILLIAMS, DEXTER AND FENNER TO THE COURT,

17 NOVEMBER, 1677.

Endorsed :—Our Answer to William Harris his Declaration.

To the Kings Majesties Honoured Court, sitting by

---

*On 27 October, 1677, the town of Providence had chosen three men to answer the complaint of Harris (Prov. Rec., viii: 21).

vertue of his Majesties Order, bearing date at Hampton Court, the 4th of August 1675, and 27th yeare of his Majesties Reigne, for the hearing & determining differences, as to Pawtuxit at Providence, in the Colony of Road Island & Providence Plantations, &c the 17th of November next.

The Answer of Arthur ffeñer & Gregory Dexter, to the Declaration of Thomas ffield & William Harris of Pawtuxet & Providence, In the said Colony complaynants & demandants, in an action of trespasse; tenants by force (as they say) as also against the town of Providence, bearing date the 13th of October 1677.

Now let us crave your patience to premise two things to this Honoured Court & Countrey. ffirst, that you take notice, that we are constrayned here to appeare and give answer, w<sup>ch</sup> is contrary to the graine of o<sup>r</sup> minds, being desirous to be at quiet, and to follow o<sup>r</sup> own busines, being fired out of o<sup>r</sup> houses,* as well as others, & are preparing for winter, & to have nothing to do with this Asembly: And to attain quietnes, one of us have moved to William Harris twice, & to Thomas Field once, to withdraw their action, but no prevailing.

The second is this, to take up the words of o<sup>r</sup> Town, in Answer to William Harris his Bill, which he lately presented to them viz. That it is Lamentable to us to behold your work, and to see the way that you yet do prosecute (as appears by your writing) in this day of the Lords great judgements, that have bin, & yet are, in some of these parts of the world; & now to trouble us! & all the Colonyes about us. But seeing that the said judgements do not yet deterre you from striving so vehemently about Lands! Lands! nor for damage about differences, & to lay the damage at our dore, &c.

And Thus next to o<sup>r</sup> Answer multum in parvo. We shal begin with the words of a wise King, He that is first in his own Cause seemeth just: but his neighbour cometh & search-

eth him.* The Complaynants & demandants say that mr Dexter & Captain ffeñer have bin very active, leading instruments to carry on a difference, with divers p[er]sons, after comers, of the said Town of Providence, under the name of the said Town. Answer that when William Harris in Governour Brentons time strove against this town, the Generall assembly j[ust]ified them, & owned their choice of deputies. The next that is worth taking notice of is. These cōmplainants and demandants say, underhand another designe, for by pretence of Providence little old bounds (much stood upon) wherein Gregory Dexter could not in his understanding against jurisdiction by the same claime his land his due, would by force if he could, overthrow that Title for a worse (but bigger) think with a multitude of trespassers, by force, to inforce their way, as by their papers & acts we shal prove, & not only so with his party of Providence, but with another party of Road-Iland in a parcel of Land 13 mile square, bounded by Providence line, w<sup>ch</sup> if he could make his matters take by his multitude to diminish or nul Providence, Pawtuxit & Warwicke intangled to him by jurisdiction then with his party of Road-Iland with him, who have some sway in Courts, may place his 13 mile square (to say) as much of it, as can be contained on the diminution of Providence & Pawtuxet, for by the name of the line of Providence, Pawtuxet is bounded so is his 13 miles, so that to come to the line, must lay their land, on Pawtuxet Land, & lack [room] must have Providence, & more, & so bury Pawtuxet, not then thinking of any other Court or Jury, but some of their, or his Party, should be in it, to help at a dead lift, neare hand. Answer If this were true, then Gregory Dexter, would appeare to all men that heares hereof [to] be a covetous man after Land and vile: But this is not true, for it is a notorious Slander, & he or they that uttereth slanders, is a — what he is I leave to the Court to Judge, for I have neither directly, nor indirectly any part in that 13 miles of land, & now

*Proverbs xvii: 18. The revised version reads: "He that pleadeth his cause first seemeth just."

where are the Company of trespassers whereof these men speak, by force to inforce their way, but as the man is, so is his strength. And now to that, not thinking of any other Court or Jury, but some of his or their party should be in it, to help at a dead lift, neare hand. Answer the first part of this is true, I did not think of any other Court or Jury, about Pawtuxet, because William Harris promised to put his matter contraverted to arbitration with Shantatuck men, & if he had not broke his ingagement, I suppose no Court nor Jury now would have had need to have bin. And againe he [sayeth Gregory Dexter could not claim] his Land his due & hath rendred his reason, w<sup>ch</sup> afore [I have said is false, that is not mine. But I will tell you the truth (for no man knoweth the things of a man save the Spirit of a man that is in him) viz : because I fear least that saying come on me which is written, as a partridge that setteth on her eggs & hatcheth them not, so he that getteth good (or land) and not by right, shall leave them in the midst of his days & dye a fool.*]

ffurthermore they say their title standeth upon great Rocks, & argues largely. We answer your building is so high of 12 miles as you say, & others say tis 20 that we dare not climb up with you, least we fal, and split upon that Rock of Eliz : 5 chapter† against fraudulent procurers of deeds & their accessories, see the Law. moreover they say it is just we should have o<sup>r</sup> right, & the said Gregory Dexter & Captain ffeñer, & they that called themselves the Town should pay the damage, they have done, as in keeping us out of o<sup>r</sup> known rights, so long, & forcing us to go to England, to pray a remedy, with their many more troubles & charges then here

resited, nor can at present be remembred, to great disturbance, of neighbourly, & publike peace, & against good Law &c. We answer we have before cited how they who called as he (saith themselves the town was owned the Town by a Generall Assembly, & Arther ffeñer was also prosecuted by William Harris at a General Asembly, & he acquitted by his peeres in Governour Brentons day, & Gregory Dexter also was Indicted by William Harris upon the same accompt at Governour Arnolds time, & the Indictment quashed, & for he or they thus to slur both Town & P<sup>ersons</sup> &c, what shal we say, but he that loveth strife loveth transgression. But they say they were forced to go to England to pray a remedy. Answer your remedy which you have got we know, viz. to have y<sup>r</sup> rights at Pawtuxit given you according to Justice, w<sup>ch</sup> Pawtuxet you set forth to the king in Councel, w<sup>ch</sup> you and your 12 partners bought about 40 yeares since w<sup>ch</sup> Pawtuxet we know not that you so bought, but when we know it we shal answer, but as for that Pawtuxet w<sup>ch</sup> was given to o<sup>r</sup> loving neighbour Williams, we know, we nor the Town hath not withheld from you, but have run a line or partion according to the arbitration or Combination, &c. therfore to pray a remedy for this, you needed not, & so you have no cause to call for damage at o<sup>r</sup> or the Towns dore. Againe they say their known rights, we Answer, we know that you would have as you say to pil-hunset pond to be accounted y<sup>rs</sup>, but if thither or further be honestly bought, then we say the Town hath of right equal share with you, in all that Land w<sup>ch</sup> is not Pawtuxet: but to run a line of partition upon your foundatiō you speak of, or other grounds w<sup>ch</sup> we are not ignorant of, we say we dare not for the reason aforesaid, unles you can prevaile with our neighbours in a better way than you take, even to P<sup>erswade</sup> them of Warwick Town to lay down their purchase your 2 partners theirs, Stephen Arnold his, Shantatuck theirs, &c at the South, & P<sup>erswade</sup> o<sup>r</sup> neighbour Colony of the Massachusetts at the north, to let o<sup>r</sup> Town and the men of Pawtuxet have about 8 miles into their Patent, & Mendon Towns Land on the west side of that River, & P<sup>erswade</sup> also Billins to Lay down his Land, &

Inmans* his, then, & not till then will it be faire to talk of such a petition to the men of Pawtuxet, w<sup>ch</sup> when that is, we do not think to live to see, Notwithstanding we are willing to referre this issue, to the Jury viz. whether that Land, from the Salt water to the East of Pawtuxet reaching unto the pond called Penhungasset w<sup>ch</sup> he saith is 12 miles west, (and others say 20) be Pawtuxet that he declared to the King in Councel, w<sup>ch</sup> he & his 12 partners bought of divers Indians about 40 yeares since, w<sup>ch</sup> if he can prove, then we will confes his Action just, against us &c. but if he cañot prove that, then we desire dismission, & aford us in Justice, for this molestation as you please

In the behalfe of or selves Arthur ffeñer & Gregory Dexter, & so in the behalfe [of the town of Providence this 17th of the 9th Mo. called November 1677.

HARRIS TO TOWN OF PROVIDENCE, 6 APRIL, 1678.

y<sup>t</sup> desired it need not be required to doe it, but those y<sup>t</sup> oposed it, (: after theire title to it of pautuxett proved to y<sup>e</sup> Jury) (and theire verdict upon it) Therefore y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> Court required those of providence to doe it,* yet y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> Court intending y<sup>t</sup> both partys should Joyntly agree as y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> Court spake, but for y<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> Towne of Providence (Excepting some persons) doth not at all incline any meanes of Joynt Agreement thereabout with us, demaundants, but Continue still theire former detainer of a part of our Just Right, still intending to perplexe us and trouble y<sup>e</sup> sd Court and Country, our Intention of prevention of all which is as followeth (to say) we are ready to Joyne with our Adversareys of Providence to gett a Surveior or two Joyntly to put our power into their hands to fix y<sup>e</sup> place for y<sup>e</sup> head of y<sup>e</sup> sd wanasquetuckett River, to run and Agree y<sup>e</sup> thwart or right line, and y<sup>e</sup> midle line of Devition betweene us &c : and what y<sup>e</sup> sd seveyors doe therein or thereabout wee will abide by and Acknowledge in y<sup>e</sup> sd Court openly,

And that it may further yet apeare, y<sup>t</sup> we doe not desire to trouble y<sup>e</sup> Court nor Country about y<sup>e</sup> other part of y<sup>e</sup> Issue put in tryall above y<sup>e</sup> head of y<sup>e</sup> sayd River as high as penhungganset whether we have not y<sup>e</sup> best Right according to our proportions in y<sup>e</sup> quarter part of y<sup>e</sup> whole, wee are also willing to reffer to y<sup>e</sup> sd surveior or surveyors as aforsayd—But if y<sup>e</sup> sd Towne refuse our sd peaceable offer, or returne us a Contrary Answer or none, then wee will procecute our sd Issue put to y<sup>e</sup> sd Jury at y<sup>e</sup> sd Court as y<sup>e</sup> law Alows and requires as we shall prove, To y<sup>e</sup> sd Towne mett this : 6th of Aprill :† 1678 : In behalfe of Thomas ffeild and myselfe of pautuxett

Worshipfull S<sup>r</sup> with y<sup>e</sup> Rest of the Kinges Majestyes Comitionors, My humble petition is That y<sup>e</sup> would be pleased to Concider The sore & weary travells, Great Encombarance & Charge by many wrongfull molestations opretions & hinderances by many persons for a long time And yet our cause by y<sup>e</sup> good providence of God The Justice of y<sup>e</sup> Court & Country hath hitherto apeared Just, yet never y<sup>e</sup> les our Adversaryes are not satisfyde but continew restles & as Implakable as ever & insinuate threates of great danger, And some of our adversaryes of John Harrudes party have of late since verdict & Judgment for our title & against them fetched of some hay y<sup>t</sup> stood upon y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> land And lately came to burne y<sup>e</sup> woodes ther to defend y<sup>e</sup> fences ther calling them theyres by all which & much more theyr sending to England* or pretending soe to doe shewes more fully theyr dispozitions as I have sd & to my Cost moste certaynly found to be restlesly troublesome. And as to y<sup>e</sup> men of providence (our adversaryes) they are as far from any peacable Agreement as ever they wear derydeing & condemning y<sup>e</sup> verdict & Judgment against them, M<sup>r</sup> Williams in theyr owne towne meeting saying that y<sup>e</sup> Court & Country in

* The town of Warwick, on 29 November, 1677, had appointed Holden and Greene to proceed to England to protest the verdict (Arnold, History of R. I., i: 434).

y<sup>e</sup> said case had done unjustly. And Captayne ffenner sd The Judgment contradicted y<sup>e</sup> verdict, And concidering that noe Clemency nor forbearance betters them nor puts them to any new concideration to reformation It seemeth not A mean to reform them but rather rayseth theyr transported proude pation by pryde to deryde as afore s<sup>d</sup> & too much more to recite And for that they say the Judgment contradicts y<sup>e</sup> verdict And for y<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> legalityty of both Is not only y<sup>e</sup> Honnor & safty of y<sup>e</sup> Courte but our safty allsoe, And for y<sup>t</sup> by y<sup>e</sup> law of England it is in y<sup>e</sup> power of y<sup>e</sup> Court to amend any misprision of a Clerk (if any be) &c while y<sup>e</sup> case is depending in Court both before & after Judgment as in y<sup>e</sup> 9 H 5, 4 & y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> statute made perpetuall y<sup>e</sup> 4 H 6, 3* not doubting but your worships know it, but I mention y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> y<sup>t</sup> our reasons of our requests may therby be understood &c why I pray y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> Jury may againe be Called who may better shew theyr true intent then Captayne ffenner by which his s<sup>d</sup> aspersion he would seem to bring y<sup>e</sup> Court under y<sup>e</sup> penalty of y<sup>e</sup> 8 R 2, 4† for Chainging a verdict. And Concidering y<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> sd Jury had Committed to them an Issue Joyned grounded upon two other partes of our grantes to which thoughe y<sup>e</sup> sd Jury wear sworne as to y<sup>e</sup> rest yet by reason of remote dwelling & y<sup>e</sup> winter Season wear prevented from giving any verdict therupon, for want of which we are without remedy deprived of our rightes by our insulting & ungratfull adversaries to whom we have granted too much all redy I pray Justice to defend y<sup>e</sup> rest. And if it soe be y<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> Jury wear dismissed yet I pray y<sup>e</sup> Court agayne to require them And our farther reason is from y<sup>e</sup> 13 Ed 1, 25,‡ by which statute in a suit wher ther hath bin verdict & Judgment yet if he y<sup>t</sup> had Judgment agaynst him can produce record or rolles y<sup>t</sup> might

* "Justices in certain cases may amend their Records."

† "The penalty if a Judge or Clerk make any false Entry, raze a Roll, or change a verdict . . . Fine and ransom at the King's will."

‡ The statute of the assize of novel disseisin, by which a defendant who had had judgment rendered against him could obtain a writ of venire facias de novo upon presentation of new "record or rolles."

have stood him insted or avayled him (in y<sup>e</sup> Judgment of y<sup>e</sup> Court) before Judgment passed agaynst him by y<sup>e</sup> sd law y<sup>e</sup> sd Court shall agayne require y<sup>e</sup> sd Jury and y<sup>e</sup> partyes And y<sup>e</sup> sd Jury is to pas upon y<sup>e</sup> sd papers or rolles, whenc I reson thus If y<sup>e</sup> Judges may require a Jury & y<sup>e</sup> same Jury to pas in a case between y<sup>e</sup> same persons wher a verdict & Judgment by y<sup>e</sup> same Court & Jury hath found & Judged How much rather may this Court agayne call y<sup>e</sup> same Jury to pas upon an Issue then Joyned to which then sworne but for y<sup>t</sup> time prevented & not yet accomplished Require them to apear & give in theyr verdict therupon & require y<sup>e</sup> apearance of both partyes. my encombrances are very many & only ayded by Gods Assistance agaynst my many adversaryes with many perplexetyes

They of warwick lately Arested me And my partnor Thomas ffield in an action upon a bond of five hundred pound to this Collony Court y<sup>e</sup> sixt of may next y<sup>e</sup> sd bond being obtruded upon his uncle (since ded) & me A menased worthles thing to stand to y<sup>e</sup> verdict of y<sup>e</sup> Jury and Judgment of y<sup>e</sup> Court as we did the sd action was only of trespas by us commenced against warwick which sd arest of Thomas ffield hath put him into a troublesome pation acording to his humor to encrease of my encombrance I am in y<sup>e</sup> Custody of y<sup>e</sup> Goaler but aboute my urgent ocations upon my owne bond to him to returne to him to be at y<sup>e</sup> Court, They of warwick say we have forfeited y<sup>e</sup> sd bond for sueing to y<sup>e</sup> king & in his Court but our action then was only trespas for gras &c but they pretend by our bond y<sup>t</sup> we might never sue more for our land, but y<sup>e</sup> law of England forbides any to deny suit in y<sup>e</sup> kings higher courtes If our action then had bin a demand of land which was not And as y<sup>e</sup> bond by theyr adherentes was obtruded soc it is simple like y<sup>e</sup> obtrution it names noe party nor person to whome bounde & therfore they in theyr writ doe not say for debt to them nor noe other & indeed therby we are bound to noe body, & we did abyde y<sup>e</sup> verdict & Judgment but If we had not execution had bin law but y<sup>e</sup> bond contrary & to y<sup>e</sup> law of England yet we are perplexed by them as we use to be, other slighthes they have used to keep of execution one of them came to me & s<sup>d</sup> If I would keep of execution they would call back theyr Agents y<sup>t</sup> are gon to new york to goe to England but I sayd to them let them goe I would not forbear executiō We have Information that warwick agents thus predict That they will shew y<sup>e</sup> King that they wear Judged by incompetent Judges of y<sup>e</sup> united Collonyes who formerly plundered them of which wrong say they will now complayne And y<sup>t</sup> they soe intend: they have soe sd, And Dextor hath bin very active to get them some witnesses I knew not to what perticularly but in generall as to y<sup>e</sup> coming up of y<sup>e</sup> massachusets agaynst them they went to some here in this towne for witnes, And Roger Williams hath wrot to his friends in England to befriend them And in perticuler to y<sup>e</sup> lady Vane who promesed him such curtecy and one tould it y<sup>t</sup> heard him read it

Allsoe theyr agents of warwick sd to Nathaniell Waterman our partnor in patuxet & theyr partnor in warwick, y<sup>t</sup> we had cast them into hands of M<sup>r</sup> Browne* (to say) meaning in to y<sup>e</sup> hands of y<sup>e</sup> granttees & Morgagees of y<sup>e</sup> Narraganset Country, & then concidering y<sup>e</sup> unyon of y<sup>e</sup> Collonyes And y<sup>e</sup> conquest and clayme of Conecticot who had woon y<sup>e</sup> field & would keep it & try theyr title & condemn it seeing they had not & others had Conounicus his title they wear forced to goe to y<sup>e</sup> king to get another maner of tryall And recompence for y<sup>e</sup> wrong y<sup>e</sup> Massachusetts they sd had done them theyr Agents being now in England to answer did not doubt but to recover theyr damage And concidering y<sup>e</sup> Corespondency they had (& others had not) at New york A tryall would have a happy Judgment there

but when y<sup>e</sup> warwickeds (to say) theyr agents shall as they will suggest disloyallty of theyr Countrymen & flatter y<sup>e</sup> King

* Warwick, in 1672 and 1673, had controversy with James Browne of Swansea, who with his brother, John Browne, and brother-in-law, Thomas Willet, had purchased land at Potowomut Neck from petty sachems. (See MS. Copies of Warwick Records, pp. 26-30, in R. I. H. S. Library.) Potowomut was claimed by Warwick as being within the lines of her original purchase.

Then it will be good to shew a booke of theyr great prophets Gortons dedecated to Cromwell wherein he commendeth his dealing with y<sup>e</sup> king & sayth y<sup>t</sup> he is a meror for after aiges to looke into & y<sup>t</sup> he could not well doe other wayes* And war-wickmen offered up to Richard Cromwell a great fire aboute a tree & a pitch barell in y<sup>e</sup> top therof they being mistically minded most like intended a light to see: & fire to consume Richards & theyr enemyes but y<sup>e</sup> smoke & smeech therof well vewed will take of y<sup>e</sup> glas of theyr pretended laurell loyalty
besydes here seems some preparation for mony for some travelling designe but all events at y<sup>e</sup> pleasure of God to whome I commend all afayres

OLNEY AND WHIPPLE TO THE COURT, 21 MAY, 1678.

Endorsed:—Thō Olney Assist & Jō Whipples retorn conc'n-ing their trust frō y<sup>e</sup> Court

*Gorton's An Antidote against the Common Plague of the World, London, 1657, was dedicated "To his Highness OLIVER Lord PROTECTOR, of England, Scotland, and Ireland, with the Dominions thereto belonging." At one place in the dedication, Gorton says: "I know not but that God hath made your Highness the mirrour of this age, as also exemplary for that to come."

Whereas at yo<sup>r</sup> last sitting at Providence November y<sup>e</sup> 17th: 1677: Wee received order from you by which wee were required to summons y<sup>e</sup> free men of o<sup>r</sup> Towne together to make choyce of men to runn a direct line a thwart from y<sup>e</sup> head of Wanasquatuckett River to Pautuxett River. And then to runn a line Equally betweene y<sup>e</sup> sayd Pautuxett River and Wanasquatuckett River untill they meete with y<sup>e</sup> afor sd thwart line ;—The which done, then to require, & see y<sup>t</sup> George Way Gave possession to william Harris, Thomas ffield, & Nathanaell Waterman of y<sup>e</sup> landes on y<sup>e</sup> south side of y<sup>e</sup> sd partition line.

According to yo<sup>r</sup> Order wee caused y<sup>e</sup> Towne to meete upon y<sup>e</sup> 24th day of Decembr 1677: three men were chosen to doe y<sup>e</sup> worke which you ordred to be done as to y<sup>e</sup> sd lines: Upon y<sup>e</sup> 17th of this instant, o<sup>r</sup> Towne being mett wee desired to be informed whether y<sup>e</sup> sd worke was perfected y<sup>t</sup> possession might be given according to yo<sup>r</sup> Order, y<sup>t</sup> so wee might fully performe y<sup>e</sup> trust to us comitted; the answere which wee received was y<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> worke was not yet perfected so as to be in a Cappacitye for us to give possession;* wee have since inquired as long as time would give way, but find y<sup>e</sup> work is not yet perfected, whereby possession is not performed. Thus have wee rendred yo<sup>r</sup> Hon<sup>rs</sup>: an account of o<sup>r</sup> proceeds. Resting

*The only action taken by the Town had been on 27 April, 1678, when they accepted the return of the committee as to the head of the Woonasquatucket river, and voted that John Smith, the surveyor, be procured to run the lines (Prov. Rec., viii: 28). Olney and Whipple favored Harris's claims and had protested against the Town's act of 24 December, 1677, as not being "acording to the Comition<sup>rs</sup> order" (Idem, viii: 22).

HARRIS TO THE COURT, 23 MAY, 1678.

Honnored Courte siting by the Kings Majestyes spetiall Command at Boston the 23th of May 1678 upon Adjurnment,

My Humble petition is That for as much as by verdict & Judgment our true title & right (acording to our proportions) the propriety of the lands of patuxet is found & Judged oures, in & by such good form of law as Required by y<sup>e</sup> King his Majesty requireing as y<sup>e</sup> law allsoe doth Execution without delay we Humbly pray y<sup>e</sup> same with all convenyent speed, And pray we may have Restitution and seissin in our s<sup>d</sup> lands withheld & detayned by y<sup>e</sup> towne of warwick at & aboute Toskaunkanet on y<sup>e</sup> northward syde of patuxet river & of y<sup>e</sup> longest & maynest branch therof as high as penhunggans[et]

And allsoe pray we may have Execution as to y<sup>e</sup> cost & damage found & Judged due to us from them.

And wheras a partty at providence pretend to be a towne to defraude theyr Neighbors of theyr rights & lands who have & still refuse to performe theyr promises & agreements sollemly made with us & to us nor matter y<sup>e</sup> Judgment nor verdict as to our right nor to obeoy y<sup>e</sup> same but contrary therto mallygne each to such great contempt of legallety y<sup>t</sup> we have noe Expectation of theyr consent to our right nor agreement to y<sup>t</sup> which is Just therfore we pray of y<sup>e</sup> Court that y<sup>e</sup> same Jury may agayne be called to expres whether y<sup>e</sup> Judgment be not acording to y<sup>e</sup> verdict for y<sup>t</sup> Arthure ffenner sayth the Judgment contradicts y<sup>e</sup> verdict therfore If y<sup>e</sup> Jury agayne meet y<sup>e</sup> truth of y<sup>t</sup> matter may apear.

And allsoe as we pray the Jury may give theyr verdict so to y<sup>e</sup> full & whole Issue Joyned between us & committed to them y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> Jury, which apears by our declaration of our demand from our grant which y<sup>e</sup> Jury hath not as yet sd anything to as verdict And as yet hath only given theyr verdict as to our right to y<sup>t</sup> land Reaching from y<sup>e</sup> lands on wanasquetacket River to patuxet River (in y<sup>t</sup> case) which sd verdict of y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> Jury y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> persons with M<sup>r</sup> ffenner & M<sup>r</sup> ffenner doe endeavor to delude and defraude by misrepresenting a head of wanasquetucket River which in law & reason is not y<sup>e</sup> head of y<sup>e</sup> sd River but below & short of y<sup>e</sup> head of y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> River which we with great paynes cost and Jeopardy optayned & possesed them with y<sup>e</sup> same by vertue first of a grant to us which sd head they hold & from us y<sup>e</sup> same head (as to y<sup>e</sup> lands reaching therfrom) to patuxet River, and soe make two heads one higher for themselves and one lower for us

And not only soe but insted of runing with us a derect thwart line to patuxet River refuse us in y<sup>t</sup> matter & run by themselves an inderect line makeing rather an acute Angle and soe intend to devide to us y<sup>e</sup> poynte or narrowest end therof & y<sup>e</sup> brode end to themselves and y<sup>e</sup> longest land* And

not only soe but by theyr s<sup>d</sup> lines & devition of such s<sup>d</sup> land in such s<sup>d</sup> form devide to us such land as we doe not sue for which s<sup>d</sup> land some of it is allredy conveyed to others for all theyrs above or westward of pachaset River which s<sup>d</sup> conveyance is by an award Authourised by y<sup>e</sup> Collony of masachusets & Rhod Island long since And y<sup>e</sup> moste Eastward land in defference is above or westward of y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> River which s<sup>d</sup> is proved by papers we have put to y<sup>e</sup> Court & Jury all redy in theyr (to say) y<sup>e</sup> Courtes Custody And y<sup>e</sup> land we sued for reaching to patuxet River lyes above pachaset River betweene wanasquetucket River and patuxet river by y<sup>e</sup> consent Joynt agreement & subscriptions of y<sup>e</sup> townes men of providence M<sup>r</sup> ffenner, M<sup>r</sup> Dextor & y<sup>e</sup> rest to devide with us yet now strive with us against all as afores<sup>d</sup> as apears by an award and y<sup>e</sup> Record of providence towne now in y<sup>e</sup> Court contrary to all which they would devide to us (to say) y<sup>t</sup> land y<sup>t</sup> is neither theyrs nor oures and deny devition of oures & theyres contrary to all faythfullnes and promes &c Therefore we pray y<sup>e</sup> Court to apoynt y<sup>e</sup> right derect line equally and Justly to be run for it cannot be Imagined y<sup>t</sup> they (to say) M<sup>r</sup> ffenner & M<sup>r</sup> Dextor & y<sup>e</sup> rest who make & openly proclame & Justefy y<sup>t</sup> paper they call theyr sovereigne plaster (which is in y<sup>e</sup> Court) contayneing a resolution in them to take away our land notwithstanding any agreement with us (as they themselves say) will keep theyr promes or doe y<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> Court requires to performe it (to say) give us our land, And we pray allsoe restitution in to our s<sup>d</sup> land by Execution, And execution as to our damage & Costs

Mashapaug rivers unite ; and the second is drawn from the same former point to the union of the Pawtuxet and Pocasset rivers. Harris, however, understood the "head of the Wanasquetucket" as reaching about three miles further north. Robert Hazard, a Portsmouth surveyor, probably was the author of this map. In Harris's inventory, 1682, are mentioned "Severall sirveiors instruments (viz) a plaine table, y<sup>e</sup> stafe, y<sup>e</sup> Cumpasse, & y<sup>e</sup> Chaine" which had been lent to Hazard, but not returned (Prov. Rec., vi: 37). "Robert Hazzards Mapp" is occasionally referred to in connection with Pawtuxet disputes (Prov. Rec. xiv: 146).

And a persons protest against an act of others takes of all guilt of doing y<sup>e</sup> act And by y<sup>e</sup> like equity should free such from y<sup>e</sup> penalty likewise, If noe guilt noe punishment

And If it were not soe (in such case) noe innocent person could escape y<sup>e</sup> guilt & punishment of & for others ofences

And on y<sup>e</sup> Contrary y<sup>t</sup> leaders & misrulers of others are & ought to be mostly damnefyde by penalty is thought Just generally

And If execution goe out & should not be limited to y<sup>e</sup> guilty partty it will not only oppress y<sup>e</sup> innocent but be an oca-tion of more suites of which I pray may be prevented for y<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> innocent have done what they can all redy to prevent y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> former suites & latter allsoe

We allsoe pray Restitution into our lands recovered from John Towers, And Execution of Costs & damages And all y<sup>e</sup> fore s<sup>d</sup> we pray with all convenyent speed for y<sup>t</sup> it is not Just y<sup>t</sup> some mens unjust actings should continew to prolong other innocent mens damage cost & wrong. therefore as aforesd prayeth as an atorney in y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> suits for my partnors therin named demandants And for myself

HARRIS TO THE COURT, 18 JUNE, 1678.

This presented to the Kinges Majestyes Court siting at providence by Adjurnment this 18th of June 1678

May it pleas this Honnored Court that for as much as we propriators of patuxet have optayned of our Lord y<sup>e</sup> King his Order for a Court &c And have had five verdicts and foure Judgments for our true title to y<sup>e</sup> lands called patuxet, acording to our proportions ever since January 1677 And yet have not nor can have restitution nor execution by reason of obstruction & objection pretended by some from y<sup>e</sup> uncertaynty of y<sup>e</sup> meaning of y<sup>e</sup> verdict of y<sup>e</sup> Jury as what they mean by a derect line from y<sup>e</sup> head of Wanasquetucket River to patuxet River And for y<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> Court hath had many Jurnyes trouble and charge And we y<sup>e</sup> Complaynants and demandants much trouble Charge and damage Therfore we to shorten trouble & cost to y<sup>e</sup>
Court & ourselves & others offer as followeth

That we are Redy (If y<sup>e</sup> Court pleas) (& our 'Adersarys accept it) to refer to Mr Robert Haszard* (on our part) what & wher y<sup>e</sup> head of y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> Wanasquetucket river shall be or is And what and wher y<sup>e</sup> direct thwart line shall be run, And what and wher patuxet River or y<sup>e</sup> mayne & longest branch thereof as in our declaration to which we have had soe many verdicts

If y<sup>e</sup> defendants or tenants will refer y<sup>e</sup> same likewise to any surveyer y<sup>t</sup> they Chuse to whose agreements we & they shall submit but if y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> surveyers cannot agree that y<sup>e</sup> Court to Chuese a discreet wise unconcerned & least suspected man to be umpire of any difference y<sup>t</sup> may hapen betweene y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> two surveyers

or If y<sup>e</sup> afore sd will not be accepted of by our adversaries I will be at ten pound Charge upon y<sup>e</sup> Juryes coming together agayne (If y<sup>e</sup> Court pleas) (& we pray may agayne meet on y<sup>e</sup> sd land & actually set y<sup>e</sup> sd head of Wanasquetucket River The thwart line & y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> patuxet River or y<sup>e</sup> longest & maynest branch or streame ther of, according to y<sup>e</sup> equity of y<sup>e</sup> 13 Ed, 1, 25† And I pray A true copy here of may be by y<sup>e</sup> Courts apoyntment atested

In behalf of Thomas ffield & my self demandants

STOUGHTON AND BULKLEY TO PLANTATIONS COMMITTEE, 30 JULY, 1678.

Lands and plantations

In obedience to his majesties command received William Stoughton Peter Bulkley in answer to y<sup>e</sup> petetion & adres of Randall Holdan and John Green * of warwick in new england : humbly ofer y<sup>t</sup> its about : 35 : years since these matturs hapned with which y<sup>e</sup> petetioners being y<sup>e</sup> complaints against y<sup>e</sup> massatusets Colony at which time these respondants were not of age to acquaint themselves with proseedings in y<sup>t</sup> nature nor til now have they are bin consarned to acquaint themselves of them and therefore can give no particular account of them only in the general they have latly bin informed and do believe for truth that these complaynants espeshaly some of them may be traced in the colonies where they have dwelt from place to place as y<sup>e</sup> authors and fomenter of much trouble and disquietnes Gorton the chief among them was while he lived first expeled y<sup>e</sup> colonei of new plymoth thence returning Rhoad island he was publicquily whipt for their seditious carages & afronts to authoriti there upon he and M<sup>r</sup> Randall holdon and several othrs with them combined with them in the same practis were made to quit that island. from hence they went to the town of providence then under noe setled government

* The petition of Holden and Greene is printed in 5 Mass. Hist. Soc. Coll., i: 505, where it is assumed that the date is December, 1678. The statements in the petition, however, are answered specifically in the above reply of Stoughton and Bulkley, dated 30 July, 1678, and the Journal of the Lords of Trade, 30 July, date the reference of the petition on 17 July previous (Cal. State Papers Col. Am. & W. I., 1677-80, no. 768). William Stoughton and Peter Bulkley had been sent by Massachusetts as agents to London in September, 1676. Their address was answered by Holden and Greene, 30 July, 1678, (Idem, no. 767); but the Lords of Trade took no decisive action until 2 January, 1679.

but what was by combynation among themselves and though on act of their behavior they could not obtain the consent of the chiefest and better part of the inhabitance to be entertained as dwellers among them yet for some time forcing an aboad with them soon broake the peac of that place also so that they were once drawn out in arms one against another and blood-shed scarcely avoided which forced them of providence to make their cause known to the massatusets and having no better way of adrese to crave their protection that the originoll & principle ground of the controversies between them and the massatusets was not any thing in Religion but of a meer civil nature for these men leaving the town of providence went to a place adjacen now cawled warwick and there by vertue of a pretended purchase of unserping narrowganset sachem they intruded themselves into the lands and habitations of two other sachims the rightfull lords and proprietiers thereof who having before that time craved and submited themselves to the protection and goverment of y<sup>e</sup> massatusets complaining of this their great wrong praying their interposition which was a way far more ellegable then that these indians wronged should have sought to rite themselves by force and their own arms against the wrong doers which might have proved of dangerous conciquence to the english in generall that the massitusets sending to these complainants and endeavouring to issue the whole mattar in a fair and just way of proceeding were entertained with the most opprobrious messages scornful returns & highes affronts and provocations that can redily be thought on and although by their straining and voluntary ventering themselves in y<sup>e</sup> highest poynts of Christian religion they gave an ocation unthought on or unsought for of annemadverting on them yet how little rason they have to entitle their sufferings to thir not relinquishing (as they say) the sound doctrains and christion principles taught them in their minority by y<sup>e</sup> the church of england will easily appear upon perusal of their letters sent to the massatusets and y<sup>e</sup> writings of that grand hyrarchy their great leader Samuel Gorton aforesaid most full of absurd apsurd opinions notions

heterodoxes & some thinke neerly bordering upon if not downright blasphemy. so that Gorton's were caled in by a committe of parlament

That the proceedings the massatusets against these parsons were by the exspres consent and avice of y<sup>e</sup> other colonies who looke themselves as joyntly and equally consarned thereinfor the security for the whole for as much as at y<sup>e</sup> time the late civil war here in england had proceeded so far that there was no way opne for y<sup>m</sup> in this or the like case to apply themselves to his then majesty for a more regular decizion or adres

That about the year 1644 as these respondants are informed y<sup>e</sup> complainats some of them came over into england who made their adres not to his maisties royal father but to the parlyment y<sup>t</sup> then was and their committee of lords for forrain plantations maniging their complaints so far as their case wuold bare nor did their loialty in the last hinder them from so doing nor from seeking an authority and constitution of government solely from the powers then in being which loyalty doubtles they still hold on when afterwards Mr Randal Holdon being one of the bench one John goold was fined three pounds for drinking a helth to his preasent majestie then in his exsise as also when these men of warwick with joy of bonfiers voluntarily and uncommanded proclaimed Richard Cromwell protector

As to the withdrawing of the forces of y<sup>e</sup> collonies from their towns in the lat[ ] indean war these respondance answ[ ]

That the government of Rhoad isla[ ] to whom these towns belonged would never yeald any joynt assistants again[ ] the comman enemy nor not so much as [ ] their own bownds upon the maine n[or] garison these their own towns Providence and warwick so that if upon the withdrawing of y<sup>e</sup> forces nesesarly to pursue y<sup>e</sup> routed indians up into y<sup>e</sup> wilderness they sustained damage y<sup>e</sup> blame must lye upon their own goverment & not on y<sup>e</sup> other Colonies much les y<sup>t</sup> of y<sup>e</sup> massitusets.

and for their last complaints of William Harris the judgment given and the whole proces in pursuanc of his majesties commands to y<sup>e</sup> governors of the several colonies was since these respondents came over to england yet they and all other know y<sup>e</sup> y<sup>e</sup> two gentlemen deputed out of the massatusetts to be judges in y<sup>e</sup> case were men of known moderation & indifferencye who had never bin ingaged against y<sup>e</sup> complainants nor at all concerned in y<sup>e</sup> preasen controvarcie and such alsoe y<sup>e</sup> rest deputed out of y<sup>e</sup> other colonies will appear to have bin and not profosed mortall enemies as is most slanderously and unchristianly represented

HARRIS TO STEELE, 15 AUGUST, 1678.

Endorsed by Harris:—A cobby of a question sent to Searjant Steele for resolution 15 August 1678

Seeing all y<sup>e</sup> Charttors granted by y<sup>e</sup> Kings Majesty in & to new England & y<sup>e</sup> Collonyes Grant y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> land to be held in free & Common Sockage &c Acording to y<sup>e</sup> Custom of his manor of East Greenwich in Kent

* Harris asked this question because he shortly intended to draw up his will, in which he wished to entail his property for as long a time as possible. The Rhode Island Charter required that land should be held "as of the Mannor of East Greenwich, in our county of Kent," and according to the law of Kent, which was the law of gavelkind, estates descended in equal portions to all male heirs.

here is great need of A resolution in y<sup>e</sup> sd case for here is noe certayne knowledg of y<sup>e</sup> full & certaine meaning of y<sup>e</sup> sd words

nor (as yet) have they any prescription

Some Collonyes they give y<sup>e</sup> Eldest Son a duble portion (to any of y<sup>e</sup> younger) & to y<sup>e</sup> younger equall partes but in this Collony of Rhod Island each towne hath a Councill & y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> Councill for theyr townes (intestates) make wills according to theyr pleasures & done according to theyr interests & afaction or disafactions & y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> counccills Chose every year & mostly changed as often

prayeth a clear answer in writing

HARRIS TO THE COURT, 1 OCTOBER, 1678.

Endorsed by Harris :—"presented to y<sup>e</sup> Court at providence y<sup>e</sup> i of octō 1678"

To the Kings Majestyes Court siting by his spetiall command at providence upone Adjurnment y<sup>e</sup> first of october 1678 And 30th year of his Majestyes Reigne

May it please your Honnor to take notice of y<sup>e</sup> complaynt & demand of proprietors of patuxet Against severall partyes tenants by force holding our lands against whome we have had verdicts & Judgments yet notwithstanding still hold & use

our land As the men of warwick & yet we cannot optayn execution nor restitution nor agaynst others nor y<sup>e</sup> Towne of providence or against some y<sup>t</sup> soe pretend or asume to be whose Irrationall objections seeme to be y<sup>e</sup> present obstructions Therefore we pray a hearing of our answer thereto

Our demand being all y<sup>e</sup> land above pachaset River as high as penhunganset to a middle line betweene y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> patuxet River and wanasquetucket River

They of providence tenants by force Arthur ffener & his party under y<sup>e</sup> name of A towne wear by yourselves y<sup>e</sup> Court required To run y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> line (to say) The middle line of an equall distance between patuxet river & wanasquetucket till it mete with a direct thwart line from wanasquetucket river to patuxet river The s<sup>d</sup> Arthur ffener & the rest of his party tenants by force not regarding verdict nor Judgment of Court nor theyr ad[v]ice to run y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> line with us demandants to speed y<sup>e</sup> mater they run a line only by themselves saying only they have power from y<sup>e</sup> court to run or fix y<sup>e</sup> said line, wherfore they picked (supposedly) on ye head of wanasquetucket river & soe to y<sup>e</sup> mouth of pachaset river wher it runeth into patuxet river designeing not only to defraude y<sup>e</sup> verdict & Judgment against them (to say) Arthure ffener & his party tenants by force but all y<sup>e</sup> verdicts & Judgments against others (whome we sued) all contrary to y<sup>e</sup> award & agreement y<sup>t</sup> providence Towne (all save two men now dead y<sup>t</sup> wear of patuxet) subscribed to performe (to say) to run a line betweene patuxet river & wanasquetucket at an equall distance, to which performance Arthure ffener subscribed Gregory Dextor & Roger Williams witnes an Authentick copy of y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> award & theyr subscriptions presented to y<sup>e</sup> Courte in our plea & we pray it may againe be read in court as prooffe

And we pray y<sup>e</sup> Court & Jury to mynd y<sup>t</sup> by theyr plat is designd y<sup>t</sup> as they draw theyr line to pachaset river & noe higher upon patuxet river they make voyd all y<sup>e</sup> other verdicts & Judgments (as much as in them lyes) which we optayned higher upon patuxet River as at Toskaunk & above it against warwick, And those y<sup>t</sup> wear at meshuntatacke as John Har-

rud &c, And John Towers &c, And yet in y<sup>e</sup> tryall had noe reason to shew to y<sup>e</sup> Court nor country to prevent y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> verdicts & Judgments against them.

And seeing our good & sound reasons we shewed for our right seemes by some to be soe forgotten or blotted out by a dumb Irrationall line drawne in y<sup>e</sup> skin of a beast by noe rationall understanding in y<sup>e</sup> heart of any man, should in y<sup>e</sup> least speak better reason (thoughe it say nothing by its silly sylence) then all our sound grounds for our Just right which our adversaryes neither wear nor are able to answer we pray leave briefly to remember y<sup>e</sup> Court & Country of some

first The s<sup>d</sup> wanasquetucket &c & y<sup>e</sup> lands thereupon our adversaryes had onely of us of patuxet And y<sup>t</sup> lands reaching from thence to patuxet river was oures allsoe then they rose up against us in mutinous maner yet for peace sake we granted to them y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> wanasquetucket river & y<sup>e</sup> lands therupon And our proprieties to be by us & them severed (to say) of patuxet or parted: namly y<sup>e</sup> lands reaching from y<sup>e</sup> land we granted (by y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> award to them) to patuxet River which s<sup>d</sup> land under theyr hands in y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> award they acknowledg our proprieties but if they stand not to: nor abide by: y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> award under theyr hands Then is y<sup>t</sup> land on y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> wanasquetucket yet oures of patuxet And not Arthure ffenners nor his partyes for y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> land on y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> Rivers was by Roger Williams made over to thirteene of us patuxet men & then had y<sup>e</sup> towne Authourity & rule allsoe, then they not to limit us

If our Adversaryes say as they may That Roger Williams hath since y<sup>t</sup> gave them a deed therof

To y<sup>t</sup> we say he had noe lawfull power soe to doe for then he was but one of us y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> thirteene as by y<sup>e</sup> dates of y<sup>e</sup> grants in Court it will apear

And Roger williams had noe more Authoureyty to grant y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> land in such maner & form then he had to grant patuxet to others after he had granted it to us And yet under his hand he sayth he would grant it for y<sup>e</sup> good of plantation to others as in an Authentick Coppy under publique test in y<sup>e</sup> Court will prove

Soe y<sup>t</sup> our adversaryes have noe Authentick Grant but of us of patuxet nor noe more then we granted them (on y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> rivers) by y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> grant, And therefore we pray y<sup>t</sup> our Adversaryes may shew theyr grantes of y<sup>t</sup> land they clame (If any they have) & of y<sup>t</sup> land they deny us, as if we were at theyr allowance when as indeed they had none but what they had by us & obtained y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> grant of us by men as in mutenous maner

If they say they have confirmations of y<sup>e</sup> sachems & soe have more right

To y<sup>t</sup> we say The s<sup>d</sup> confirmations Grant & confirme to us as well as to them but still to both them & us according to our Joynt agreements, upon which we of patuxet payd y<sup>e</sup> quarter part of y<sup>e</sup> payments to y<sup>e</sup> sachems or Monorches (to say) (over y<sup>e</sup> Indeans) as we have proved in Court by a coppy under publique test, which sd payments & Confirmations (for they are severall read in Court) they wear of lands allsoe above y<sup>e</sup> sd wanasquetucket as highe as penhunganset according to our demand & y<sup>e</sup> bounds set by y<sup>e</sup> unyversall consent of y<sup>e</sup> Towne of providence, soe y<sup>t</sup> still higher then y<sup>e</sup> sd wanasquetucket our right runs upward wherfore then should our adversaryes stop us at y<sup>e</sup> mouth of pachaset River eleven or twelve miles below penhunganset & aboute 9 miles below y<sup>e</sup> head of wanasquetucket river as on our plot & therby we shall prove it compared with theyr plat And all y<sup>e</sup> while they thus obtrude & soe delude as not to prove theyr title to y<sup>t</sup> land they deny us & detayne themselves never shewing why (by grant) we pray y<sup>e</sup> Court to take notice That Thoughe Arthure ffenner & his party were required to run y<sup>e</sup> line which formerly they & we agreed on & we sued for & y<sup>e</sup> verdict & Judgment for us, yet y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> tenants by force will not finde y<sup>e</sup> head of y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> River nor y<sup>e</sup> middle line

but insted of y<sup>e</sup> derect thwart line which would make a rect Angle with a right line drawne upon wanasquetucket to y<sup>e</sup> right head therof

They make y<sup>e</sup> head of wanasquetucket on y<sup>e</sup> greatest body of water on y<sup>e</sup> River And draw a line from thence to pachaset river & soe make an acute Angle

And as they have had oportunity to shew their platfation or form I pray leave to shew theyr plats disagreement to our demand & y<sup>e</sup> verdict & Judgment

If y<sup>e</sup> head they have set be not y<sup>e</sup> head of y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> River then they have not performed y<sup>e</sup> verdict nor Judgment nor our demand which long since they subscribed to perform

Therefore they have not performed y<sup>e</sup> verdict nor Judgment

but Arthure ffener hath set y<sup>e</sup> head of y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> river in y<sup>e</sup> bignes or greatnes of it

* A law authorizing the Mayor and Commonalty of London "to lay and amend conduits in and about London." Its pertinency to the present controversy is not apparent, unless it is that the said Mayor and Commonalty were authorized to go and look up the springs for themselves.

Therefore not according to verdict & Judgment Therefore we pray y<sup>e</sup> Jury to doe it themselves according to y<sup>e</sup> fores<sup>d</sup> 35 H 8 10 at y<sup>e</sup> upward old springs & antient head
 our Adversaries object That we must not chuese y<sup>e</sup>
 head of y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> river to measure thereby

Answer we wear Granttees to y<sup>e</sup> fores<sup>d</sup> sachems & by y<sup>e</sup>
 law of England granttees are to have y<sup>e</sup> moste favorable and benefitall construction the 18 El 2 Sta* against y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> Queen & her succesors, & soe are all patents in New England to patenttees

The same by law we had & y<sup>e</sup> same we granted & y<sup>e</sup> same measure we must have agayne of our adversaries (to say) to y<sup>e</sup> uper springs & antient head to take scantling from

And as they have not set y<sup>e</sup> right head of y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> river soe
 they have not run y<sup>e</sup> derect line or right line for it is all on : rect : & right,

And insted of performance make silly bold Jeers upon
 y<sup>e</sup> verdict for say they y<sup>e</sup> midle line must be run till it
 meet with a derect thwart line & say they as if a thwart line were run all redy which if they say what need they doe it againe

To which we Answer & say y<sup>e</sup> words are sound words of a rt. (to say) a derect line, but to our adversaries y<sup>t</sup> better understand a thwart line y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> thwart may be best for them

And wher as it sayd till it mete with a derect line it is simply construed by our adversaries for ther ar many lines truly Immagined or suposed in y<sup>e</sup> heavens which never were run in their simple sence

yet notwithstanding The s<sup>d</sup> midle line may be run till it mete with y<sup>t</sup> derect line by a surveyor haveing plated y<sup>e</sup> rivers from y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> head by his plat can tell when he is come to y<sup>t</sup> derect line by leting a perpendiculer fall upon y<sup>e</sup>

* Confirmation of all Letters Patents made by the Queen since the beginning of her reign."

which sd derect line from y<sup>e</sup> head of y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> river presupposeth a line or base to be drawne upone wanasquetucket on y<sup>e</sup> plat which with y<sup>e</sup> perpendicular line makes a rect Angle or right Angle

Insted of which right Angle acording to verdict & Judgment soe it ought to be plated Arthure ffener & his party have drawne an acute Angle cuting of our land which they themselves have actually delivered to us by partition as we shall more playnly shew by our plat* That we have devided thus far (to say) we began as we agreed to devide by our award at a spring at sasafrax Cove & run a midle line to mashapaug to a marked oake tree

Then we run a head line And they tooke theyr station at theyr syde at durty Cove

And we toke our station at a poynt of land by patuxet river neer papaqueneauge

Then we toke a midle line upon y<sup>t</sup> head line & y<sup>t</sup> was run to pachaset River

Then another head line was taken from wanasquetucket river neer solletary hill† for y<sup>e</sup> towne And another to meet y<sup>t</sup> for patuxet at patuxet river neer pachaset river for another head line

And then a midle line ran from y<sup>t</sup> head line upward as highe as a place called by some Hipses Rock which is a mile or two above pachaset river

And ther stoped for y<sup>t</sup> time with this record in y<sup>e</sup> towne booke (viz<sup>t</sup>) y<sup>t</sup> if any defference arose aboute devi-

RETURN OF THE COMMISSIONERS TO THE KING, 5 OCTOBER, 1678.

[The proceedings of the Court, November, 1677, which occupy the first pages of this document, are here omitted, since they are merely transcribed from the official proceedings as previously printed, No. 70, p. 222.]

The Court upon the acceptance of the aforesaid Verdicts, ordered the Town of Providence to choose men to run the thwart line from the head of Wanasquetuckett River directly to Pawtuxit River, and the dividing line according to the Jury's Verdict and Judgment of the Court, & also ordered the Town Serjeant after the lines were run to give possession of the Lands on the South side of the said dividing line to the Pltfs, & ordered two Gentl<sup>m</sup> of Providence to see it accordingly done, the said orders being given under the hands of all the eight Commission<sup>rs</sup> of the said Court, and then adjourned the Court to Boston to bee held on the 23rd of May, 1678. that so they might have opportunity to advise with their respective Gov<sup>rs</sup> whether they had power to grant execution for the Costs of Court &c and to do other things for the perfecting of the returne of that affaire (committed to their management) unto their respective Gov<sup>rs</sup>. But Connecticott Commiss<sup>rs</sup> not meeting at that adjournm<sup>t</sup> to Boston, one of them being sick (as was said) it was a question whether the Court were not thereby dissolved, but in fine, the other six who there mett judged they had power to adjourne the Court to another time, in hope that all might then appeare and so continue the being of the Court to perfect what yet remained, and accordingly agreed to adjourne the Court to Providence aforesaid to bee held the 18th day of June next ensuing, where accordingly all the eight Commissioners mett, expecting to receive a satisfactory accompt of the running of the said lines by Providence men, according to the order of Court & Verdict of Jury, but had a Returne from the Town Sargeant that hee had done nothing as to the execution of his Warrant; and a Return from the two Gentl<sup>m</sup> impowered to see him give possession to the Pltfs as aforesaid that the lines being not perfected they could not performe it, yet withall, Capt<sup>n</sup> Fenner in behalfe of the Town of Providence, had presented a Mapp or Draft of the running of Wanasquetuckett River and part of Pawtuxit River, so much as they thought served their turne, and of the thwart line they run from the head of the s<sup>d</sup> Wanasquetuckett River to Pawtuxit River, which thwart line the Court Could not accept of, judging it not to answer the Courts order according to the true meaning of the Jury's Verdict, because the line run is rather an accute angle, than a direct thwart line, right angle or square line as the Court judged was the Jury's intendment, for by the agreement of the artists of both parties, the s<sup>d</sup> Wenasquetuckett River for the generality of it runs nearest North North West, yet they run the said thwart line nearest N. & by W. and S. by E. which cutts the Pltfs from most of the Lands given them by the Verdicts of the s<sup>d</sup> Jury, and therefore in reason cannot bee the intendment of their Verdict, respecting the s<sup>d</sup> thwart line; after much debate about it, the

Court thought it might bee most satisfactory to have the former Jury themselves to explain their own meaning in their Verdict, and accordingly summoned them to appear at their next adjournment to bee held at s<sup>d</sup> Providence Oct<sup>r</sup> the first 1678. hoping the equity of the 13 Ed. 1. 25. might warr<sup>t</sup> us therein ; where, in case the same Jury though dismist may bee called againe especially, considering His Maj<sup>ties</sup> speciall command in order to a finall determination of that difference according to justice, which wee were Comissionated unto.

At which adjournment, there appeared the Commissioners following. viz<sup>t</sup> Tho : Hinckley Pres : Major James Cudworth, Simon Lynde, Daniel HENCHMAN, & Cap<sup>n</sup> George DENISON, who then adjourned to the next day in expectation of Road Island Commiss<sup>rs</sup>, who accordingly came alleging the reason of their not coming the day before, was because they could not gett over Providence Ferry, the other Connecticut Commissioner being gone to Barbados (as was said) by reason of whose absence the Road Island Commiss<sup>rs</sup> declared that according to their Judgments wee were not a Court and had not power to act as a Court ; according to their understanding of the Commissions from the severall Governors and accordingly withdrew themselves from the Court, though concurring with the rest of the Commissioners in all that is before written and subscribing themselves His Maj<sup>ties</sup> Loyall Subjects, and Your Honours

Peleg Sandford.
John Coggeshall.

The rest of the Commissioners notwithstanding humbly conceived (with submission to better Judgements) that though it were necessary that all the Commissioners should bee present at the first meeting to constitute the Court, yet being constituted into Court Order, it is necessarily understood, that the major part do make a Quorum, though not exprest according to the known maxime, Quod necessario sub intelligitur non deest, who hav power to Act as a Court, though every individuall member of it sh<sup>d</sup> not bee present ; otherwise it might bee in the power of any one of them out of designe to absent himselfe, and thereby make null the Court, and as much as lyeth in him to make void His Maj<sup>ties</sup> Princely designe in his compassion to the long and many sufferings of his subjects and gracious inclinations to order their redresse in the most speedy and effectuall way that can be proposed in order to quiett them in the possession of their Lands if in Justice they appeare to have right thereunto, and that all their differences and troubles may bee finally determined according to Justice as is manifested in his Maj<sup>ties</sup> gracious Letters to the respective Governors, which his Royall favour would no doubt have to bee interpreted in the largest sence for His Subjects releife according to Justice, our Commissions also from our respective Governors comporting therewith, according to our understanding thereof ; the Gentlemen who were of the Jury did also all appeare on the day appointed, except the three Road Island Gentlemen of the Jury, viz<sup>t</sup> W<sup>m</sup> Brineley, John Stanton and Will<sup>m</sup> Haffernan who appeared not till the next day, & when they came, refused to act or do any thing as to the explanation of what they intended in their former Verdict, alleging that they had with the rest of the Jury given in their Verdict on oath, which was accepted by the Court and they dismiss<sup>t</sup> ;* and therefore would not concerne themselves further about it ; but the other nine Gentlemen of the said Jury upon consideration of the matter together, gave in under their hands for explanation of what they intended in their former Verdict by a thwart line from the head of Wenasquetuckett River, directly running to Pawtuxit River, they meant and did intend a square line from the head of Wenasquetucket River to Pawtuxit River, which said line runneth neerest W. S. W. from the head of Wenasquetucket River to

* The Rhode Island commissioners were undoubtedly right in the stand which they took. There was nothing in English law to justify Hinckley in calling together a jury for a case upon which they had already given judgment and been dismissed.

Pawtuxit River, which comes from Penhungansit Pond as appears by the Mapp given into His Maj<sup>ties</sup> Court Oct<sup>r</sup> the 3<sup>d</sup> 1678 whereunto the said nine former Jurors made Oath before the Court the s<sup>d</sup> 3<sup>d</sup> of October 1678. and wee humbly conceive that the said thwart line as explained by the said nine former jurors is that line which according to Verdict of Jury and Justice ought to bee run & possession accordingly given to the Plaintiffs their shares thereof according to Verdicts of Jury and Judgements of Court at least until His Maj<sup>ties</sup> pleasure is further knowne and also execution granted for their damage and just costs allowed, yet one of the commiss<sup>rs</sup> being absent and two present opposing as aforesaid, and one or two more hesitating about the granting of execution as the matter is now circumstanced. After many long and weary Journeys and expences, wee must leave to his Maj<sup>ties</sup> finall determination all that whole affair; the state whereof wee have given a breife and true accompt, and wherein wee looked beforehand to receive hard thoughts and words from such whose selfe humours and interest being crost are apt enough to cast forth reproaches on such as they deemed to stand in their way; but whatever mans words bee concerning us, wee can truly say, that with all good conscience it hath been our desire and endeavour according to our best understanding to act justly and impartially in the whole matter committed to our trust; Wee begg His Maj<sup>ties</sup> gracious pardon and your honors for what of weaknesse hath appeared in us, and finally prostrate our selves and that whole affaire at His Maj<sup>ties</sup> feet to do therein as his Princely wisdome and Royall grace shall continuedly incline him unto. God grant His Maj<sup>tie</sup> may have a long and prosperous reigne, and your Honors prosperity and peace under him. So prays His Maj<sup>ties</sup> most humble supplyants & Loyall subjects & your Honors humble servants

but y<sup>r</sup> Commitionors of Rhod Island sd It would be of Il consequents to y<sup>e</sup> country to try any of y<sup>e</sup> cases y<sup>r</sup> Majesty commanded to be tryd, but one, for y<sup>t</sup> they had not bin first tryd at Rhod Island, yet y<sup>r</sup> majestyes law forbids all Corporations to forbid suits in y<sup>e</sup> kings higher Courts, but all y<sup>e</sup> other commi-

we of patuxet say we only sued for & optayned only as our lands of patuxet

And only in our complaynt & demand use y<sup>e</sup> names of y<sup>e</sup> towne & purchasors of warwick for y<sup>t</sup> in y<sup>t</sup> Capasety they enter on patuxet, we must demand patuxet of them in law or y<sup>e</sup> writ would have abated, And we have here our plea under publique test to prove y<sup>t</sup> of y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> warwick we only demanded patuxet

And where as y<sup>r</sup> Majesty hath granted them y<sup>t</sup> all things remaine in y<sup>e</sup> same state as before y<sup>e</sup> meeting of y<sup>e</sup> Commitionors untill we before y<sup>r</sup> Majesty in Councill make out our title &c

by our grants of y<sup>e</sup> sd lands optayned of y<sup>e</sup> Greatest Indean Monorch in actuall rule And command then there of all y<sup>e</sup> Indians in those parts y<sup>t</sup> ever y<sup>e</sup> English there knew, our s<sup>d</sup> grant bearing date aboute five years before our Adversaryes grant, under publique test, And under y<sup>e</sup> like test y<sup>t</sup> our s<sup>d</sup> granttor such was as afore sd And our sd title to y<sup>e</sup> sd lands hath (first & last) bin Justefyd by seven verdicts six Judgments & two awards under publique test to sew, And by a grant by thyr granttor aboute five years before our Adversaryes & by confirmations by all theyr succesors under publique test to shew

And That y<sup>e</sup> sd John Green his grant of his part of y<sup>e</sup> sd land to one of our partnors in patuxet y<sup>e</sup> sd John Green as one of our partnors sold for a valuable sum as land of patuxet under publique test I have to shew he proves our title by it And by y<sup>e</sup> moste Antients record of y<sup>e</sup> Antents towne in y<sup>e</sup> Collony y<sup>e</sup> sd land of y<sup>e</sup> sd patuxet oures

then sum put it somewhat like but made not soe bad a shew at a suden, Therefore for demonstration of Impartiall Justice between all persons concerned therein of warwick & patuxet & patuxet & providence either as to lands called either providence patuxet or warwick or as to any defference thereabout betweene any persons concerned as they or any of them are of either or each of y<sup>e</sup> sd places concerned with or against each other all may be fully heard truly tryd & Justly Judged & Impartially executed, by y<sup>e</sup> most Competent Court in y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> case in New england, And by y<sup>e</sup> moste Impartiall & least suspected Jury in y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> Collony Acording to such forme of law as some times in some cases is used between y<sup>r</sup> subjects in England y<sup>t</sup> at y<sup>e</sup> last If posible Justice & peace may be optayned by y<sup>r</sup> Majestyes Gracious order hitherto for want of Execution & restitution defeated & made ineffectuall that all such as may see or hear of y<sup>e</sup> same may by defeat & debility be discouraged such a thing to atempt any more

Haveing proceeded and passed through matters as is before Impartially by me Related, I shall goe on with the Second, and leave it to yo<sup>r</sup> Hono<sup>rs</sup>. discessions to Judge, whether or noe, William Harris and partners ever Intended to be posest of the said lands they sued for and to have the damage and Cost (allowed them by the Court) according to my Comissions, And first with Nathaniell Watermans Disincouragm<sup>t</sup> I begin, Referring yo<sup>r</sup> Hono<sup>rs</sup> to the testamony of John Louell which is as ffolloweth :

- viz 10 John Louell aged 28 yeares or thereabouts being deposed testefyeth and saith that on the fifth day of De-

cembr 1679, as he was Coming home toward the Towne of Providence (from the assisting the Marshall John Smith, who Comanded him to attend and assist him in the giving posession to William Harris and Partners of the lands of Pawtuxett according to verdicts of Jury, and Judgments of Court thereon, as in the said Smiths Comission was Contained and exprest) he the said Louell mett with Nathaniell Waterman, one of the s<sup>d</sup> partners, & Notwithstanding the s<sup>d</sup> Louell was Comanded, by vertue of a warrant from the Authorety of this Collony of Rhode Island &c (given in favour of William Harris & partners) in his Maj<sup>ties</sup> Name to accompany the s<sup>d</sup> Smith, in the execution of his Comission; Yett the s<sup>d</sup> Waterman Reflected on him the said Louell for soe doing saying why goe you fooling and spending yo<sup>r</sup> time and Neglecting yo<sup>r</sup> bussines, the s<sup>d</sup> Waterman then being partn<sup>r</sup> wth s<sup>d</sup> Harris to Recieve the posession which y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> Louell was Engaged to assist in giving of, And further saith not at present memory

Taken upon Oath the 5th day of Decembr: 1679 By mee Stephen Arnold Assistant :

viz 11 Capt<sup>n</sup> John Green Junio<sup>r</sup>. Aged 28 yeares or thereabouts, and John Cornish aged 21 yeares or thereabouts being Engaged according to law testefyeth, that they being desired and Required on the 8th day of Decembr 1679 to acompany John Smith Marshall, who was impowred to deliver posession of Severall lands at pawtuxett sued for by William Harris and partners, at a speciall Court of Comissioners held at providence October the third 1677, as in the s<sup>d</sup> Smiths Comission from the Authorety of Rhode Island given in favour of s<sup>d</sup> Harris is fully Contained & Exprest, did on the 8th day abovs<sup>d</sup> accompany the s<sup>d</sup> Marshall unto the dwelling of said Harris at pawtuxett, but he being not at home, he applyed himselfe to the daughter of said Harris Called Howlong, who informed that her father was gon to Narragansett, the s<sup>d</sup> Marshall told her he came to demand of him the fees due by law in the Case of John Towers, wth whome her father had Complied (and to shew him the Estate of the defendants to be Executed on for the Cost and Dañages Contained in his Executions, the said Howlong Replyed that her father had Recieved some of the mony of Towers, And had left his brother Thomas Harris his Attorney, and she had Carried that s<sup>d</sup> letter of Attorney to him :

Taken upon Oath this 9th of Decembr 1679 Before Samuell Gorton Assistant :

The said William Harris not being at home but haveing left an Attorney I with my Ayd went to the Towne of Providence where the s<sup>d</sup> Attorney lived, & proceeded (as in substance) these following testamonys doth Relate w<sup>ch</sup> are as ffolloweth :

viz 12 Capt<sup>n</sup> John Green junior, aged 28 yeares or thereabouts, and Massey Mallery aged 27 yeares, and John Cornish aged 21 yeares or thereabouts, being deposed according to law testefyeth, that they being Required to accompany John Smith Marshall who was Empowred to give posesion of severall lands at or of pawtuxett sued for by William Harris & partners at a speciall Court of Comissioners held at providence October the third 1677, as in the said Marshalls Comissions from the Authorety of Rhode Island and providence plantations, given in favour of said Harris and partners is fully Contained and Exprest, Did on the 8th day of December 1679, accompany the said Marshall to the Towne of Providence, and unto the dwelling house of Nathaniell Waterman, who is one of s<sup>d</sup> Harrises partners, but he not being at home they went to the dwelling house of Thomas ffield the other of s<sup>d</sup> Harrises partners, but he not being at home the said Marshall spake with his wife asking where her husband was She Replied he was in the woods, the s<sup>d</sup> Marshall desired to know where and he would goe to him, she Replied he could not find him, on which they departed and went to Thomas Harris Brother to the above William Harris, who said he was an Attorney for his Brother (the s<sup>d</sup> William Harris) the s<sup>d</sup> Marshall desired him to shew him his letter of Attorney or to lett him heare it, but he possatively Refussed saying, he would not act nor doe any thing in behalfe of his brother the s<sup>d</sup> Willia<sup>m</sup> Harris without the said Marshall would give him possession of the lands of Meshantatat, and Run the thwart lines and the deviding lines: The said Marshall demanded his fees due by law in the Case of John Towers, and to shew him the Estates to be Executed on for Costs and damages Contained in the Executions, the which he possatively Refussed, & would not, the s<sup>d</sup> marshall desired to know if that was his answer, he the s<sup>d</sup> Thomas Harris Replied Yes; On which the s<sup>d</sup> Marshall desired the above deponants to bear witness. The said Harris likewise desired them to witness for him, on which the above [deponant Jn<sup>o</sup> Greene Replied saying M<sup>r</sup> Harris since] you desire it lets heare it againe, on which the said Harris Replied as aforesaid: soe they parted and went with the said Marshall, to Samuell Winsors, and after some time Came John Whipple of Providence (& Assistant or Majestrate) and with him the above s<sup>d</sup> Thomas Harris, and desired to speake with the s<sup>d</sup> Marshall which accordingly they did, the s<sup>d</sup> Harris desired to heare the Marshalls Comission; after some debate the Marshall Complied therewith and did read it, and likewise desired to heare his letter of Attorney, which after some time was read by John Whipple Majestrate, In which was many Instructions (as he read it) to the said Attorney Thomas Harris, Relating to the same Effect as the s<sup>d</sup> Thomas Harris had above specefied, And that in the s<sup>d</sup> letter of Attorney (as it was read) William Harris acknowledged to have Recieved a Noat, Subscribed by John Sanford Recorder (from the Councell) by the Marshall John Smith the second day of December 1679. The said Marshall hearing the letter of Attorney Read, desired a Copy there of and he would pay for it, but it would not be admitted off, though the s<sup>d</sup> Marshall declared he desired their Instructions and advice, and whatever he Judged Needfull to be done, he would Comply and doe it accordingly, and that it was like y<sup>t</sup> that letter of Attorney might be some light to him in the performinge of the s<sup>d</sup> Executions according to the Contents thereof—ffurther the s<sup>d</sup> Thomas Harris did acknowledge, to be in Company with the Marshall John Smith; at and Neer his Brother Willia<sup>m</sup>. Harrises dwelling at pawtuxett, where was present the said William and partners on the 4th day of this Instant, and that he heard the s<sup>d</sup> Marshall desire them, to accompany him to Ephraim Carpenters, to his Ayd, and accompany him and them to the lands they sued for, and take posession of him :

HARRIS TO PLYMOUTH MAGISTRATES, 28 OCTOBER, 1679.

To The Kings Majestyes Governor & Majestrates of his Collony of New plimoth, Siting The last tuesday in octō 1679
And 31 year of his Majestyes Reigne.

Worshipfull wher as y<sup>e</sup> Kings Majesty was pleased At our complaynt (proprieters of patuxet) of long great wrongs done to us by some persons of his Majestyes Colonyes of Massachusetts, & by some persons of New plimoth, & some of Rhod Island &c his Majesty was pleased at our petition to grant us fayre tryall at law by his favourable Order to his Majestyes foure Collonyes of New England (to say) y<sup>e</sup> fore sd & Conecticot Collony by his order bearing date at Hampton Court y<sup>e</sup> 4th of August 1675 by which sd tryalls we optayned Against whome we complayned verdicts & Judgments And Among y<sup>e</sup> rest Against some of y<sup>e</sup> greatest trespassers & detayners of our land the towne of warwick & y<sup>e</sup> purchasors of y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> towne wher upon two persons of y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> towne & purchasors &c (to Say) Randall Holdon & John Green for themselves (& s<sup>d</sup>) (for others adjacent) petitioned to y<sup>e</sup> Kings Majesty An Authentique Coppy to y<sup>r</sup> worships I have to present of theyr owne words wher in is expresed y<sup>e</sup> ground of theyr petition they render to y<sup>e</sup> Kings Majesty of theyr then s<sup>d</sup> suggested wrong don (as they say) to theyr towne of warwick wher upon The kings Majesty Granted John Green & Randall Holden An order That all things (as to warwick) should remayne as before y<sup>e</sup> meeting of y<sup>e</sup> Commititioners untill we of patuxet should before his Majesty &c make out our title And soone after our Adversaryes departure with y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> order we came to England And made our apearance shewing our title to y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> land wher upon The Kings Majesty was pleased to refer The Examination of y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> matter to his Governor & Majestrates of New plimoth Therfore we in obedyence ther to aply in y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> case to y<sup>r</sup> worships And present these & as followeth in theyr owne words to his Majesty to frustrate good law To which we Answer to vindecate y<sup>e</sup> law And our Just title And Shew theyr Illegality, not takeing notice of much of theyr fallce suggestions not being willing to trouble you with y<sup>e</sup> least but y<sup>t</sup> y<sup>t</sup> seems of moste weight by which they endeavor to invalle y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> verdict & Judgment

some of theyr words in theyr s<sup>d</sup> petition ar these (viz<sup>t</sup>) And

we complaynees for patuxet Answer & say, That y<sup>e</sup> playne & exspres words In his Majestyes order repeat y<sup>e</sup> words of our complaynt to his Majesty And what more Certayne prooffe can be had then y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> of what Complaynt we made to y<sup>e</sup> King, And his Majesty signed y<sup>e</sup> same foure times to each of his Collonys once, namly these words, They entered on a great parte of y<sup>e</sup> petitionors lands by force And y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup>

They were persons though fled from Conecticot yet at y<sup>e</sup> time of theyr enterance by force were then of warwick, with many more with them of warwick then entered

And not only some of y<sup>e</sup> Inhabytants we then to his Majesty Complayned against, And y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> signed as afore s<sup>d</sup> by his majesty but allsoe against y<sup>e</sup> towne of warwick, rcited in y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> order in these words (to say) That beside all y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> molestations he had bin frequently disquieted some times by y<sup>e</sup> Towne of warwick &c therefore y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> suggestions y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> complaynants of warwick made against us complaynees of patuxet absolute fallce by y<sup>e</sup> fore s<sup>d</sup> Authentique prooffe And theyr demeret is as y<sup>e</sup> law hath provided 38 Ed 3, 9. these words ther in Item as to y<sup>e</sup> Article made at y<sup>e</sup> last parliament of those y<sup>t</sup> make grievous complaynts to y<sup>e</sup> king himself it is asented y<sup>t</sup> if he y<sup>t</sup> maketh y<sup>e</sup> complaynt cannot prove his intent against y<sup>e</sup> defendant by y<sup>e</sup> prosses limited in y<sup>e</sup> same article he shall be commanded to prisson ther to abide till he hath made gree to y<sup>e</sup> party of his damages & of his slander he hath suffered by such ocation & after shall make fine & ransome to y<sup>e</sup> king &c

further y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> Complaynants say not soe much as any commition or authourity given by his majesty for examining any title of lands but y<sup>t</sup> of patuxet yet never y<sup>e</sup> les y<sup>e</sup> sd commitionors did admit y<sup>e</sup> sd Harris & one field whome of all his partnors he could get to joyne with him to commence a suit with y<sup>e</sup> towne of warwick for y<sup>e</sup> very lands of y<sup>e</sup> sd towne

To be noted They say That y<sup>e</sup> King granted tryall as to patuxet, which was in deed y<sup>e</sup> only Issue we Joyned as to And what was patuxet which was oures As our complaynt, declaration, & plea against the towne of warwick & y<sup>e</sup> purchasors of y<sup>e</sup> sd towne in y<sup>e</sup> Custody now of y<sup>e</sup> then presedent of y<sup>e</sup> sd Court by y<sup>e</sup> kings spetiall command will moste manyfestly Clear & y<sup>e</sup> verdict ther upon & Judgment only concludeing as to patuxet And to make it apear I will write such words in our complaynt & demanded as concerns y<sup>t</sup> matter by which they were Summoned & to which they were to answer

y<sup>e</sup> Very Lands of warwick or of y<sup>e</sup> town of warwick be sufficient to undoe a Judgment upon A verdict, by y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> verdict, Judgment, & proof of our true title, & theyr fallce suggestions with such notoryous impudence & slanders as if we had sued for warwick as very warwick, we might rather say they are very debauched persons, very knaves I will not say but may
any man think y<sup>t</sup> they think as they say, but if y<sup>e</sup> fore sd be not enoughe to prove we only sued for patuxet as patuxet then I pray our declaration & plea may be read allsoe

And wher as his majesty hath required y<sup>t</sup> our pretentions to lands possessed by them (to Say) of warwick be by y<sup>r</sup> selves examined we are redy to answer any to any thing demanded or matter they have to object against our fore sd demand or any parte therof And If we should only say they never had posestio lawfully concidering y<sup>e</sup> verdict & Judgment for our true title our only say soe may seeme to have more certaynty in y<sup>e</sup> ey of y<sup>e</sup> law then theyr only say otherwise though it were be-

yet never y<sup>e</sup> les before we hear any more of them or any as to theyr posestion we at present say we have by y<sup>e</sup> good Country had a tryall with them & they & we committed our titles to them y<sup>e</sup> Country what ever y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> titles stood upon posestion, purchas, or what els & as then still doe say & agayne are redy by y<sup>e</sup> good Country at y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> Court wher we apear by his majestyes command to Joyne Issue with our s<sup>d</sup> Adversaryes in our sd demand And If y<sup>e</sup> Jury finde for them we will noe more sue to y<sup>e</sup> King nor any other nor make any more clayme to y<sup>e</sup> sd land And soe end y<sup>e</sup> controvercy for ever, which they If in our capasety wold not soe offer to nor doe with us but we well knowing y<sup>t</sup> they know more of theyr bad title & possestion then to come to or take y<sup>t</sup> offer well knowing they can never get any thing by fayre tryall but more disgrace of which they see enoughe all redy though they have not soe much grace as to confes it

And we now supposing ourselves upon examination as to y<sup>e</sup> truth of our title offer our proof therof by our Grants in y<sup>e</sup> Custody of y<sup>e</sup> late presedent of y<sup>e</sup> sd Court by y<sup>e</sup> kings command our sd grant of y<sup>e</sup> most antients date by aboute five years And of Conounicus y<sup>e</sup> eldest & greatest Conqueror of y<sup>e</sup> Indeans y<sup>t</sup> ever y<sup>e</sup> English in New England knew. Our grant allsoe of Meantenomy of y<sup>e</sup> same date, And all y<sup>t</sup> our adversaryes have Is but of meantenomy A younger brothers son to y<sup>e</sup> sd eldest Conquering Conounicus as his Acts, Grants, & liveing witnes yet to & doe prove, And to disprove our Adversarys lyes in print they have forged to deseve y<sup>e</sup> simple to uphold theyr pretended title to our lands they haveing only one witnes of English & he only sayth John Green English And yet theyr then only interpretor And what truth his witnes in his owne case may have in it concidering his late fallce suggestions made by him to y<sup>e</sup> King which doubtles must be willfull Ly for y<sup>e</sup> sd John Green English as he ownes And John of Warwick some times under his owne hand how he should be taken he was John Green English in his youth And since John of warwick as litle minded truth for he owned a part of patuxet with us by our grants & sold it to william Carpenter of patuxet

as his y<sup>e</sup> sd Johns right of patuxet of all y<sup>e</sup> upland on y<sup>e</sup> northward syde of patuxet River & tooke a coniderable sum for it And when he had done Claymes y<sup>e</sup> same agayne as one of warwick And y<sup>e</sup> sd land as of warwick he endeavored to defend by suit as of warwick And Shamelesly stood y<sup>e</sup> tryall & y<sup>e</sup> Jury found against him yet after all puts on more Impudence And Afirmes to y<sup>e</sup> Kings councill it is y<sup>e</sup> very lands of y<sup>e</sup> towne of warwick yet y<sup>t</sup> which he had owned & his father before him of patuxet And soe sold it as his grant shews, we produce, And had he not sd John Green English he might have bin taken for his actions for John Green Indean had he not bin (by knowing more) wors, And as to theyr only grantor & then theyr best, is but our granttors younger brothers son, & theyr grant five years after oures & oures of him five years before theyrs

Therefore patuxet River our bound southward five years before theyr line they would strech west for westward which is any poynt of y<sup>e</sup> Compas y<sup>t</sup> speakes but bewest or by west (to say) south & bewest is westward, & north & bewest is westward, or any poynt between y<sup>e</sup> same soe uncertayne is theyr bounds yet upon due west they would come over our bounde patuxet River granted five years before theyrs theyrs but by a younger brothers son & oures by y<sup>e</sup> Eldest brother to y<sup>e</sup> father of y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> meantenomy And y<sup>t</sup> our greatest grantor & theyr greatest grantor (to say) of Indeans Sachems or princes stands soe related precedent one to y<sup>e</sup> other we shall produce witnes And theyr asignment to prove moreover our s<sup>d</sup> grants are confirmed by y<sup>e</sup> succesors of both y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> Sachems but not our adversaryes grants And wher as they say they have had a posestion this forty years I doubt they Equivocate to stop y<sup>e</sup> mouth of theyr consciences or els speak playne Ly which is much alike at warwick they have not bin forty years but they were at patuxet a year or two before y<sup>e</sup> Certayne time I know not but ther they were first by vertue of our patuxet title, for John Green his father gave Samuell Gorton deceaced half his right in patuxet, And allsoe one Robert Cole & one ffrancis Weston, & one Richard Waterman (all deceased) (our partners in patuxet) did give some of theyr partes to y<sup>e</sup> sd Samuell Gorton & others of his company, & soe in deed they had possession of patuxet as patuxet but not of y<sup>e</sup> sd as of warwick, forty years since And all y<sup>e</sup> fore sd rights of y<sup>e</sup> fore sd men our partnors deceased are now by purchas by some of us of patuxet & inherytance by other only in y<sup>e</sup> hold & hands of us of patuxet And two parts more of thirteene y<sup>t</sup> were y<sup>e</sup> rights of two of warwickmen (to say) Ezeziel Holyman & Stuekley westcoth which some of us purchased of them & theyr heirs yet warwick men would have y<sup>e</sup> sd lands Agayne And since all which The Kings Majesty under his great seal hath granted to us of patuxet our sd lands of patuxet as we have & are redy still to shew, And the Collony have made by theyr moste sollemn act y<sup>e</sup> sd patuxet River A bound for Jurisdiction between providence & warwick & y<sup>e</sup> sd act acted allsoe (with y<sup>e</sup> rest) by warwickmen, which cannot be Immagined they would have done If then they had thought of any west line to run over patuxet River, but rather have had y<sup>e</sup> line of theyr propertyes (If y<sup>e</sup> west line had bin it) to have bin y<sup>e</sup> line of theyr Jurisdiction And not consented That providence should have towne ship on theyr land (If theyrs it had bin)

And wher as they cannot under y<sup>e</sup> words of y<sup>e</sup> grant know y<sup>e</sup> bound patuxet River they would fayne a patuxet River contrary to y<sup>t</sup> we demand some times saying patuxet River is only untill some other brooke or River runs ther into

To y<sup>t</sup> we say & have produced the towne of warwicks own acts & words by which they them selves call it patuxet on y<sup>e</sup> sd River as high as a place called Toskaunkanet below which place runeth into y<sup>e</sup> sd river many small Riverets, but according to y<sup>e</sup> equity of y<sup>e</sup> lawes of England all afayres in such case are to be ruled & deferences ended

Carry y<sup>e</sup> denomination by y<sup>e</sup> Example of y<sup>e</sup> River of thames which sd River (to say) y<sup>e</sup> greatest streame carryeth y<sup>e</sup> sd name above Oxford & as low as to y<sup>e</sup> River of Lee which is below graves end nor doth any Riveret y<sup>t</sup> runs ther-into (which are many, nor City, nor towne Cited ther on Chang or allter y<sup>e</sup> name of y<sup>e</sup> sd River of Thames as appears by y<sup>e</sup> 3 K James 20 & y<sup>e</sup> 21 K James 32 & other statutes against all which our adversaries & theyr grand Adherent Roger williams are not ashamed to dispute

To y<sup>t</sup> this, sd poverty of lands (if be) John Green & Randall Holden have put them into, for they & theyr partnors (which were but twelve purchasors (they say) of twenty miles in length And by y<sup>e</sup> words of theyr grant, pretending westward, southward & westward & northward & westward is then theyr pretended bounds (by y<sup>e</sup> words of theyr sd grant) theyr senter being about five or six miles y<sup>e</sup> bredth but spreding as afore sd twenty miles, makes an Angle wants but two poynts of y<sup>e</sup> compas to make y<sup>e</sup> sd Angle one hundred & eightty degrees, (If noe other grant in theyr way before) out of [a]ll which they allow theyr sd poore towne, neer y<sup>e</sup> sd senter four or five miles in length, And deny y<sup>e</sup> sd poore towne to have any parte of a large convenient neck of land Joyning to y<sup>e</sup> sd foure or five miles soe they prove y<sup>t</sup> part or words (in theyr complaynt) to y<sup>e</sup> king to be true (viz<sup>t</sup>) Poore Tone of warwick, but as to y<sup>e</sup> scope & substance of all y<sup>e</sup> rest of theyr sd suggestyan fallce & slanderous

but we being y<sup>e</sup> purchasors of providence towne & afterward of patuxet allsoe And least our adversaries (as use) should slaner us (with theyr) (like dealing as to providence, we say, And providence knowes, & under theyr deputyes hands we produced in Court & in y<sup>e</sup> then presedents Custody is now y<sup>e</sup> same shewing y<sup>t</sup> we of patuxet did grant to providence towne three parts of four parts of all y<sup>e</sup> sd lands (to say) providence y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> Three Parts And reserved only patuxet one of y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> foure parts our proprietyes

The reason why I say noe more herein to y<sup>e</sup> other fallce suggestions, Is, for y<sup>t</sup> some of them more Immedeatly against y<sup>e</sup> then Court & Jury who are (If need be) acording to theyr Innocency able to answer for themselves, And in theyr (when absent) to some of y<sup>e</sup> kings Officers made answeerr to all y<sup>e</sup> periculers fallcly suggested by word or writing (y<sup>t</sup> I had heard of) & left theyr bookes in print in y<sup>e</sup> plantation office to prove my words true, & y<sup>e</sup> warwickeds slanders (against theyr neighbours) all which I leave & commit to y<sup>e</sup> wise providence of god, The kings majesty, & y<sup>r</sup> worships report, I being greatly charged by our sd Adversaryes fallce suggestyons to six thousand miles travell by sea & more then one thousand miles by land (since verdict & Judgment) against our adversaries, & before delayed by reason of y<sup>e</sup> self interest of y<sup>e</sup> sd objectors of Rhod Island of y<sup>e</sup> allowance of y<sup>e</sup> Charge of y<sup>e</sup> Courts twice meeting, & ten pound in mony to pay y<sup>e</sup> Charge of y<sup>e</sup> charge of y<sup>e</sup> Jury besyde y<sup>e</sup> sd amounting to more then eightty pounce, all great & grievous opretion to our innocent cause, to my only great spoyling : & my famelyes on whome only y<sup>e</sup> sd charge lyes, to my great & sore burthen to myne & my famelyes Impoverishing, but y<sup>e</sup> Just god Judg betweene me & my oppressors of y<sup>e</sup> wrong done & y<sup>e</sup> Justice neglected acording to theyr & my Innocency or nocency, And recompence y<sup>e</sup> Justice done to them & theyr posteretyes (y<sup>t</sup> did it) for theyr fathers Justice sake, whome shall ever serve & pray for your humble servant

HOLDEN AND GREENE TO PLYMOUTH MAGISTRATES, 28 OCTOBER, 1679.

To the Honored Governor & Majestrates Asembled at Plymouth the 28th of October 1679

Wheras wee Randall Houldon & John Greene the first of October instant were summoned in the Towne of Newport & Collony of Rhode Iland & Providence Plantationes by Authoritie of the honored Governor of New Plimouth to appeare at Plimouth before the Governor & Majestrates the 28th of October to answer the pretensions of William Harris concerninge the second verdict of Jury &c and y<sup>t</sup> by vertue of his Majesties spetiall comaund as is sayd havinge referred us thither to bee [ ] heard and not to the Collonyes of the Massachusetts & Canitticut because wee had objected agst them as not beinge meet Judges &c Wee humbly conceive that William Harris hath misinformed his Majesty for o<sup>r</sup> allegations were as well agst the Collony of Plimouth as agst the Collonyes of the Massachusetts and Canitticut, as our petition & reply presented to his Majestie & Counsell did declare, as also the answer of M<sup>r</sup> Stoaton & M<sup>r</sup> Buckley Agents for the Massachusetts Collony delivered to the Lords of the Co<sup>m</sup>itte doth declare in these words Videlicet: That the proceedinges of the Massachusetts agst them were by the expresse consent & advice of the other Collonies who tooke themselves joyntly & equally concerned therein for the security of the whole:

ffurthermore o<sup>r</sup> Evidences are in England where o<sup>r</sup> Agent is gone expectinge to have met William Harris & Partners before his Majestie & Councell in Defence of o<sup>r</sup> Title, and Coppies of some principall evidences cannot heere bee procured: Neverthelessse at present wee beinge comaunded hereunto in obedience to his Majesties Comaundes wee answer or declare so farr as wee are able with such evidences as wee can procure:

first That wee purchased & peaceably posest o<sup>r</sup> Plantation of Warwicke within the limits & boundes wherofe [the] landes of Toskeunke & Nachicke are contained untill Captaine Cooke* & company came & fought us in behalfe of Pumhom an Indian Petty sachim & endeavored to disposesse us;

That the sayd Harris hath testified that wee were peaceably

* George Cooke of Cambridge, the leader of the Massachusetts "Commission" which attacked Gorton in September, 1643.

posest of the sayd Plantation when Captain Cooke came & fought us; & which wee have under his owne & severall other mens hands in England to shew but cannot get a coppie heere atested,

That wee shortly after by order from England were peaceably posest for severall yeares untill o<sup>r</sup> Towne was arested by Mr William ffield Mr Willia<sup>m</sup> Carpenter Zachariah Rhoades & William Harris in the yeare 1659: upon which Triall wee had two verdicts in favor of us, The last verdict was given in at a Court held at Portsmouth October the 8th 1661 at which time two of the Plantiffes viz William ffield & William Harris onely apeared, but the other two disapeared wherupon they had been Non suited but that for Satisfaction of the Defendant they became bound in a bond of five hundred pound, to stand to verdict and judgment &c as the records doth declare, neither is there any of the Jury of kin to the Defendant as y<sup>e</sup> sayd Harris hath falsly suggested;*

That the s<sup>d</sup> Harris remained quiet neither apealing to o<sup>r</sup> Generall Asembly nor to his Majesties Honorable Comissioners when they were in these parts who held a Court at Warwicke & Justified o<sup>r</sup> Title vindicatinge us agst the intrusions of Pumhom aforesayd,

That wee have peaceably posest those landes & medowes of Toskeunke ever since the s<sup>d</sup> Court held at Portsmouth in 1661 untill the late Court of Comissioners held at Providence wherunto hee caused us to bee sumonsed, Notwithstandinge in his petition to his Majestie there was no complaint agst us for any thinge done, so that after verdict & judgement at Portsmouth aforesayd wee were peaceably posest of those landes about sixteen yeares:

That the medowes are called Toskeunke meddowes from the name of the river beinge called Toskeunke there, as the meddowes lower downe are called Patuxet meddowes from the name of the river there

That the line was run by the Towne of Providence together

with Patuxet men in the yeare 68 as their Recordes doe declare : That the line hath since also been run by order of the late Court of Comissioners accordinge to verdict of Jury by the Towne of Providence, which line comes not neere the landes claimed & posest by us.

That the nine Jurors that were sent forth for explanation of their verdict, their first explanation was not accepted but they were sent forth againe &c contrary to all lawe,

That it apearcs by the testimony of Mr Roger Williams who had given him from the Indians those landes of Patuxet which sayd Harris & Partners claime & who have no other Title but that derived from the sayd Williams who is one of the thirteen Partners that the lands claimed by Harris of the Towne of Warwicke were neither graunted him by the indian sachims nor by him sould unto sayd Harris & Partners besids other materiall witnesses,

That the sayd Originall deed hath no boundes extendinge beyond the line aforesayd, That the Post script hath none of Miantonomus hand to it, That Mr Benedicct Arnold who is mentioned as one of the witnesses therunto hath upon oath denied that to bee his hand therto under written, That the sayd Postscript mentions an illimited bounds which no Potentate on earth can graunt all which reasons considered make the deed a meere Non Ens :

That the boundaries mentioned in the sayd deed comes not neere or North line of or Purchase of Warwicke some miles within which line these landes pretended to by William Harris are contened

That his later Purchases or Confirmations Confirmes no more then what Miantonomu had before sould or graunted & therfore Sachim Pesicus did declare the twenty miles therein Incerted was a meer deception

That the sayd Purchases or confirmations if they might bee supposed to bee good yet are of no force to enervate or Precedent Graunt Graunted by Miantonomu & owned by him afterwarde ; and on the Contrary disclaimed what Harris pretends to while hee was alive

That five of the Patuxet Partners are part of the purchasers of Warwicke & doubtlesse would not have caused the boundes of their Purchase to have been so set downe in case part of it had been purchased before but they knew the Contrary ;

That the sayd Harris could procure but one of the Partners viz Thomas ffield to joyne with him in the suit agst us who is sukcessor to William ffield aforesayd,

Lastly Wee declare that the Honorable Lords of the Com̄itte for fforreighn Plantationes havinge heard the Petition of William Harris y<sup>e</sup> returne of the Comissioners by the late honored Governor John Leveret and o<sup>r</sup> reply did declare their opinions in these wordes viz

This beinge the state of the whole affayer wherin the complainants Randall Houldon & John Greene are concerned either for themselves or in behalfe of others in relation to the claime of William Harris wee have presumed to lay the same before your Majestie with o<sup>r</sup> humble opinions, that since by the disagreement & discentions of your Majesties sayd Collonyes in New England the most equitable speedy and probable meanes which your Majestie in your great wisdoms could direct for acertaininge and setlinge the rightes & Titles of your subjects there inhabitinge have after so longe time found no suitable efect, And in consideration of the Complainants humble apeale unto your Majestie for justice (which your Majesty will alwayes alow of & incoradg together with the reasons & evidences offered by them in justification of their right & present posesions which doe not apeare to bee any part of the landes of Patuxet which onely by your Majesties Comission were to bee brought to a Triall your Majestie doe therfore signifie your Royall pleasure unto William Harris and all others whom it may concern, that the Inhabitanes of the Towne of Warwicke bee not disturbed in y<sup>e</sup> quiet and peaceable injoyment of the landes claimed & posessed by them the Inhabitanes of the sayd Towne of Warwicke, And that all thinges relatinge therunto remain in the same state they were in before the meetinge of the sayd Comissioners untill the sayd William Harris or Partners shall in the Lawefull defence of their rights before your Majes-

tie in Councell make out a sufficient Title to the sayd landes
all which is most humbly submitted;

Phillip ffloyd

His Majestie in Councell hath aproved of the s<sup>d</sup> report in this ensuing order, viz

His Majestie in Counsell was graciously pleased to aprove the sayd report and to order as it is herby ordered, That the Inhabitantes of the Towne of Warwicke bee not disturbed in the quiet & peacable enjoymment of the lands claimed & posessed by them, And that all thinges relatinge therunto remain in the same state they were in before the meetinge of the sayd Comissioners untill William Harris & Partners shall before his Majestie in Councell make out a sufficient Title therunto:
But as to the lands of Patuxet concerninge which William Harris came over into England to Petition his Majestie & which onely by his Majesties Comission were to bee brought to a triall, And the Comissioners havinge in Pursuance therofe made a favorable report touching the sayd interest It is further Ordered y<sup>t</sup> William Harris & Partners bee peaceably & quietly posest of the same accordingly

Robert Southwell

That the sayd order of his Majestie still remaines in full force wherby it is evident that y<sup>e</sup> late Court had not Comission to try us for the s<sup>d</sup> landes and therfore his Majestie in Councell was graciously pleased to make Null & voyd all the proceeding[s] of the sayd Comissioners as to us, as well the verdict as other proceedinges and therfore it evidently apeareinge that the sayd Harris & ffild have unjustly molested us contrary to y<sup>e</sup> verdict of Jury at Portsmouth in the yeare 1661 wee intend to Petition the Kinges Majestie for o<sup>r</sup> charges they have put us to by or former voyadg to England besides y<sup>e</sup> forfeiture of their bond which in all amountes to seaven hundred pounds wee humbly desier that this or answer may bee sent with the report to his Majestie That his Majestie & Councell may bee informed thorowly of proceedinges,

WINSLOW TO THE KING, 2 NOVEMBER, 1679.

Endorsed:—Copey of report and opinion returned to his Majesty in the Case of M<sup>r</sup> Harris and Warwick men.

Addressed:—To the Most Illustriouse prince Charls the Second by the grace of God of England Scotland ffrance and Ireland King &c. at his princely Courte at White Hall or Elsewhere humbly p<sup>r</sup>sent.

Dread Sovereigne.

In obedience to & Pursuance of your Majestys Royall Commands to us y<sup>e</sup> Governour & Majestrates of yo<sup>r</sup> Colony of New Plymouth in New England given frō yo<sup>r</sup> Court at Windsor the ninth Day of July one thousand Six Hundred Seventy & Nine & thirty first year of your Majestyes Reigne (which god grant may be long & happy) for the Calling before us Randall Holden & Jn<sup>o</sup> Green in the Behalf of themselves & others y<sup>e</sup> Inhabitants of y<sup>e</sup> Town of Warwick in New England: Concerned in the Second verdict; of Jury: given Into yo<sup>r</sup> Majestys Court of Co<sup>m</sup>missioners by yo<sup>r</sup> Majestys Speciall Co<sup>m</sup>mand: held at Providence y<sup>e</sup> Seventeenth Day of November one thousand Six Hundred Seventy & Seven: In favour of yo<sup>r</sup> Petitioner Will<sup>m</sup> Harris of Patuxet & our Exammination of the Pretentions of sd Harris to the Land by the sd verdict

given him : & our Return to yo<sup>r</sup> Majesty of the Perticular state thereof ; & our opinions thereupon with all Convenient Speed : May it Please yo<sup>r</sup> Majesty to Accept of this following Breif Accompt thereof Viz That upon our hearing Due Examination & Impartiall Consideration of the Severall Pleas & Allegations of sd Will<sup>m</sup> Harris Randall Holden & Jn<sup>o</sup> Green Presented by them at there Convention Before us on the Twenty Eight Day of October one thousand Six Hundred Seventy & Nine (wee Cannot (as things appear unto us) but Conceive that those Lands Given to the sd Harris Conteind in the sd Second verdict of Jury are ~~Part~~ of the lands of Patuxet & Within yo<sup>r</sup> Majestys Co<sup>m</sup>ission to the sd Court of Co<sup>m</sup>issioners : to be brought to tryall as well as what is Contained in the first & three last verdicts of the sd Jury given in favour to sd Harris for these Reasons Humbly Submitted to yo<sup>r</sup> Majestys Princely Censure

Besides the Joynt Concurrence of Rode Island Gentlemen Commissioners as the Rest of the Co<sup>m</sup>issioners in their Acceptance of that Second verdict of Jury with the other verdicts ; as ~~by~~ their hands subscribed to the Return of that Affaire to his Majesty from the Respective Governours Concerned therein doth & may appeare :

ffirst : Because those lands Contained in the Second verdict lyes on the Same Side of Patuxet River with the other lands that are given him by the other foure verdicts : Viz on the North-erly side of the River & belong to the Jurisdiction of Providence Plantations as the lands on the Southerly side of the sd River Belong to y<sup>e</sup> Jurisdiction of the town of Warwick the sd Patuxet River Being the Boundary Between the sd Town of Warwick & Providence

Secondly & although according to the Testimony of Jn<sup>o</sup> Smith Survayor Appointed by the Purchasers of the Town of Warwick to Run the North Line of their Purchase : In Run-ning the sd line Due west frō the Place where he began ; did Run over the sd Patuxet River : & on the north side thereof untill it meet with the stream of the sd River againe Leaveing Teskeunck Meddows (which are ~~Part~~ of the lands in Controversy) on the Southerly side of the sd line (yett are on the North side of the sd River: which the sd Surveyor in his Testimony Calls Patuxet River, as it is by others Cōmonly Soe Called & known by that name;

Thirdly wee find that y<sup>e</sup> sd Warwick Purchasers deed from the Sachem miantonimey; not only to Express the sd North line to Run westward which the sd Surveior Run due west: but that deed bares Date severall yeares after that Deed obtained from the sd Sachem Miantonimey & another Cheif Sachem Called Cannonicus: whereby the sd harris & his Partners Claym his & their Interest into the sd lands; lying on the North side of the sd Patuxet River & as Such Sued for by him: as  his Summons & Pleas against the sd Holden Green & Warwick men doth & may appear; & not for any lands on the South side of sd River which are within the Precincts of Warwick Town aforesd

Lastly; If it be law according to the Common opinion (ffavores Sunt Ampliandi) that the terms & Expressions In that last Mentioned Deed: may bear the best Construction in favour to y<sup>e</sup> Grantee soe as these Expressions therein viz (wee doe freely give unto him all that lands from those Rivers Reaching to Patuxet River as allsoe the Grass & Meddow upon y<sup>e</sup> sd Patuxet River) may be Interpreted to Contein all that land which lyes Between any Part of those Rivers (called in the sd Deed Moshasick & Wanusquetuckett) & the sd Patuxet River: soe as to Contein all the land within a Direct Square streight line Runing from the head of the sd Wanusquetuckett River unto Patuxet River (the sd Wanusquetuckett River being the shortest & next to the sd Patuxet River: lying on the Northerly Side of the sd Patuxet River) then it appears that all the lands In Controversy are according to y<sup>e</sup> sd verdict of Jury of Right Belonging & Justly given to sd Harris & his tners their t thereof: their Deed being obtained Severall years Before that Deed by which Warwick Purchassors make their Claym as aforesd; A Coppy of which Deeds together with the sd Smiths Testimony: wherein the maine stress of the Case Seems to lye: wee Doubt not but are by the Parties

PROTEST OF CLARK AND WARD, 24 NOVEMBER, 1679.

To the Honoured Gov<sup>r</sup>. and Magistrates of His Mat<sup>ys</sup> Colony of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations, and &c these Honrd. Gentlemen,

Our Sovereigne Lord Charles the Second King of England &c by his Letters dated at his Court at Windsor July : 9th : 1679 in the Thirty first year of his Reigne, having strictly required and Commanded the Gov<sup>r</sup>. and Magistrates of His Colony of Rhode Island &c to cause W<sup>m</sup> Harris and partners to be quietly and peaceably possest of the Lands by them sued for at Patuxet Adjudged to them by the first & three last Verdicts of the Jury and Judgment of Court, in an especiall Court held by His Mat<sup>ys</sup> : Command in his Mat<sup>ys</sup> : name at Providence in the Colony of Rhode Island aforesaid the 3<sup>d</sup> day of October 1677 viz<sup>t</sup> The Verdict against John Towers of Hingham The Verdict against Gregory Dexter, Arthur Fenner and the Towne of Providence, The verdict against John Harwood, Thomas Relph, Roger Burlingham & others and the Verdict against Edmond Calverly.

These are to give you Information, that whereas you have concluded that His Mat<sup>ys</sup>: Royall Commands concerning the premises aforesaid shall be speedily Executed, Wee also do accord with you therein, but with respect to y<sup>e</sup> Person by you chosen and agreed upon to execute them, it being John Smith of New Port, therein wee cannot consent with you, for he, in our understandings is not a meet man to be employed in this service wee So judge, not only from Report, but also from what wee have heard him speak with relation thereunto, and unless you appoint some indifferent person in his Place to execute the premisses wee cannot joyne with you to signe the executions desiring your favourable construction of this our desenting for the reason aforesaid.

Wee remain Your Loving Friends & Neighbours.

I allow of the reasons aforesaid.

HARRIS TO HIS FAMILY, 6 APRIL, 1680.

Endorsed by Andrew Harris:—A Coppy of my ffathers Letter to my Mother from ArJeere dated the 6 of Aprill 1680 The s<sup>d</sup> Letter Came to my Mothers hand the 13 day of October 1680

Deare wife and Children

I have wrot to you very breefly twice and som thing allso a third (in other letters) blame not the maner if I live to see you I shall easely passefy you as to the maner,

I was (with others) taken the 24th of January ; sold in the markt the 23 : or 24 : of February, And shutt up untill the last day of the last March ; none prmited to Come to mee nor I to any, (but all) (and more then now I tell you) to make mee promise what they would have, and I had not to pay them, and beate on John Chapman of boston untill they made him promise them twelve hundred dollers, and the man I think hath it not, with others, that I have not roome to write of, and if a patterroone please he may kill his slave and onely payes the kings house their sum they are to have, * Amos Richardson, merchant, proprietor in Narragansett lands, deputy to Connecticut Assembly from Stonington, where he died, 1683. It was chiefly through him that Harris had been appointed agent of Connecticut. (See No. 128).

Upon all which Considerations (and more then I tell you) and your Unsettledness ; and the matters I am Ingaged in, and what my enemies would say If I should dy, and Judge me and my Just Cause as evill, If I aboute it should bee killed with beating as some are, to make them Cutt (as they speake) that is to make them promise what they aske, though they have it not to pay, are forced as I was, to promise 800 : dollers (that is) soe many times 5<sup>s</sup> : which is 200<sup>li</sup> : and besids that (before I am Cleared) I must pay or some for me to the kings house and other payments to make the said 800 : dollers 1191 : dollers and 5 : Royalls, and if it be paid yet then shall lack fifty at the least to Travell through Spaine France, and Portugall to London, Soe that in all will Cost before I gett to be free here 300 : li : Starling allmost ; beside 50 : dollers to get to London which is to Travell a long Jorny, and I have at present thereby some peace untill the last day of the next March, which time fullfills the yeare I Could not have any longer time, and If the sd sume to my paterroone be not payd by that time I fall into his Cruell hands againe And then ordinarily Cannot expect to live under it, Therefore shew this to Mr Brinley and to Mr Richeson whome I pray to mind my danger and that they both stir up the Gentlemen that Employed mee that they doe not leave mee in ArJeere, and Rather then soe they should doe, when I Come hoome I will Recon with them and pay them their demand, without puting them to suite or desiring Arbtration, and asure the payment in my Lands and all els that I have, but if Mr Brindley perceive that they will not doe it within that time, then I pray him in that straight not to fayle to doe it, and I will asure him in all my land and all that I have for his payment, And I pray them both to mind it, by the first ship for speede, and by a second for safety ; least the first should miscary, If it please god that I get off noe man I hope shall bee more diligent and Carefull in their matter then I, and it may please god that my sufferings and your Charge and myne may Cause the more Candor in the Case, I speake there in to Mr Brindley and Mr Richeson, my prayers to god is that I may in their Cases suckceede, I doe not love to have any matters dy

in my hands, and I doe profess faithfully and god knows I ly not that If I had of my owne a thousand pound starling, I would Expend it all for them before they should sufer a defeate, and I asure them that I have suffered so much here all-redy, that if I should be offered all that is in this worlde I would not undergoe againe the s<sup>d</sup> Conflicts and dangers, and I pray god to strengthen me that I may hould out, I was almost sinking on museing with those things and my dead Susan and Toleration,* but it pleased god to turne my muse another way and Recover me, And for the present I thank god I am very well in health and yet generally live on bread and water and Could eate more bread if I had it, yet I am in as good liking as I was when taken, I doe not know that I ever had more Constant health for the time then I have had evesince I Came from home soe long togeather, but since I Came I saw Daniel Uptide and he saith he had a plague sore, and that the s<sup>d</sup> sickness is here every sumer and begins in may, and that the last sumer here dyed nine of tenn of the English Captives but some say not soe many, speake to M<sup>r</sup> Smith to Redeeme him and tell Lawdowick his Brother, M<sup>r</sup> Smith, M<sup>r</sup> Brindley and others, soe with my harty tender Constan Care and Love for you and towarde you all, I Co[mme]nd Commit and Resigne you all up to gods fatherly derection and protection youres hoping yet to see you

Whitehall the 11th: of Aug

I am now to acknowledge the receipt of y<sup>r</sup> letter of the 10th: of June last with the Enclosed Duplicate to His Ma<sup>ty</sup>: concerning Lands sued for by William Harris who as you will have already understood by former letters from me remains Captive at Argier. Upon the first letters I received from Him and upon his assurance that 200 Dollars would discharge his ransome I thought him a fitt object of Charity and therefore gave him credit immediately for 300 Dollars that He might have where-withall to come for England as you will see by the enclosed from the Consull of Marseilles which I send you that you may see what Provision is made for him if it might suffice But The Poor man being tyred out with the ill usage of His Master has imprudently enough promised a most extravagant ransome, I cannot tell upon what grounds since many Gentlemen of the best quality come off upon better termes but it being so concluded he must be sensible of the Charity of his friends in New England or Suffer in Slavery. I now send you copies of former letters and such as I have lately received & reco<sup>m</sup>end to your care that they may be safely deliver'd where it shall belong.

As for the Narrogansett Country and The Gentlemen concerned in it, I have already upon Mr. Harris's first letter moved The Lords of The Committee of Plantations that nothing may be done to their prejudice till they have further opportunity to transmitt the Evidences of their right which have been lost by the misfortune of Their Agent m<sup>r</sup>. Harris & you may assure them of a fair tryall before any decision in their Business. Those new demonstrations of their right you mention I will immediately upon the receipt of them putt into the hands of a good Sollicitor in behalf of those Gentlemen and give the best dispatch I can which is all that my Duty will allow me to do. I hear Mr. Randolph finds difficulties in y<sup>e</sup> execution of his office but I do not doubt but he will overcome them when a Commission under the Great Seale which is preparing shall come to hand, for He will certainly find support here as long as he shall do his duty, And such as oppose him in it will not find their account.

S<sup>r</sup>. I am very glad of your letters and of any opportunity of Serving any person in your parts whose Loyalty may exact it from me as I am particularly placed in a Station wherein my Duty is joined with my inclinations to be usefull to them and to assure you that I am with the greatest truth

HARRIS TO HIS FAMILY, 22 AUGUST, 1680.

Endorsed by Andrew Harris :—ffor his Loveing Wife Susana Harris at patuxet in New England

this was put up with Mr Whartons soe to be againe at musillus

A Coppie of a letter from my ffather William Harris of patuxet & providence dated from ArJeere August y<sup>e</sup> 22th: 1680 which Came to hand the 6st day of January 1680

Deare wife & Children & Granchildren

my prayers to God is Continewally for you night & day for his blessing upon you That you may well succede here, and bee happy here after. And as to my present Condition I pray you not to be affrighted at it; for though my destany or Gods appoyntment to mee troubles allwayes; yet his mighty hand hath allwaies holpen mee out againe, soe that y<sup>e</sup> spetiall favor of God hath a greater Resent upon my Joyfull mind, then the troubles: I still finde, you Can beare mee witness to y<sup>e</sup> great vexation of Roger Williams and his party and y<sup>e</sup> Warwickeds, & to my deliverance by Gods mighty hand out of theyrs, and how they insulted, & exalted themselves; & by Gods owne hand Immediately & manyfestly shamed; though I mention no more yet wee know many more of like sort. but with mee Trust in God and wee shall see his deliveranc: be not over pressed with Cares, god our father Ceareth for us And let us against all our advsaries oprobry be of stout manly minds in Gods Ayde, though they upbrayd, for I am but fallen into y<sup>e</sup> Cruell Turks hands; That gods mercifull Armes more mighty may be seene to uphold mee; & will deliver mee. I have wrot and do what I Judg Convenient; and doe not you trouble your selves, but let all things Rest (as quiet as you Can) till I Come home : I thanke god I am very well ; and this sumer here hath bin more then useall health, and we hope for a generall Redemption ; but we are not sure of it. Remember my Love to my brother & sister & the rest of my kindered & to M<sup>r</sup> brinley & his Wife & sons, and to M<sup>r</sup> Smith & his wife, and M<sup>r</sup> Richerdson & tell him had hee Come & the busyness knowne it would most like have Cost for his Redemption five thousand, nay likely more perhaps ten thousand dolers, for they goe by what mens friends have ; and soe torment men till they get it except a peace be made & then they pay but that they were first sold for. My tyrant (Called) paterroone will have eight hundred dollers & to their kings house & other feese, in all will amount to all most twelve hundred dollers (to say) three hundred pound,* but hope a peace and then a generall Redemption, get, & faile not y<sup>e</sup> Afidavids to prove the onely pretended doeing of Execution, And pray y<sup>e</sup> Governor of plimoth to make returne to y<sup>e</sup> king, & I pray of him a Coppy of the same, and pray M<sup>r</sup> brindle to let me know whether he have gotten my due of the Islanders, or not, that accordingly I may try another way ; And pray M<sup>r</sup> brinley to shew you what I ow him. & noe more being in hast, but Commend all things to god to whome I Resigne you all, and your afayres.

Derect your letters to John Stokes till I Come there

William Harris

ArJeere y<sup>e</sup> 22th of August 1680.

M<sup>r</sup> Ledgeys Ransome Cost him about 5000 dollers

I forgot, but get me Thomas Wards and others protests against their pretence of unlawfull execution, or as they Call it.

A True Coppie, if noe mistake in Compareing it with the originall, as Attest John Whipple jun<sup>r</sup> Clerke of the Towne of providence

* The exact amount of the ransom as finally settled was £289 9s. 6d., but payment of interest, bills of exchange, etc., brought the amount to £459 17s. 1d. (See No. 120.)

BRINLEY TO MRS. HARRIS, 2 SEPTEMBER, 1680.

These lines are occasioned by the desire of your Son Andrew Harris, who seemes dissatisfied, with my disbursements about your new building since your husband went, w<sup>ch</sup> with some other small matters you lately had amounts to about 10<sup>li</sup>, & I have a note from your daughter for the payment of Silas Carpenter, about 3<sup>ii</sup> or 4<sup>li</sup> w<sup>ch</sup> your Son thinks you know not of. What I doe, is in respect to your husband, and I could heartily wish him here, and would be forward, to procure his Redemption as my very good friend, though you and yours lie under y<sup>e</sup> hard thoughts of many about it by your refusing to comply with those, that were stirred up to lay downe their monies for that end, w<sup>ch</sup> to me seems a great kindnes, however you take it many others would be glad of the like proffer upon the same tearmes and cannot accomplish it If I may speake a few words without offence, my opinion is that it were better to desist from your building till you heare how it will be with your husband, but it concerns not mee I remaine

PAWTUXET PROPRIETORS TO HINCKLEY, 6 JULY, 1686.

To the Honourable Thomas Hinckley Esq<sup>r</sup> & to the Worshipfull his asistants assembled in Court July. 6. 1686

The Humble Pettition of the Purchasers & propietors of the land of Pautuxett in Providence in the Colony of Rhod Island & Providence Plantations

Humbly sheweth

But in most deceitfull maner deceived them and never attempted to Remove or Disposes the s<sup>d</sup> Harrod Burlingham & Relfe from off the s<sup>d</sup> lands, But some Miles from the Place where s<sup>d</sup> Harrod Burlingham & Relfe &c held Possesion by force whether the s<sup>d</sup> Harris & partners then went to Receive Posesion The s<sup>d</sup> Smith with his Crew s<sup>d</sup> Green & others staid p<sup>r</sup>tending their to deliver seison by twigg & turff if Harris & partners would Come thither to Receive it: By which falacious doings of the s<sup>d</sup> Smith the s<sup>d</sup> Harrod Burlingham Relf & others still hold Possesion of the s<sup>d</sup> lands by force & your Petitioners held out thereof to this day. Nor hath the Gov<sup>r</sup>-ment of Rhod Island ever taken any other Course to p<sup>r</sup>form the Kings Comands or to put y<sup>r</sup> Pettitioners into the possession of the same to this day. And the s<sup>d</sup> Harris then Imediately going for old England was first taken by the Turkes & after dying abroad before his Return home ocasioned the thus long delay of adress to y<sup>r</sup> Hon<sup>rs</sup> in that matter

Wherefore your Pettitioners Humbly Pray y<sup>r</sup> Honours according to his s<sup>d</sup> Majestis Comands to appoint & Impower an officer to Remove & Disposes the p<sup>r</sup>sons that still hold our s<sup>d</sup> lands by force & Cause us to be put into the possession of the same & to doe Execution for our s<sup>d</sup> Costs & damages in the s<sup>d</sup> Cases & your Pettitioners shall Ever Pray for y<sup>r</sup> hono<sup>rs</sup> prosperity & Remaine as in duty bound &c

* Clement King of Marshfield bought land of Ephraim Carpenter in 1687, and moved to Providence about this time. His daughter married a son of Thomas Harris.

† Andros had arrived in Boston as Governor-in-Chief of New England, 19 December, 1686, and remained in office until April, 1689. Thomas probably addressed him soon after receiving from the Pawtuxet proprietors the letter of 8 March, 1689.

The Humble Pettiōn of Thomas ffeild Nathaniel Waterman & Divers others the proprietors of the lands of Pautuxet in the Towne of Providence

Humbly Sheweth

That Mr William Harris Late of Pautuxett afores<sup>d</sup> upon his Pettition (in behalf of himself & your Pettitioners his Partners) to his late Majestie shewing that he & your Petitioners had been Entred upon & held out of the Possession of great part of their said lands by divers p<sup>r</sup>sons & therupon his Majestie was Graciously Pleased to Grant a speciall assize for the hearing of the said Complaints by his Order bearing date at Hāpton in the yeare 1675 which accordingly sate at Providence in the yeare 1677 & upon hearing gave Judgment for said Harris & partners in five actions & made Report to his Majestye thereof

That Major John Green of Warwicke one of the Defendants and great Oppressor of your Petitioners Posted to whitehall And in the absense of the said Harris by Misrepresentation of the Matter (viz that the lands Contained in the 2<sup>d</sup> verdict were noe part of the lands of Pautuxett nor within the Comission to be brought to tryall) obtained a stay of Execution on the second verdit wherein the said Green was Concerned, But upon the said Harrises arrivall in England & true Representation of the Matter his Majestie Ordered Execution to be made in the first & three last verdicts And a Rehearing of the second by the Gov<sup>r</sup> & Magistrates of Plimouth who made Report thereof to his Majestie in the yeare 1679 in favour of said harris & your Petitioners, (viz that those lands Contained in the second verdict were part of the lands of Pautuxett & within the Kings Comission to be brought to Triall as well as any other of Pautuxett lands) but soe it is that the officer appointed by the Goverment of Rhod-Island to deliver Possesion hath Rendered his Majestis Gracious Comands Ineffectuall which nes-sesetateth your Petitioners to bring their writt of Scire facias now Depending

That the said harris in goeing the third time to his Majesty to Carry your Pettitioners Complaints against the said officer

& Green was Captivated by the Argeireens & soone after died & soe your Petitioners Remaining under Great oppression & Injury are still held out of the Possession of their s<sup>d</sup> lands

That his Majesties more Imediate Government being now established here your Petitioners humbly Conceive that the said second verdict & judgment wherin the said Green & Town of Warwicke are Concerned may by writt of Scire facias be heard & determined before his Majesties Superiour Court of Judicature here, without sending to England to lay the same againe before his Majestie

Your Petitioners therefore most humbly Pray your Excellence would Pleas to Order that the said second verdict wherin Warwick and the said Green are Concerned may be heard & determined before his Maj<sup>ties</sup> Superiour Court of Judicature here

That if upon hearing the said Case of Warwick & the other Case now depending judgment shall be affirmed for you petitioners your Exelency would Pleas to Grant them a Pattent under his Majestes seale for New England for the further Confirmation of their title to their Pautuxett lands to be holden of his Majestie & your Petitioners will defrey the Charge thereof & Remaine as in duty bound &c

PETITION OF PAWTUXET PROPRIETORS
TO THE QUEEN [1705].

The Humble Petition of Andrew Harris Grandson and Heir of William Harris, Thomas Feild, and Nathaniell Waterman of Pautuxet in New England.

That the said William Harris Grandfather of the Pet<sup>r</sup> by his Petition humbly offered to the late King Charles the Second of blessed memory bearing date the 11th of June 1675. Praying that Kings favour, Referring to Certain Lands belonging to the said William Harris Field, Waterman and Other Partners and Obtained the Establishment of a Court of Oyer and Terminer, Consisting of Certain Commissioners from the Massachusets, New Plymouth, Conecticut and Rhod Island Colonys, To hear and Determine the Pet<sup>rs</sup> Title to the said Lands as by the said Kings Royall Letter, and Direction thereupon Reference thereto being had may more fully appear.

That the said Commissioners from the four severall Governments Assembled and Sat at Providence the Towne where the said Lands lye, and by Lawfull Jurors of the Severall Colonys as they were Directed Proceeded to a hearing and Tryall of the said Titles. That the said Harris and Partners Recovered five severall Virdicts against the Tenants by Force, and had Judgment thereupon, Hee not being put into Possession he again Repaired to White-hall for the Kings further Favour and Justice therein. Where appeared John Green and Randall Holden in behalf of the Towne of Warwick Challenging the second of the said Verdicts of Injustice but Submitting to the other four Verdicts. And thereupon obtained the Kings further Letter to the Gov<sup>r</sup> of New Plymouth and the Magistrates of that Colony alone (as the said Holden and Green desired objecting to the other two Colonys upon the account of displeasure against them) further to hear their challenge to the said 2<sup>d</sup> Verdict.

That in Obedience to this last Command of the King, Gov<sup>r</sup> Winslow and his Brethren of New Plymouth had a full hearing of all Parties and made their Report of the Justice of the said second Verdict in favour of the Pet<sup>r</sup>

That notwithstanding all that is above said, appearing by the Records, the Government of Rhod Island in whose Jurisdiction the Lands are Lying have refused or Neglected to put the Pet<sup>rs</sup> into Possession but the Intruders are there yet Remaining and many others joyned with them.

That hereupon some years after all means used (to no purpose) by the said William Harris to Gain his just Entrance and Possession took another Voyage into England to obtain his Right but in that Voyage was taken Prisoner into Algeirs to his very great loss, and being at length Redeemed, dyed in London before he was Capable to make his further application to the King.

That Andrew Harris the Present Pet<sup>r</sup> his Grandson, and Heir being, now come of age, and thereby Capable to sustain the present Complaint together with the said Field and Waterman his Partners.

Most humbly pray of Your sacred Mat<sup>y</sup> That the said Five Judgments may be Inspected, And That Your Mat<sup>ys</sup> Pet<sup>rs</sup> may be put into Possession of the said Lands with their Damages and Costs So by Verdicts Recovered.

And they shall ever pray &c

*John Chamberlayne (1666?–1723) was a miscellaneous writer and man of affairs, a member of the Royal Society, holding various offices about the court. His house was in Petty France, now York street, Westminster. A list of documents sent over to him for use in the Pawtuxet case is among the Cushman Papers.

†Samuel Wilkinson, of Providence, who died 27 August, 1727. The date of his birth is not known, so that his age does not help to fix the date of the present document. He was frequently elected deputy, beginning in 1693.

Andrew Herris and m<sup>r</sup> Thomas ffield of s<sup>d</sup> Pawtuxet, did in y<sup>e</sup> month of may in y<sup>e</sup> year: 1711: Run y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> Lines* and fix the bounds according as they had before agreed: the northwest bounds of Pawtuxet Land being a stake and heap of stones standing on y<sup>e</sup> western or northwestern part of a shrub plain, which they did then suppose to be in or near y<sup>e</sup> Line called the seven mile Line, And that they did then Run y<sup>e</sup> Deviding Line from y<sup>e</sup> afore s<sup>d</sup> corner Eastward to the stone at Mashapaug† a nother fixed bounds between y<sup>e</sup> Lands of y<sup>e</sup> proprietors of Providence and y<sup>e</sup> Lands of Pawtuxet, the which Line did fall on y<sup>e</sup> north side of y<sup>e</sup> Dwelling place of Samuel ffisk, and on y<sup>e</sup> north side of y<sup>e</sup> Ceder swamp, (which lyeth westwardly from y<sup>e</sup> home farm of James Mathuson) and allso Run through y<sup>e</sup> neck Called auntshantick neck‡, And also this Deponant Testefieth that they did then Run y<sup>e</sup> south Line from y<sup>e</sup> afore s<sup>d</sup> corner bounds unto warwick Line or north bounds according to their greement, and did mark the trees that did stand in y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> Line for the western bounds of Pawtuxet Lands, the which Line did fall on y<sup>e</sup> west side of y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> Dwelling place of Samuel ffisk Leveing it within Pawtuxet Land: And did Run near y<sup>e</sup> then Dwelling house of James Thornton some few poles distant on y<sup>e</sup> East side of said house and so Run through some Land which s<sup>d</sup> Thornton had then fenced in Southeastwardly from s<sup>d</sup> house Leveing some part on y<sup>e</sup> East side of said Line, and within Pawtuxet Lands.

*The committee's report, drawn up February 11, 1712, is in Prov. Rec., xvii: 284. For an account of the running of this line, see under "Dividing Line" in the List of Seventeenth Century Place-Names. There are several documents in the Fenner Papers in the City Hall which give the details of surveys in running this line and the seven-mile line. (See Fenner Papers, nos. 16816, 16877, 16887, 16975.)

†A document in the Fenner Papers (no. 16816) shows that this marked stone was 260 poles north of the marked tree at Mashapaug, which in turn was one mile and 44 poles north of the Pawtuxet river.

PREFATORY NOTE.

In the following alphabetical index and accompanying map the attempt is made to locate every place-name mentioned in the Providence records before 1700 and included within the original town of Providence as granted by the Indians to the early colonists, i. e., the territory between the Pawtuxet River and the Blackstone River. A concise description is given of each name in order that it may be located on a modern map. In the case of those names which are still in use, the modern spelling has been generally adopted, with note of the fact if the early spelling is greatly at variance with that of the present day. In calculating distances given in early surveys it should be remembered that the surveyors used both the 16 $\frac{1}{2}$  and the 18 foot pole, and that consequently a distance can often only be approximated. It should also be borne in mind that the magnetic north of the latter part of the 17th century varied about 12° west of the true astronomical north used on the recent government maps and on many modern surveys.

The references, which are chiefly to the printed volumes of Providence Records, are given merely to show early or suggestive usage of a name. The references to manuscript sources are in most cases self-explanatory. The early manuscripts in the City Hall have been of great service, especially the Fenner Papers and the long series of Providence Town Papers in the office of the Clerk of the Municipal Court, the volumes of deeds and the plat cards in the Deed Office, and the two folio volumes of early Plats of Highways in the custody of the City Clerk. In the library of the Rhode Island Historical Society the Field Papers, the Fenner Papers and the Rhode Island Historical Society Manuscripts have been particularly serviceable. The frequent references to the Harris Papers are to the printed volume. The following maps and atlases have been of especial value: C. Harris, Map of the State of Rhode Island, 1795; B. Lockwood & S. B. Cushing, Map of the City of Providence and Town of North

Providence, 1835; J. Stevens, Topographical Map of the State of Rhode Island, 1831; H. F. Walling, Map of the State of Rhode Island, 1862; D. G. Beers, Atlas of the State of Rhode Island, 1870; G. M. Hopkins, Atlas of the City of Providence and Environs, 1882; United States Geological Survey, Topographical Atlas of the State of Rhode Island, 1891; Everts & Richards, New Topographical Atlas of Surveys, Providence County, 1895.

In the preparation of this index, the compiler has gathered a large collection of miscellaneous references gleaned from deeds, wills and town proceedings, relating both to the 17th century place-names included in the list and also to many 18th century place-names. This material is to be kept in the library of the Historical Society, where it may be of service to the student of local history. The indebtedness of the compiler to Mr. Edward Field, Mr. William G. Brennen, and Mr. Welcome A. Greene for courtesies extended to him in the work of preparation is hereby gratefully acknowledged.

LIST OF NAMES.

ABSOLUTE SWAMP. An original boundary of Providence and undoubtedly the swamp northwest of the present Olney's Pond and southeast of the junction of the Louisquisset Pike and the so-called Breakneck Road, in the town of Lincoln. (P. R. ii: 73; iii: 243; and Fenner Papers no. 17717 in City Hall.)

ANTASHANTUCK. The neck of land in the bend of the Pocasset River, east of the present Randall's Pond in the town of Cranston. Antashantuck Pond was the present Randall's Pond. (P. R. 4: 68; viii: 72; and plat in Fenner Papers, p. 43, in R. I. Hist. Soc.)

ASCOCANOXSUCK. The single mention of this locality in 1667 gives no clue as to its location. (P. R. i: 36.)

ASSOPUMSETT BROOK. See Ossapimsuck Brook.

BAILEYS BUTTS. Two little hills formerly located on the western side of the present Grotto Brook running into Baileys Cove, and probably on either side of the present Blackstone Boulevard near Magellan street. (P. R. iii: 76, 188, and Lockwood Map of 1835. These may be the two little hills shown on Hayward's Plan of the Proposed Survey of the Boston and Providence Railway, 1828.)

BAILEYS COVE. The cove at the southeast end of the Butler Hospital grounds into which the present Grotto Brook runs. It was also called Baileys Further Cove or Upper Cove. Baileys Hither Cove or Lower Cove was about one-sixth of a mile further south, where the brook from Cat Swamp empties into the Seekonk River. (P. R. i: 84; ii: 36, 106; iv: 144; viii: 73; and Lockwood Map of 1835.)

BENEDICTS POND. Mentioned in the records as early as 1659, being practically in the same location as it is at the present time—south of the junction of Union avenue and Wadsworth street. (P. R. i: 99, and Hopkins 1882 Atlas.)

BEWITS BROW. This locality, one of the original boundaries of Providence lands, was on the west side of the Moshassuck River. The order in which it is listed in the "Sovereign Plaister" would seem to place it somewhere near the present Saylesville, but a careful study of early deeds places it a mile south of where the Moshassuck River bends toward the west at the upper end of the North Burial Ground. According to 18th century tradition the brow of land formerly southwest of the present junction of Charles and Hawes streets was called Bewits Brow. (P. R. ii: 18, 19, 73; iii: 243; and Harris Papers, p. 92.)

BLACKSTONE RIVER. In the 17th century almost invariably called the Pawtucket River. A rare instance of the present name is in Harris Papers, p. 171.

BROAD COVE. The present Burgess Cove, north of Fields Point. (P. R. ii: 32; vi: 37.)

CAT SWAMP. Mentioned in the records as early as 1669, although of somewhat larger extent than its present area. (P. R. iii: 118, and Lockwood Map of 1835.)

CAUCAUNJAWATCHUCK. A tract of land directly northeast of the present Olneys Pond in the town of Lincoln. (P. R. i: 34; v: 87; xi: 139; and Plat Card 385 in City Hall.)

CEDAR SWAMP BROOK. The "brook from the cedar swamp flowing into Neutaconkanut river" is mentioned frequently in the early records. Identical with the present Cedar Swamp Brook in the town of Johnston. (P. R. viii: 72, 81; xiv: 100, 220.)

CHAPOMPAMISKOCK. A large tract of land extending south-east from the present Chopmist Hill in the northwest corner of Scituate. The name was also applied to the hill itself. (P. R. viii : 138 ; xii : 68 ; xvi : 322.)

COLD SPRING. The only apparent mention of the locality of this name near Red Bridge in the early records is in 1681, where the place spoken of is undoubtedly identical with the Cold Spring situated at the extreme eastern end of East Manning street. (P. R. viii : 91 and Plat Cards 112 and 125 in City Hall.) Another locality called Cold Spring was south-east of Scotts Pond, being situated near the present corner of Lonsdale avenue and Crossman street in the city of Central Falls. (P. R. ix : 16 ; xiv : 16 ; and Walling Map of 1862.)

COVE. "The Cove" or great body of water formed by the joining of the Woonasquatucket and Moshassuck Rivers, as is shown on all the early maps of Providence, was so called as early as 1671. (P. R. iii : 214 ; v : 199, 227.)

COWPEN POINT. A point jutting into the Providence River at the present corner of Point and Eddy streets. Appears on the Anthony Map of 1803. (P. R. ii : 103 ; viii : 69.)

CRANBERRY POND. That part of the present Scotts Pond, in the town of Lincoln, which was known as Cranberry Pond before the construction of the Blackstone Canal, and which to-day is sometimes called Floating Island Pond. (P. R. iii : 163 ; xiv : 13-16 ; and Stevens Map of 1831.)

CROOKFALL BROOK. This brook, the present boundary between Lincoln and North Smithfield, was so called as early as 1683. It was more often, however, termed the Wesquadomeset. (P. R. iv : 143 ; xiv : 194 ; xvii : 20.)

DEVILS HOLE. A deep hole on the west side of the Woonasquatucket River, near the present village of Dyer-

ville. (P. R. v: 97, 139; xi: 181; xiv: 152; and MS. Deeds, iv: 187, in City Hall.)

DIRTY COVE. See Hawkins Cove.

DIVIDING LINE between Providence and Pawtuxet lands. The attempt is here made to summarize the various details of action regarding this line, from 1640 until its final settlement in 1712.

The line from Sassafras Cove to the tree at Mashapaug and thence between the Pawtuxet and Woonasquatucket rivers "of an even distance" was agreed upon July 27, 1640 (P. R. xv: 2, 76). It was apparently run out by the Pawtuxet men in 1659 (xv: 76) and by a joint committee sometime between 1661 and 1665 (xvii: 215; Harris Papers, p. 256). In 1660 the Town of Providence voted that they would own the line to extend equally between the two rivers for twenty miles, which vote, as later testimony shows, was procured at a "packed" meeting (P. R. ii: 125; and Fenner Papers no. 16675 in City Hall). On April 27, 1661, a joint committee was appointed to extend the line beyond Mashapaug (P. R. iii: 2). This line, however, as Harris shows in his account of the survey, was run much too far north, to Hipses Rock (Harris Papers, p. 256). A joint committee appointed in 1665 to extend the line correctly beyond Mashapaug never accomplished anything (P. R. iii: 61; xvii: 245). In 1669 the committee of 1661 reported that they had run the line from Sassafras Cove to Mashapaug, thence north to a point midway between the two rivers, thence west to a point near the Pocasset River, which report was accepted by the Town (iii: 136; xvii: 215).

The subject of the dividing line rested until Harris obtained his order from the Court, November 24, 1677, requiring Providence to run a direct line from the head of the Woonasquatucket River to the Pawtuxet River, and then a line equi-distant between the two rivers to this thwart line (viii: 46; xv: 174). Providence immediately appointed a committee (viii: 21), but endeavored to shorten the Pawtuxet territory by running a thwart line from the head of the Woonasquatucket River to a point on the Pawtuxet River near its mouth (viii: 28, 31; Harris Papers, p. 238; and map in Rider's Hist. Tract, ser. 2, no. 4, p. 100). Although the Court disapproved of this method of running the thwart line and an order was obtained from the King requiring a true execution of the verdicts, yet the death of Harris, in 1681, removed the leader of the Pawtuxet men from the field, and on January 16, 1683, a joint committee agreed that the western boundary of the Pawtuxet territory should be the seven-mile line, and that the northern boundary should be a line running from a center point on a head line through the tree at Mashapaug to a point on the seven-mile line midway between the Woonasquatucket River and the Warwick north line (P. R. iv: 73), which was practically an equi-distant line between the two rivers. Providence approved of this report and ordered the lines to be run without delay (viii: 130). Yet, although this order was renewed in 1698 and in 1706 (xi: 43, 105) and was made the subject of numerous petitions from the Pawtuxet men (xvii: 230-274), it was not until May 14, 1711, that the line was finally run by a joint committee. This line ran from a marked stone at Mashapaug west  $14^{\circ}$  north to the seven-mile line, and from that point due south to the Warwick line (xvii: 282). Its more specific boundaries are given in the Harris Papers, p. 371. The committee's report was drawn up on February 11, 1712, and recorded, marked "accepted," on March 3, 1712 (xvii: 284.)

DRY BROOK. Situated in the town of Johnston and still so called. (P. R. v: 180.) The present reservoirs on the brook, however, are of comparatively recent construction.

FOXES HILL. Appears in the records as early as 1644. The hill, which has been mostly cut away, extended between the present South Main and Ann streets as far south as India street, the highest point being near the present corner of Brook and Tockwotton streets. (P. R. ii: 5, and engraving on Anthony Map of 1823.)

GOTHAM VALLEY. A valley, formerly so called, located south of the southern bend of the Woonasquatucket River near the present junction of the Hartford and Plainfield roads. (P. R. i: 8; xiv: 168.)

GREAT MEADOW HOLLOW. A valley, mentioned frequently in the early records, directly south of the present junction of Lonsdale avenue and Main street, in Pawtucket. It appears on the Lockwood Map of 1835, where it is called Meadow Hollow. The Great Meadow itself lay on the Moshassuck River to the west of the Hollow. (P. R. ii: 7; iii: 98; xi: 165; xiv: 162.)

GREAT POINT. A hilly point on the northern side of the old Cove, being practically at the present junction of Gaspee street and Kinsley avenue. (P. R. ii: 36; iii: 175; and Lockwood Map of 1835.)

GREAT POND. That part of the present Scotts Pond in the town of Lincoln which was known as Scotts Pond before the Blackstone Canal was built. (P. R. ix: 16; xiv: 16.) Earlier known as Worlds End Pond.

GREAT SWAMP. A large swamp, much of which still remains, extending north from Cypress street, between East avenue and the Swan Point road, nearly as far as Pidge avenue. It had four "openings," the first of which was at Cypress street and the second at Rochambeau avenue. (P. R. ii: 16; viii: 149.) Its location is well shown on the Lockwood Map of 1835.

HACKELTONS ROCK. The original name of Dexters Lime Rocks, in the town of Lincoln. (P. R. iii: 8, 66, 229, 241, and Dexter Genealogy, pp. 14, 26.)

HAWKINS COVE. A cove, the general outline of which can still be seen, at the eastern end of the present Blackstone street. It was also called Muddy Cove and Dirty Cove. (P. R. xiv: 110; Providence MS. Deeds, iv: 237; and Plat Card 66 in City Hall.) It appears on many of the early Providence maps and was formerly the eastern bound of the Providence-Cranston line. (See Cushing & Walling Map of 1849.)

HAWKINS HOLE. A swampy place at the northeastern end of the present Randalls pond, in the town of Cranston. (P. R. iv: 62, 68; v: 137; and plat in Fenner Papers, p. 43, in R. I. Hist. Society.)

HIPSES ROCK. Undoubtedly the high rock still standing in the three-cornered tract bounded by the old Plainfield road, the Morgans Mills road and the Pocasset River. (P. R. ii: 73; iii: 61; xiv: 26; Harris Papers, p. 256; and plat of the "Wise Farm" in the Fenner Papers, p. 11, in the R. I. Hist. Society.)

HUNTERS ROCK. The single mention of this locality in 1686 gives little clue as to where it was situated. (P. R. xiv: 227.)

HURTLEBERRY HILL. The hill, the highest part of which is near the present corner of Eaton and Hillwood streets, that is now called Bradley Hill. (P. R. iii: 88; viii: 158; and Plat Cards 118, 377, in City Hall.)

JOSHUAS SWAMP. A swamp mentioned in the account of Samuel Winsor's estate, in 1687, and probably situated on Small Brook, directly north of the present Chalkstone avenue. (P. R. xiv: 41; xvii: 54, 97; and Plat Card 118 in City Hall.)

KEYES. A clump of pines on the eastern side of the northern branch of the Woonasquatucket River, and near the present dividing line between North Smithfield and Smithfield. This branch was occasionally called the Nipsachuck

River. This statement corrects the note on p. 103, infra. (P. R. iii: 244; iv: 151; v: 106; Harris Papers, pp. 102-104; and Plat Card 385 in City Hall.)

LITTLE FLOOD. See Rumley Marsh.

LONG COVE. See Sassafras Cove.

LONG CRAFT. A small meadow on the Pocasset River, in the vicinity of Neutaconkanut Hill. Its exact location cannot be identified. (P. R. ii: 124, 126; and Fenner Papers, no. 17760, in City Hall.)

LONG NECK. The neck, still often so called, extending north and south, to the east of the cove at Pawtuxet. It was also called the Little Neck. (P. R. v: 55, 57; xv: 95; and Hopkins Atlas of 1882.) On a plat of 1661, in the R. I. Hist. Soc. MSS., v: 11, this neck is marked Washouset Point.

LONG POND. Mentioned in the records as early as 1661, being in the same location as it was until recent years,—west of Elmwood avenue and between Daboll and Cromwell streets. P. R. i: 54, 95, and 1882 Atlas.)

LOQUASQUSSUCK. A tract of wooded country comprising practically the northern two-thirds of the present town of Lincoln. Mentioned as early as 1646. (P. R. iii: 26, 245; v: 108; and R. I. Col. Rec. i: 32.) Now spelled Louisquisset.

MAMEAWEQUATE. Apparently a boundary of the Mashan-tatuck purchase. (Harris Papers, p. 63.)

MANY HOLES. A boggy meadow on the west side of Mashapaug Brook, a few hundred feet north of the present Park avenue. (P. R. ii: 13; v: 62; xiv: 268; xvi: 334; and plat in Field Papers, p. 84, in R. I. Hist. Society.) The Cun-

liffs Pond of to-day is chiefly artificial, being merely an enlargement of Mashapaug Brook. (See the Stevens Map of 1831 and plat in Riders' Hist. Tract, ser. 2, no. 4, p. 100.)

MARTINS WADING PLACE. A ford on the Blackstone River, a little south of the present village of Ashton, and about 100 feet north of the present Berkeley bridge. (P. R. ii: 86; Wilkinson Genealogy, pp. 53-54; and Walling Map of 1862.)

MASHACKQUINT. A tract of land beyond Wesquadomeset. (P. R. v: 283.)

MASHANTATUCK. A tract of land, comprising about 4000 acres, purchased of the Indians in 1662. The Indian boundaries are so indefinite that it is difficult to tell how far the purchase extended beyond Mashantatuck Brook, but in general its boundaries may be said to be the Pocasset River on the east, the Pawtuxet on the south, the Mashantatuck on the west and the Providence-Pawtuxet dividing line on the north. The locality was also occasionally called Paquabuck. (P. R. vi: 197; xiv: 290; R. I. Col. Rec. i: 483; and Harris Papers, pp. 62, 64, 69.) The name to-day, as it is given to the brook, is spelled Meshanticut.

MASHAPAUG. A tract of meadow land about half a mile southeast of Mashapaug Pond. The locality was an original boundary of the town of Providence and in the earliest days a pathway led to it. (P. R. i: 13; iv: 71, 135; v: 60; xiv: 199; xv: 2, 21.) Mashapaug Pond.—Identical with the present pond of the same name, although of somewhat smaller extent; mentioned in the records as early as 1645. (P. R. v: 61; vi: 141; xv: 74.) Mashapaug Brook.—The outlet from Mashapaug Pond to the Pawtuxet River. The present Park lakes and Cunliffs Pond have been chiefly constructed by damming this brook. (P. R. i: 45, 94; vi: 205; and Stevens Map of 1831.)

MASKATAQUATT. An Indian locality mentioned apparently as the southwestern boundary of the Mashantatuck purchase. (Harris Papers, pp. 63, 64.)

MATTETAKONITT MEADOWS. The meadows on the northwestern branch of the Woonasquatucket River and directly northwest of the present village of Primrose in the town of North Smithfield. Occasionally called the Mattity Meadows and to-day known as Mattity Swamp. (P. R. viii: 139; xiv: 114; and Plat Card 385 in City Hall.)

MILE END COVE. A cove formerly on the east side of the Providence River, where Link street is now located. After 1700 it was occasionally called Wickendens Cove. The brook that followed the course of the present Brook street, and turning west flowed into the cove, was called Mile End Cove Brook. (P. R. i: 4; ii: 5; xvii: 280; Hopkins' Home-Lots, p. 60; and plat of 1707 in Steele Genealogy, p. 193.)

MILL RIVER. A name given to the Moshassuck River for a short distance above the present Mill street. (P. R. vii: 50; xi: 148; and folio Plat Book, i: 7, in City Clerk's office.)

MISHOASAKIT. The name of an Indian locality apparently bounded on the north by Wayunkeke, on the east by Secesakutt and extending westward seven miles. As a pond, the name might apply to either the present Spragues or Watermans reservoir. (P. R. v: 284-286.)

MOSHASSUCK RIVER. Same as the present river of that name; an original boundary of Providence. In the town deed, Moshassuck is used as a name synonymous with Providence. (P. R. iv: 71; v: 296; and Roger Williams' Letters in Narr. Club Publications, vi: 263.)

MOSWANSICUT. First mentioned as a locality in 1660 and as a pond in 1665—the same as the present pond in the northeastern corner of Scituate. The lands about here were divided in 1684. (P. R. ii: 134; iii: 68; viii: 138; and plat in R. I. Hist. Soc. MSS., vii: 11, 12.)

MUDDY COVE. See Hawkins Cove.

MUSHATTCHUCKAPEAKE. An Indian ground, which it is impossible to identify with any modern locality. It was, however, evidently near Mashapaug Brook, in the vicinity of Francis Weston's house. (P. R. xv: 101; and map in Rider's Hist. Tract, ser. 2, no. 4, p. 100.)

NANIPSICK POND. A pond mentioned in the boundaries of the Indian tract Mishoasakit. It seems impossible to identify it with any modern body of water. (P. R. v: 284.)

NARROW PASSAGE. A narrow place in the Seekonk River, directly south of the present Red, or Central, Bridge. Andrew Edmunds kept a ferry here during the latter part of the 17th century. (P. R. iii: 48; viii: 44; xiv: 124, 237; and folio Plat Book, ii: 1, in City Clerk's office.)

NATICK. A tract of land, generally spelled Nachick, the boundaries of which, according to its division in 1673, were the Pawtuxet River, the Mashantatuck Brook, the Warwick north line, and the vicinity of the present village of Arkwright. The hill standing in this tract was called Nachick Hill. (Harris Papers, pp. 61, 303; Fuller's Hist. of Warwick, p. 206; and map in Rider's Hist. Tract, ser. 2, no. 4, p. 100.)

NECK. "The Neck" was the land between the Moshassuck and Seekonk rivers, and extending on the north somewhat beyond the present line between Providence and Pawtucket. Mentioned in the records as early as 1642. (P. R. i: 110; ii: 1; and MS. Town Papers, 01291.)

NEUTACONKANUT. The name of a hill in the present town of Johnston, generally spelled Neutaconkonitt in the early records. One of the original boundaries of Providence (P. R. iv: 71; v: 296; and Harris Papers, p. 55.) The name was also given to the Pocasset River above the southern end of Neutaconkanut Hill. (P. R. iv: 38; viii: 71.)

NIPSACHUCK. A hill, in the present southwestern corner of North Smithfield, that was a western boundary of the first Inman purchase of 1666. The name was also applied to the river flowing down by the Keyes (q. v.), to the locality around the hill and to the swamp southwest of the hill. (P. R. iv: 184; v: 65; Narr. Hist. Register, vi: 49, 62; and Stevens Map of 1831.)

NONPLUSS HILL. A small hill directly northwest of the present village of Enfield, in the town of Smithfield. It may be said to correspond with the southern end of Wolf Hill, although this latter name was used as early, at least, as 1726. (P. R. iv: 54; v: 28; xi: 16; xiv: 226.)

OBSERVATION. As a hill, the name applied to the present Stump Hill in the southern part of the town of Lincoln. Observation Rock was a high, peaked rock standing on top of the hill before the construction of the reservoir. (P. R. ii: 73; viii: 101.) Observation Meadow was a tract of meadow land now overflowed and known as Olneys Pond. The brook running through it to the Moshassuck River was known as Observation Run. (P. R. i: 44; ii: 19; xvi: 223.)

OSSAPIMSUCK BROOK. A brook in the present town of Johnston, running easterly into the Woonasquatucket River between Allendale and Lymanville. Also called Assopumsett. (P. R. v: 117, 134; xiv: 225; xvi: 259; and Harris Map of 1795.)

OXFORD. An original boundary of the town of Providence, which it is impossible to identify with any modern locality.

Judging from the order in which it is listed in the original boundaries, it was probably a ford on the Woonasquatucket River about six miles from Providence. (P. R. ii: 73; Harris Papers, p. 92.)

PAMECHIPSK. A ridge of hills forming the eastern boundary of the Indian tract Wayunkeke, and undoubtedly the range extending north and south through the center of the present town of Smithfield. (P. R. v: 285.)

PAPAQUINAPAUG. The present Fenner's Pond in the town of Cranston. The neighboring region was also called Papaquinapaug, as was the brook running out of the pond. Mashapaug Brook, near its southern end, seems to have been sometimes termed Papaquinapaug Brook. (P. R. i: 45, 80; vi: 201; Harris Papers, pp. 57, 258; plat reproduced in Rider's Hist. Tract, ser. 2, no. 4, p. 100; and plat in Field Papers, p. 84, in R. I. Hist. Soc.)

PAQUABUCK. A name occasionally applied to Mashantatuck. (P. R. xv: 87; Harris Papers, pp. 62, 69.)

PAUGACHAUGE. An Indian field on the eastern side of the Neutaconkanut or Pocasset River, directly south of where Dry Brook flows in. (P. R. v: 53, 319; xiv: 39.)

PAUGEAMAPAUGE POND. Apparently another name for Tabamapauge Pond, q. v. (P. R. iv: 136; v: 38, 137.)

PAWTUCKET. The name, Pawtucket River, an original boundary of Providence, was used interchangeably with the name Seekonk River for that part of the stream between Pawtucket and the present India Point, as well as for that part of the present Providence River south of India Point. The name was also invariably applied to the river north of Pawtucket, now called the Blackstone River. Pawtucket Fields, also an original Providence boundary, were on the western side of the river and south of Pawtucket Falls. (P. R. ii: 129; iv: 71; v: 224; xiv: 112, 194.)

PAWTUXET. An original boundary of Providence and a name given then, as now, to the locality, the falls and the river. Also in one or two cases called Pootatugock. (P. R. iv: 18, 71; xiv: 64. There is an early plat of the lands north of Pawtuxet reproduced in Rider's Hist. Tract, ser. 2, no. 4, p. 100, and a hitherto unnoticed plat of 1661 of the lands south of the river in R. I. Hist. Soc. MSS., v: 11.)

PESAUMKAMESQUESIT POND. The present Blackmore Pond in the town of Cranston. The magnetic meridan line of 1664, run due north from the mouth of the Pocasset River to the Neutaconkanut road, could have passed only through Blackmore Pond. This corrects the footnote on p. 73. (See Harris Papers, p. 73, and 1895 Atlas.

PETTACONSET. The meadow, or bottom, land on the north side of the Pawtuxet River, where the present pumping station is located. (P. R. vii: 199; xiv: opp. p. iv; xvii: 289; and Harris Papers, p. 62.)

POCASSET RIVER. Mentioned in the records as early as 1652, but generally spelled Pauchasett. It was invariably called the Neutaconkonitt above the bend south of the hill. (P. R. ii: 12; viii: 71.)

POMECANSETT. The neck of land between the present Fields Point and Sassafras Point. Also spelled Pungansett. One reference, however, in the early records seems to locate this region nearly two miles further south than Fields Point. (P. R. iii: 7; xiv: 146, 212; xv: 101.)

PONAGANSETT POND. The present Ponagansett Reservoir in the town of Glocester, being the extreme headwaters of the Pawtuxet River. The name, generally spelled Punhungan-sett, was also applied to the locality about the pond and to the stream which joined with the Moswansicut River at South Scituate to form the northern branch of the Pawtuxet River. (P. R. iv: 43; xv: 87; xvii: 230, 262; and Harris Papers, pp. 188, 212, 220.)

POOR MAN'S PLAIN. A name occasionally applied to Venter Plain, q. v. (P. R. iii: 89; and MS. Deed Book, xiv: 283, in City Hall.)

PROVIDENCE. The name first occurs in the records in the original Indian deed. (P. R. iv: 70.) Roger Williams often called it New Providence in his earliest letters. The Providence River, from Pawtuxet as far north as the Cove, was invariably called the "salt river" or the "great salt river" before 1700; the earliest date that the present name occurs in the records is 1705. (P. R. iv: 19; ix: 14; xvii: 198.)

QUTTONCKANITNUING. The northern boundary of Wayunkeke; not identifiable with any modern locality. (P. R. v: 285.)

REYNOLDS VALLEY. That part of the Blackstone Valley between the present Scotts Pond and the Blackstone River, in the town of Lincoln. (P. R. ii: 7; xiv: 10-16.)

ROBBINS BROOK. The brook flowing down by the western side of Windmill Hill to the West River—now a series of ponds, Randall's Pond, Upper and Lower Canada ponds, and Lincoln's Pond. (P. R. v: 15; viii: 151.)

ROCKY HILL. A hill, still so called, in the town of Cranston, east of the present Print Works pond; mentioned in the records as early as 1659. (P. R. i: 97; iii: 169; xiv: 128.)

ROUND COVE. A cove chiefly of thatch grass, of about six acres, which was formerly located directly west of the present East River street at Red Bridge, and extending northerly to Medway street. (P. R. iv : 192 ; v : 222 ; xiv : 279 ; Plat Card 125 ; and plat in Fenner Papers no. 17030 in City Hall ; and Lockwood Map of 1835.)

RUMLEY MARSH. A little marsh, also called "Rumney Marsh on the Little Flood" bordering on the northeast corner of the Cove and directly north of the island later known as Whipple's Island. The location of this island, also called Little Island and Grassey Island, is well shown on the Anthony Map of 1823 and in folio Plat Book, ii : page 1, in City Clerk's office. (P. R. ii : 4, 21, 56 ; v : 227 ; xiv : 9 ; Hopkins' Home Lots, p. 69 ; and Prov. MS. Town Papers, no. 0048199, in City Hall.)

SASSAFRAS COVE. A cove, generally spelled Saxafrax in the early records, corresponding to the present Corliss Cove at SassafRAS Point. Also called Long Cove, occasionally in the 17th century and generally in the 18th century. (P. R. xiv : 146 ; xv : 2 ; and plat in Field Papers, p. 20, in the R. I. Hist. Soc.)

SCOCKANOXET. The region around Hackletons Lime Rocks—the present Dexters Lime Rocks—a little southeast of the village of Lime Rock in the town of Lincoln. (P. R. iii : 66, 229, 241 ; xvii : 295 ; and Dexter Genealogy, pp. 14, 22.) The brook flowing from the Lime Rocks to the Blackstone river was called Scockonoxet Brook. (MS. Deeds, v : 294, in City Hall.)

SEEKONK RIVER. Generally spelled Seaconke, mentioned in the records as early as 1650, and often called the Pawtucket River. (P. R. ii : 10 ; v : 283 ; xvii : 155.)

SEKESAKUT HILL. A hill, formerly so called, in the town of Johnston, extending north and south, and about a mile and a half west of the present village of Lymanville. The name was also applied to the region about the hill. (P. R. i: 20; iv: 130; v: 116, 132.)

SEVEN MILE LINE. This line was established on May 14, 1660, as the bounds of the first division of proprietors lands. From a point seven miles due west from Foxes Hill, it was to run north to the Pawtucket River and south to the Pawtuxet River (P. R. ii: 129). On December 30, 1663, a committee was chosen to set the bound seven miles west of Foxes Hill and to run the northern extension of the line (iii: 47). The latter part of this order was renewed February 19, 1666 (ii: 69), and the line was run probably as far as the Woonasquatucket River soon thereafter. According to the Providence-Pawtuxet agreement of January 16, 1683, the southern extension of the line was to be run as far as the Warwick north line (xv: 237). Although it was ordered, on April 27, 1683, that this be done without delay (viii: 130), and although it became the subject of frequent later discussion (P. R. xi: 43, 105; xvii: 231, 274; and Fenner Papers, no. 16675, 16816, 16847, 16975, in City Hall) it was not until February 11, 1712, that a joint committee reported that the line had been run and the bounds set (P. R. xvii: 284). In the meanwhile, on January 27, 1710, it had been ordered that the line should be run out from the Woonasquatucket River northerly unto the limits of the Providence lands (xi: 141). The line which to-day forms the eastern boundary of Burrillville, Glocester and Scituate is practically the seven-mile line as it was established in 1660. The distance from Foxes Hill was evidently approximated, and not surveyed, since it amounts to slightly over eight miles. Being surveyed by a compass, moreover, the line falls about 9° west of the true astronomical north given on most modern maps.

SMALL BROOK. The brook flowing through the present Davis Park into the Woonasquatucket River. (P. R. ii: 21; v: 222; Hopkins' Home Lots, p. 69; and Plat Card 118 in City Hall.)

corner of Waterman and Cooke streets. A plat of the Snail Hill property drawn by Gov. Hopkins is in the Moses Brown Papers, vol. 18, no. 124a, in the R. I. Hist. Soc. (P. R. ii: 12, 20; and MS. Deeds, xii: 152.)

SOCKANOSSET. The locality of the present Sockanosset Reservoir in the town of Cranston. (P. R. xvi: 286; Harris Papers, p. 207.)

SOLITARY HILL. A hill formerly located directly south of the present Olneyville Public Library Building at Olneyville Square. The dividing line between Providence and Johnston ran due north and south from the eastern side of this hill. (P. R. i: 8; xiv: 169; R. I. Col. Rec. vi: 194; Steere Genealogy, p. 180; Cushing and Walling Map of 1849.)

SPECTACLE POND. Identical with the present pond of the same name in the town of Cranston; mentioned in the records as early as 1644. (P. R. ii: 3; iv: 141.) Spectacle Meadows lay to the west of the pond. (Harris Papers, pp. 55, 73, 98.) There were also Spectacle Meadows on the Branch River, near the present Burrillville-North Smithfield dividing mentioned early in the 18th century.

STAMPERS. A hill, formerly so called, at the present Stampers street, on the east side of the Moshassuck River. Stampers Bottoms lay at the foot of the hill, on the river. (P. R. ii: 58, 91; iii: 75; and plat reproduced in Steere Genealogy, p. 36.)

SUCKATUNKANUCK HILL. A hill directly east of the present Almy's Reservoir, in the town of Johnston. (P. R. iv: 24; xiv: 93; and Stevens Map of 1831.)

SUGAR LOAF HILL. Mentioned in 1653 as an original boundary of the town of Providence. Judging by its order in the list then given, it must have been situated a little northwest of Pawtucket. (P. R. ii: 73.)

SUTAMACHUTE HILL. A hill, formerly so called, located in the town of Johnston, south of Dry Brook and directly northwest of the village of Simmonsville. Often spelled Sichamachute. (P. R. iii: 241; iv: 156; v: 319; xi: 77.)

SWAN POINT. On the Seekonk River and still so called; mentioned in the records as early as 1685. (P. R. viii: 149, 160.)

SWAN POND. A little pond on the west side of the Moshassuck River, directly south of the present Breakneck Road and north of Olney's Pond. In the 1895 Atlas it is called Quinsnicket Pond, and in Holbrook's Genealogy of the Hopkins Family (1881), p. 18, it is spoken of as Goldfish Pond. (P. R. ii: 107; iv: 119, 228.)

TABAMAPAUGE POND. The present Dyer's Pond in the town of Cranston. Sometimes called Paugeamapauge Pond and in one deed apparently confused with Antashantuck Pond. (P. R. iv: 136; v: 38, 137; viii: 71.)

TAREBREECH PLAIN. The sole mention of this name before 1700 gives no hint as to its location. Perhaps the word has some connection with the 18th century Tar Bridge, at Olneyville. (P. R. iii: 88.)

THIRD LAKE BROOK. A brook flowing from the northern end of the Great Swamp into the Moshassuck River. Traces of it can still be seen where it enters the river at Moshassuck street in the city of Pawtucket, crossing Main street near the junction of West avenue. (P. R. iii: 21; xiv: 191, 208; and Hopkins Atlas of 1882.)

TONGUE POND. Mentioned in the records as early as 1659, being practically in its present location—between Fenner avenue and the railroad, and directly south of the Narragansett Brewing Company. (P. R. i: 98, 99; and 1895 Atlas.)

TOSKEUNKE. The meadows on both sides of the Pawtuxet River, south of the present Warwick line and to the east of the village of Pontiac. It was affirmed that the river itself at that place was called Toskeunke, but it was apparently never so termed, except by some of the Warwick settlers. (P. R. iv: 161; Harris Papers, pp. 57, 298, 310; plats in Rider's Hist. Tract, ser. 2, no. 4, p. 100; and R. I. Hist. Soc. MSS. v: 11; and Warner Papers, no. 63, 75, in J. C. B. Library. The land between Pontiac and Meshanticut Brook is called Chee-Toskeunke on the plat in Rider's Hist. Tract, and there is occasional use of the name (See Copies of Warwick Records, p. 33, in R. I. Hist. Society).

TOYASKQUT RIVER. A river running "down to Pawtucket," mentioned in 1661 as the western boundary of Way-unkeke. Perhaps the present Tarkiln River. (P. R. v: 285.)

VENTER. A name formerly given to a brook flowing into the Woonasquatucket River directly north of the present village of Merino in the town of Johnston, as well as to the meadows north of the brook and to the general locality. The plain to the south of the brook was called both Venter Plain and Poor Man's Plain. Occasionally spelled Venture. (P. R. ii: 37; iii: 89; vi: 105; xiv: 63, 100; xvi: 435; MS. Deeds, xiv: 283, in City Hall; and Hopkins 1882 Atlas.)

VINEYARD. An island in the Pawtuxet River, directly north of the present Rhodes boathouse. It formerly belonged to the thirteen Pawtuxet proprietors and is still known by its original name. (P. R. ii: 11; v: 55; xiv: 75; and 1895 Atlas.)

WALLERS ISLAND. An island in the Great Swamp, several hundred feet north of the present Rochambeau avenue and near the Blackstone Boulevard. (P. R. iii: 107; xiv: 165.)

WALLERS SWAMP. The swamp to the west of the present

Mount Pleasant avenue and north of Chalkstone avenue. Called N. Brown's Swamp on Lockwood Map of 1835. (P. R. vi: 63; xiv: 82; and Hopkins' Home Lots, p. 69.)

WALLINGS POND. The present Sprague's Lower Reservoir in the town of Smithfield. (P. R. iv: 21; xiv: 99; and Harris Papers, p. 319.)

WALSINGHAM. A name given to the Thomas Walling farm, formerly located on the western side of the Louisquisset Pike, in the present town of Lincoln, and near the southern boundary line of the town. (P. R. iii: 117, 158, 160; xiv: 31; and MS. Deeds, iv: 146, in City Hall.)

WANSKUCK. The name of a brook flowing into the West River near the present boundary line between Providence and North Providence. The name was also applied to the meadows along the brook and to the neighboring locality. The name today is applied to a village and pond somewhat to the east of Wanskuck Brook. In its alternate form of spelling—Wenscott—it seems at quite an early date to have been applied to the meadows a mile and a half northwest of the brook. (P. R. iii: 239; iv: 142; xvi: 202; and Lockwood Map of 1835.)

WASHOSET POINT. See Long Neck.

WAYUNKEKE. The region in the immediate vicinity of the present Wionkhiege Hill in the town of Smithfield, and apparently regarded by the early colonists as a tract of about four square miles. The name, in its various spellings, was applied to the hill, to the fields southeast of the hill and occasionally to that branch of the Woonasquatucket River which flowed nearby. (P. R. iii: 19; iv: 182; v: 94, 285, 320; xvi: 208; and Narr. Club Publications, vi: 315.)

WEECAPASACHECK. A reasonable interpretation of the records seems to place this locality a little south of the present Wionkhiege Hill in the town of Smithfield. (P. R. iii: 38, 241, 244.)

WESQUADOMESET. A name applied at least as early as 1666 to the present Sayles Hill in the town of North Smithfield and likewise to the Crookfall Brook. The surrounding locality, which was included in the Inman Purchase, was also so called. (P. R. iii: 242; iv: 143; v: 144; xiv: 112, 140; and Narr. Hist. Register, vi: 49.)

WEST RIVER. Mentioned in the records as early as 1652 and still so called. (P. R. ii: 11; xiv: 8, 106.)

WESTCONNAUG. A tract of land purchased in 1662 and comprising practically the southern half of the present town of Foster and that part of the town of Scituate south of the Pawtuxet River. Its northern boundary line was established in 1708. The name was generally spelled Wesquenoid or Westquadnaig. (P. R. xvi: 204; xvii: 223; original deed in Fenner Papers, no. 16628, in City Hall; and map of Foster in R. I. Hist. Soc. MSS., vii, no. 1409. There is a mutilated plat of the purchase in the office of the town clerk of Foster.)

WEYBOSSET. The specific locality, Weybosset, when mentioned in the early records, invariably meant the neck of land bounded on the north by the Cove, on the east and southeast by the Providence River and on the southwest by Muddy Bridge, or Dorrance street. Weybosset Bridge, connecting this neck with the east side of the river, is the Market Square Bridge of to-day. Weybosset Hill stood directly to the west of the present Turks Head, between Weybosset and Westminster streets. (P. R. ii: 14; iii: 33; ix: 41; xi: 90, 92.) Weybosset Plain is spoken of as the "plain south of the Wanasquatucket River" or "the plain between Weybosset and the Pawtuxet line," yet whenever land is mentioned before 1700 as being on Weybosset Plain, its location is invariably near the east side of Long Pond. (P. R. i: 95; ii: 34; xiv: 110.) Weybosset was generally spelled Waybossett, and occasionally Wapwaysitt. (See R. I. Hist. Soc. Pub. iii: 117.)

WHAT CHEER. An Indian field of about six acres, located immediately to the west of "What Cheer Rock" and early granted to Roger Williams. The Fenners subsequently owned this and surrounding property and the plat of their estate, known as "What Cheer," is on Plat Card 61 in the City Deed Office. The cove to the northeast of the Rock was called What Cheer Cove, after 1700. (P. R. i: 110; iii: 111, 190; xi: 114; and Hopkins' Home Lots, p. 61.)

WICKENDENS COVE. See Mile End Cove.

WIND MILL HILL. Identical with the present hill of the same name, which is located at the joining of the boundary lines of Providence, North Providence and Pawtucket. (P. R. v: 16; vii: 22; xi: 55.)

WOONASQUATUCKET. First mentioned as a river in the original deed of Providence and ever since so known. Woonasquatucket Plain was the land in the vicinity of the new State Capitol, called Jefferson Plains on the Lockwood Map of 1835. It was generally spelled Wanasquatucket. (P. R. ii: 9, 36; iv: 71; v: 223, 296; xi: 52.)

WOONSOCKET. In the early records this name applied to the hill now called Woonsocket Hill and to the immediately surrounding region rather than to the vicinity of the present town of Woonsocket. It was generally spelled Wansokutt or Wansokett. (P. R. viii: 118; xiv: 38; xv: 217; and original deed in R. I. Hist. Soc., and printed in Narr. Hist Register, vi: 52.)

WORLDS END. A pond, formerly so called, identical with Great Pond, or that part of the present Scotts Pond in the town of Lincoln which was called Scotts Pond before the construction of the Blackstone Canal. The Worlds End Meadows were southwest of the pond, on the Moshassuck River. (P. R. ii: 102; xi: 164; xiv: 158; and MS. Deeds, ii: 489; v: 293, in City Hall.
